

TWO AIRSHIPS FALL

Dutch Aviator Van Maasdyk Is Killed in Arnhem.

MOTOR STOPS SUDDENLY

M. Legagneux, of Havre, Seriously Injured in Competition for Distance Prize—Machine Hits Post and Falls.

ARNHEM, Netherlands, Aug. 27.—The Dutch aviator Van Maasdyk was instantly killed today when, while attempting a cross-country flight near this city, the motor of his aeroplane suddenly stopped and the machine plunged to the ground.

HAVRE, Aug. 27.—M. Legagneux, a French aviator, was seriously injured today while competing for the total distance prize. His aeroplane struck a post and the machine fell to the ground, burying the aviator beneath it. Legagneux's skull was fractured and he suffered internal injuries.

AVIATOR FALLS INTO BAY

Mars' Aeroplane Collapses in Flight Near Long Island.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—While attempting to fly his aeroplane from Sheepshead Bay track to Fort Hamilton today, Mars, the aviator, was caught in a heavy wind and carried out over the lower bay, where his machine suddenly collapsed and fell into the water. Mars was picked up by the tugboat Hustler. The wrecked aeroplane was taken aboard a lighter craft off Cragin Shoal buoy.

Mars was shaken by the fall. He arose from the Sheepshead Bay track in his aeroplane at 7 o'clock, and headed for Manhattan Beach. There he ascended to a height of about 2000 feet, and after circling around two or three times, flew west toward Coney Island, where he planned to fly to Fort Hamilton. A sudden gust carried the aviator out over Gravesend Bay and he lost control. Suddenly the machine appeared to collapse and fell into the water.

Air Currents Baffle Aviator.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 27.—The attempt to fly across the Golden Gate from Fort Baker to the Presidio was abandoned today by Aviator L. Baldwin. A sudden gust carried the aviator westward to be buffeted by his biplane. He will renew the attempt tomorrow morning.

ALASKA HAS NEW STRIKE

French Correspondent Brings Report of Rich Gold Discovery.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 27.—Flourishing in Alaska, the finds in the early days of the Klondike is being mined by two parties of men on creeks running into the Koyukuk River, 100 miles from its confluence with the Yukon River in Alaska, according to George Dupuy, a special correspondent of the Paris Figaro, who arrived in Vancouver yesterday on his way to France. Mr. Dupuy says that the men, of whom there are 15, have kept the discovery a secret for two years. During that time they have shipped out only enough of the metal to pay for their supplies. Dupuy says the miners have cleaned up $500,000 in the two seasons they have been working the creek.

The gold is coarse. Nuggets weighing half a pound are not uncommon and a record was made when five nuggets found in one day had a value of $10,000, says Dupuy. Eight men, however, for four hours had a cleanup worth $15,000.

BOY RETURNS TO SHOOT

Driven From Home He Wounds Father and Sister.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Frank Algier, 15 years old, is held by the New York police to await the result of a homicide trial, which he is charged with inflicting upon his father and sister. Both were shot twice. Hospital physicians say the sister will recover, but that the father, a well-to-do hotel proprietor of Ridgewood, a Brooklyn suburb, cannot live.

According to the police, the boy, who has been ordered from home by his father several days ago, returned last night armed with a revolver. When his father refused to forgive him or take him back, he took the revolver from his pocket and, standing only a few feet away, fired two shots at his father and two at his sister, who had jumped in front of her father to protect him.

The boy was finally overpowered by his mother and another sister, who grasped him around the waist and threw him down, holding him until a policeman, who had heard the shooting, could break into the room.

Toledo Pioneer Dies.

TOLEDO, Or., Aug. 27.—Mary Ann Rosebrook, one of the oldest pioneer women of this place, died Thursday. Mrs. Rosebrook was born in Steubenville, Washington County, Me., May 10, 1827. In 1848 she married David C. Rosebrook, who died in 1869. Two sons and several grandsons survive her. Her sons are: Austin Rosebrook, who lives here, and George H. Rosebrook, of Palo Alto, Cal. The grandsons are: David C. and Sheld W. of Portland, and Leon, of San Francisco. Mrs. Rosebrook came to Toledo in 1876, and has since made her home with her son Austin, at whose home she died.

Jews Discriminated Against.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—A dispatch to the Tagblatt from St. Petersburg states that the Russian Ministry of the Interior has published an order giving Oscar S. Straus, the American Ambassador to Turkey, permission to visit St. Petersburg. The order follows: "The Ministry of the Interior permits the American Ambassador to Constantinople, Oscar S. Straus, who belongs to the Jewish confession, to visit St. Petersburg with his family." This order is regarded as a striking illustration of the rigor with which the anti-Jewish regulations are being enforced.

been contemplated by the City Council since 1905, when the first resolution was introduced, the report of the City Engineer providing for taking in "that portion of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company's right of way lying within the boundaries of the proposed opening, widening and extension." The streetcar company protested against further efforts to take possession of the property, but was overruled on two occasions, and damages as assessed by a disinterested committee of viewers was adopted.

Further Protests Promised.

The protests of the company, so say its officials, are largely based on a principle of law that the city may not condemn longitudinally, nor upon the property of a public-service corporation, the property being a part of a common carrier system and necessary to its operation. The streetcar company will also fight the entry of the city scrapers on Belmont street, upon the ground that all of the owners of abutting property have not been paid for the property condemned, as contemplated by the city charter. John Wineand and H. H. DeJann appealed from the decision of the viewers, instituted suits in the Circuit Court, and have secured judgments which have not been satisfied.

Kindling Trust Under Investigation.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Government is preparing to begin actions against 40 defendants as members of a kindling wood trust, which is said to control a business of more than $25,000,000 a year, according to an announcement made here by an official of the Department of Justice. It became known a few weeks ago that the Federal grand jury had begun an investigation of this particular combination, and the results of this investigation are now under consideration at Washington.

Woman Has 20 Children.

WILLETS, Cal., Aug. 27.—That race suicide does not flourish here was shown yesterday by the birth of the 20th child to Mrs. J. M. Williams. Among Mrs. Williams' children are two sets of twins. Many of her children are now grown and have families of their own.

City Accused of Attempted Coup.

Information was received yesterday by the company that the city was preparing to get ahead of an injunction. This, it is said, hastened action. Officers of the company say City Engineer J. W. Morris was prepared to start work immediately following the adjournment of the Council where action was to have been authorized. In addition to the Mayor the injunction issues against the City Engineer and the following members of the Executive Board: George W. Brown, John W. Campbell, Louis G. Clarke, John F. O'Shea, S. C. Fier, Sr.; Robert T. Platt, Snel, Charles Smith and City Auditor A. J. Barber.
