

PASTORS TO MOVE

Many Changes in Methodist Pulpits Are Predicted.

ITINERANT LAW OPERATES

Important Vacancies Caused by Removal of Ministers—Two New District Superintendents Are to Be Named.

More changes in pastorates than have ever before been recorded in the history of Oregon Methodism are predicted for the annual conference, which will open its sessions at Hillsboro, Tuesday, September 20.

With two new district superintendents to appoint, with vacancies in the general committee on temperance for the United States, and with situations in other places, such as to denote certainty of changes of pastors, Bishop Smith will see many difficult problems for solution.

Rev. W. B. Hollingshead, superintendent of Portland District, and Rev. M. C. Wire, superintendent of Eugene District, have served their terms of six weeks each and therefore Bishop Smith must select their successors.

Centenary Pulpit Vacant. Centenary Church, one of the leading pastorates in Oregon Methodism, is vacant because of the election of Rev. Clarence True Wilson to the secretaryship of the general committee on temperance for the United States.

Chief interest centers about the appointments of the two new district superintendents. In this connection the names of Rev. J. W. McDougall of Mount Tabor Church, Portland; Rev. C. C. Rarrick of Astoria; and Rev. E. H. Trimball of Eugene, are being mentioned.

Of all the pastorates, that of Sunny-side Church is the most difficult to fill, because of the dispute which has been going on there nearly two years over the new stone church, that is about half completed.

One candidate has signs on both sides of motorcycles, which fly through the streets with muffler open, attracting attention.

Postmaster Daniel Crowley, of Vancouver, exhausted his supply of stamped envelopes, so an order had to be sent to Portland for $100 worth. Thousands of postal cards, with the candidate's picture, have been sent through the mail.

The East Side Business Men's Club will hold its first fall meeting next Wednesday night, 8 o'clock in Logus Hall, 314 Grand avenue, on the third floor.

Justice W. L. Slater, of the Supreme Court of Oregon, is at the Imperial. Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Booth, of Hood River, are staying at the Oregon.

NEW OBSERVATION TRAIN WHICH WILL BE PLACED IN COMMISSION NEXT MONDAY

OREGON ELECTRIC RAILWAY COMPANY'S SALEM SPECIAL.

FINE TRAIN WILL BE RUN

OREGON ELECTRIC TO PUT NEW "SALEM SPECIAL" ON MONDAY.

Train Is Beautifully Equipped for Service—Said to Be Best Inter-urban Special in West.

What is considered the finest suburban train in the West will be placed in commission Monday morning on the Oregon Electric Railroad, between Portland and Salem.

There is not a train on any of the California interurban lines which compare with the new equipment on the Hill line, and it is doubtful if the cars can be equalled anywhere.

The new train was yesterday on exhibition on Stark street between Third and Fourth, opposite the Railroad building.

The general superintendent of the Hill lines was last night in doubt as to the names of the crew which will have the honor of running the new special on its first trip.

The meeting was held at Sixth and Morrison streets "in the shadow of the Marquam building" and the speaker again went over the story of the loss of the Marquam by its original owner.

Who is this man Manley? He is one of the old-line ring politicians of the city—the man who got up the last city assembly and then received a contract to build the city cemetery as a reward for his services.

The suit of Adeline Milby against George Whittaker, in which the defendant is being sued for $300 as pay alleged to be due plaintiff for domestic services, has resolved itself into a legal fight between the attorneys for the principals.

When the suit was filed August 2, the attorney for the plaintiff, C. B. Geatlin, declares in an affidavit filed yesterday that the defendant had advised him that he would not appear in court.

The attorney further avers that the defendant was repeatedly asked to appear by his attorney and that the date of August 10 was agreed upon for filing the answer.

Following the filing of the answer, it was arranged between the attorney and the principals to get together and affect a compromise.
