SALEM, Or., Sept. 10.-(Special)-Mystery surrounding the attempted suicide in this city last night of Mrs. Daniel E. Bartroff, 17 years old and a bride of three days, was cleared this afternoon in a statement by the attorney for the

A local attorney came forward with the announcement that young Bartroff visited the attorney's office a few days before the wedding and explained in detail that the young woman's relatives were insisting upon marriage between the two, and the attorney advised that such a marriage would possibly avoid legal complications.

As a result, a rather unusual proceedure was followed when a written contract was entered into by the man and girl in which the young woman agreed to allow her husband to go where he desired, in event of the marriage. Immediately after the wedding Wednesday, Bartroff left for Southern Oregon in search of employment, and the bride remained in this city. The physician who is caring for Mrs. Bartroff stated tonight be has small Trail Leads to Tracks Where Bellingham Man Boarded Train.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Sept. 10 .- A man believed to be George Reid, want-ed for the murder of his 25-year-old wife at Clayburn, B. C. last Tuesday, was seen Thursday night at 7 o'clock to board a freight train at Wickersham, 12 miles southeast of Beilingham bound for Seattle. Bloodhounds followed the trail to a little house oppo-site to a shingle mill four miles south of Wickersham. A woman residing there says a man answering Reid's description called there Thursday night and asked for food. He had on a dark hat, dark trousers and gray coat, and
