

1625 Men's Fine Shirts
Selling at $4, $3.50, $3 $1.85

EXTRAORDINARY SHIRT SALE TOMORROW

—The man who wants a shirt, a shirt that will brighten up his wardrobe, give a touch of distinction to any suit he may elect to wear, may find his desire realized in these very smart shirts and at a very small price.
—All the fabrics are imported. Most of the materials were controlled in New York City by one Fifth Avenue exclusive men's furnishing house. The materials are French figured batiste, French woven percales, imported Scotch madras and Russian cords.—We can please the most exacting man. We guarantee fit. It is a shirt sale that will establish a new value-giving epoch and surpass all selling records. The values are bona fide, we guarantee them even better than we state in this advertisement.
—Perhaps this will serve to give you an idea of the superior character of this shirt—the individuality of the patterns. At least three of the foremost haberdashery houses in Portland show a few of these identical shirts at $3.00 to $3.50 a piece. You can verify this after seeing the shirts.
—Every size in attached cuff styles an enormous assortment of colors and patterns.

Dress Goods? Come to Us

—We cannot recall a season when our dress goods stock displayed such an array of attractive patterns that we are showing on our dress goods counters today. With the styles in vogue for Fall the range of selection is very broad. Not one particular weave is given the preference and not one color is imperative. While it is true that brown is being shown and talked of as the season's most popular shade, still the demand for mixtures and plaids is very strong.
