

QUELLE MANAGER NOT MADE CITIZEN

Judge Cleland Declares E. J. Falt Not to Be Man of Good Moral Character.

COURT RECORD PRODUCED

United States Naturalization Examiners Trace Life History From Time of His Immigration From Nova Scotia.

Judge Cleland yesterday declared E. J. Falt to be a man of immoral character and refused to admit him to citizenship. He admitted that he had been arrested on two recent occasions, charged with selling liquor without a license and allowing prostitutes in a place where liquor is sold. But when the Nova Scotian defendant denied that he had ever been arrested at other times during his five years residence in the state, Examiner Hazard was ready with copies of court records from The Dalles and Portland police courts showing at least five occasions when Falt had been called before the bar of justice. In July Falt made affidavit that he had never been arrested.

Included in the evidence submitted for the guidance of the court was a record of the life of Falt from the time that he emigrated to the United States in 1885, when he settled in Vanceboro, Me. Falt came to Oregon in 1894, after receiving an education at a bartender at Tacoma and Seattle. On reaching Oregon Falt went to The Dalles and admitted entering into a partnership with Charles Michelbach. Evidence was introduced that Falt was in charge of one saloon at The Dalles and Michelbach another some distance away from the Falt place, and that in the rear of the Michelbach place four houses of ill fame were maintained. No evidence was presented to controvert the assumption that Falt was a partner in the whole arrangement.

Examiners on Trail.

After completing the investigation of the record of Falt in other parts of the country, Examiners Hazard and Caldwell came to Portland August 14, and that night Caldwell secured a room at the Quelle Rooming House. He testified that he made his "hangout" around that resort for several days, including Sundays, and that during that time Hazard and Caldwell made a visit to the Fritz place, on Burnside, between Second and Third streets, where women were engaged in selling drinks to visitors between their vaudeville acts. Campbell told of seeing the women from the Fritz resort come to the Quelle and of their being served with liquor without food being ordered, and told of several occasions when liquor was served in fullon cups in violation of the city ordinance as to selling hours. One instance was related of a waiter who served fullon cups containing a foamy beverage at 11:35 Sunday night. The cups were filled from a side room. After 12 o'clock the same waiter was said to have come from the side room with a large bucket full of empty beer.

Sheriff Stevens and his deputy did not attempt to controvert the evidence of the Government as to the character of the resort owned by Falt, and refused to make direct answers vouching for its morality. The sheriff had known Falt for five years and had never heard of more than the recent arrests.

Minister Gives Testimony.

Rev. Clarence True Wilson said on the stand that the Quelle, including the grill and the rooming house, is a place of bad reputation.

For himself Falt contended that he was not aware of the character of the women who were alleged to frequent his resort, that if the city ordinances as to selling liquors were violated by his employees, it was without his knowledge, and that he leased the rooming house to other persons, who had absolute control of the place.

While refusing to discuss the Falt case, Examiner Hazard said:

"It should be understood that the laws of the United States do not confer the right on every foreigner to become a citizen, but they do grant that privilege to persons of good moral character and who have never been convicted of a crime. With our limited force of men we are doing what we can to enforce the laws."

The following named persons were admitted to citizenship by Judge Cleland:

Martin Ritz, Germany; Erick Paul Hayland, Sweden; Frank Rossing, Russia, whose son appeared as a witness for the father; Daniel McArthur, Ireland; Daniel Knokka, Finland; Jacob Kotewa, Germany; Andrew C. Cruickshank, Scotland; Nels Anderson, Sweden; F. E. Hart, Canada; Andrew D. Bergland, Sweden; Emil Peterson, Sweden; James J. Mullin, Ireland; Donald McGregor, Scotland; Carl F. Amerson, Sweden; Anton Jensen, Denmark.

The applications of William D. Woodman and Edward H. Hobbs were dismissed because of failure of the applicants to appear in court. They can reapply. Hobbs failed to satisfy the court that he was sufficiently familiar

NEW YORK BURGLARS BUSY

Total of $80,000 in Loot Is Taken Within Few Days.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A series of burglaries, which have occurred in New York during the last few days, netting the thieves a total of nearly $80,000, are being investigated by the police, according to an announcement published today.

