Eugene Krapp was the brave young e guard, and once more the lad did himself proud." for the big Saturday crowd waxed over-enthusiastic at the clever performance of the midget Krapp allowed six hits, but should have been charged with but one run, for McGreevy, acting as umpire back of the plate, made a miscue on a decision when he called Mohler safe in the fourth, when, to all, it appeared as though he was out several feet. However, the run did not cut much figure, for Portland had the same safely padlocked by the scoring of four runs in the first three insings. which time Mr. Henley occupied the mound, and after that period Harry Stewart did the honors for the Seals.

Olson Starts Trouble.

Henley's measure was taken in the very first inning. Ryan, the first man up, was easily disposed of, but Olson negotiated first on Vitt's error, and a single by Bill Rapps sent the short-stop to third. Rapps then atole second and Captain Casey proved the pinch hitter once more by planting one in center field, on which both Olson and Rapps tallied, amid the wild enthusiasm of the fans.

As an opener of the second inning. Billy Speas slapped one for two bases. Ort hunted and beat it to first, Speas taking third, and Ort immediately sto's second. Henley's measure was taken in the Second.

Krapp hit to Vitt, who threw neatly to Berry, and Speas was out at the register, while Ort went to third. Ort and Krapp then pulled off the double steal, Ort scoring because McArdie ha! difficulty with Herry's toss to second. Byan wound up the laning with an out at first.

In the third, the Beavers filled up with a series of bunts. Olson was safe at first on another boot by Vitt, and Henley fielded Rapps' sacrifice to sec-ond too late to get Olson, which gave both men life. Casey followed Rapps' both men life. Casey followed Rapps' example, and this time Henley tried to get Olson at third, and once more lailed, which "buil" filled the sacks. Sheehan also bunted, but this time Henley got Olson at the plate, which is evidence that the old adage, "the third time is a charm," has not been antedated. Billy Speas then connected for a single to left and Rapps dented the platter. Out flew to Lewis, but too close in for Casey to score, and Gus Fisher "lost a chance to be a here by fanning out.

Buddy Ryan Steals Second.

Harry Stewart went on the hill in he next inning, and he got away nicey until Buddy Ryan singled as second man up in the seventh. Buddy stola second right off the reel, and traversed all the way to the plate, because Berry's toss eluded the grapulers of "Kiddicus" Mohler and likeise went through Mesars. Madden and Melchior, who attempted to flag the wild peg in the outer garden, but were unsuccessful. This swelled Portland's wild peg in the outer garden, but were unsuccessful. This swelled Portland's total to five runs, and the Seals got one of these back in the next inning. Stewart opened the eighth with a single to left, and Madden followed with a similar swat to center. Stew-art was forced at third on Jimmy Lewis' tap to Krapp after Mohler had funned. Tennant then laced out his second two-bagger of the day, or, which Madden tallied. Melchior endd the inning with a pop fly to Shee

Teday will be the last opportunity of seeing the Seals here this season, for the San Francisco club does not come north any more, and Steen and Mille will be the opposing pitchers.

This year the Portland show has the advantage of coming before the Oregon State Fair at Salem, which, of itself, should be a financial help, as many visitors from Valley points will patrontze the show first and attend the State Fair afterwards. The Portland Fair and Livestock Association is offering a $19,000 purse for a trotting race, and the big stake is attracting some of the finest harness horses in the country to this circuit. In addition there will also be a $5000 trotting event, and a $5000 purse for pacers in the bany class, or 2-year-oils.

In the big trotting event there will be a competition among the finest horses in the West and Northwest. Several grand circuit performers will be among the starters, Dick Wilson, who drove over the Eastern tracks more than 15 years, has his string at the Portland track, and next week, Joe McGuire, a noted Western horseman, who brought out the famous Lee Crawford last season, will arrive with that sterling per-former and other star harness racers. Other hig horsemen from Omaha, Den-ver and as fav south as Okiaboma and Texas, as well as California, will be on hand with their best fancy steppers.

While the Eastern competitors appear most formidable, judged by the class of their entries, not a few good Oregon horses are entered in the meet. Frank E. Alley, of Roseburg, Paul Wessinger, A. R. Shreve, Johnson Porter, Clayton Falias, Harry M. Tillman, W. H. Whit-

George Robertson, whose Simplex looked like a winner over the first 75 miles, during which he climbed from fifth to first place and had a lead of three seconds over Mulford, developed a remarkable streak of bad luck. Thereafter he was compelled to change the tires 18 times. He had no other kind of trouble, but one inner tube after another went back on him. When his tires would let him, he ran true to his form, and finished fourth. Including stops he averaged 54.9 miles per hour. Another Simplex, driven by Sayner, was the only other car running whea Starter Wagner stopped the race. There were 13 starters, although no driver was hardy enough to wear the number "13" on the bonnet of his car. Grind Is Long One. The long grind, which began at 18 o'clock and did not finish until nearly 4 o'clock in the afternoon eliminated eight cars, including those driven by Oldfield, Harroun and Grant, whose Vanderbilt-winning Alco much had been hoped. Mulford ran the first 75 miles at the heels of Robertson. When the latter began having trouble with his tires, Mulford took the lead and was never headed.

After running 150 miles without a hint of trouble, Muiford turned on a ittle more speed and reeled off four aps in succession from one to four seconds under eight minutes.

The climination of eight cars during the course of the race left the two Na-tionals to fight the two Simplexes for second and third places.