No statement regarding details of the robberies, or the names of the persons who were robbed, have been given out by the authorities, but detectives with lists of the stolen property are said to be stationed in the various pawnshops and to have put the proprietors through a course of rigid questioning in an effort to trace the missing articles. The loot appears to have consisted principally of jewelry and furs. The loss of jewelry includes a diamond brooch containing 51 diamonds, an equally valuable pearl and diamond necklace, and a number of other ornaments with stones ranging from two to six carats. Two hundred pieces of silverware, "marked with a monogram and crest," is another feature of the list.

Products of County to Appear in Various Apple Shows.

Yamhill county has nearly a normal crop of apples this year, and the quality of the fruit is said to be above the average. Young walnut groves are bearing their first crop of nuts in different sections of the county, and will contribute an interesting part in the exhibit.

La Follette May Consult Doctors.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 17.—Attempts today to secure from Senator La Follette confirmation or denial of the report that he will go to Rochester, Minn., to consult physicians regarding his physical ailment proved futile. Senator La Follette was in his office, but Mr. Hannan, his private secretary, refused to allow him to be disturbed. To all outward appearances, the Senator is in excellent health.

Hero of Manila Dies.

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 17.—Frank Bartran, to whom was voted a medal by Congress for heroism at the battle of Manila Bay, died yesterday. He was a member of Admiral Dewey's flagship Olympia, and when the Spanish flagship was sinking, carried a line aboard her, saving nearly 200 lives. Several European countries awarded him medals for bravery.

Drawing-Room Furniture

One of our windows this week contains a few representative pieces of Drawing-Room Furniture. There is nothing local or Western about this furniture. It is exactly the furniture used in the homes of cultured people throughout the English-speaking world—beautiful in design and finish, correct in every detail. There is a charm about it and a satisfaction in owning it that never attaches to commonplace furniture. Our stock includes Chairs, Settees, Tables of every sort, Stands, Cabinets, Pedestals, Candlesticks, and a great variety of small Art Pieces. The Adam, Sheraton, Hepplewhite, Chippendale and earlier English styles are shown, as well as the French and American Colonial. The display is large and the prices most reasonable.

For the drawing-room walls we show complete lines of Papers, Austrian Tekkos, Silks, Armures and Damasks; for the hangings a multitude of exclusive fabrics; for the floors the famous Victorian and other Seamless European Rugs; while genuine Savonnerie Carpets and Aubosson Tapestries can be supplied to order. We are prepared to undertake any drawing-room treatment, including ceilings, walls, floors and furniture. Sketches and estimates supplied.

DOCTORS ARE HELD

Two Accused of Complicity in Death of Mrs. Roberts.

BAIL OF $5000 NOT GIVEN

After a dramatic inquest last night, two physicians, Dr. W. J. May and Dr. C. H. Francis, were held responsible for the death of Mrs. Frances Roberts, as the result of a criminal operation. The physicians, together with H. V. Bassett, who was the woman's companion and who was said to have been with her when she died, was committed to jail.

Bail of $5000 was exacted in each case and none of the defendants had furnished it at a late hour last night. Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald appeared for the state when the Coroner's jury was empaneled and the inquest begun. The jury was in session more than four hours and a half. Bassett was on the stand more than two hours of that time. He told of his relations with Mrs. Roberts.

Bassett Tells Husband.

He first met the woman, he said, in Utica, N. Y., where he was employed as a printer. He said that she led him to believe that she was unmarried. After the birth of their child, a girl, he said, he provided for its maintenance.

Bassett said that when the woman was in Cascade Locks and informed the woman's husband of the circumstances. He said he had offered to right the wrong he had done, so far as possible.

Then, said Bassett, he took the train for Cascade Locks and informed the woman's husband of the circumstances. He said he had offered to right the wrong he had done, so far as possible.

Dr. Harry McKay, who participated in the autopsy, told of the results of that autopsy.

Mrs. Nellie McCormick, housekeeper of the Saranac Hotel, at which Mrs. Roberts died, said that Bassett and Mrs. Rogers went to the hotel Tuesday afternoon and took a room for a week, Bassett paying for it. Dr. Francis, she said, called the next day, but was not carrying an instrument case. The witness noticed nothing unusual until midnight Thursday, when Bassett awakened her and asked her to care for the child.
