

CRIMP IS PUT IN HEARST MACHINE

Primary Returns Show Sullivan Candidates Win Out in Chicago.

TABULATION IN ERROR

Tout Indicates Anti-Sullivan Commitees in Cook County Are but Four, and May Be One Out of Ten to Be Chosen.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The Hearst-Harrison-Paine alliance, which had for its objective plan the capture of the state delegation to assist Mr. Hearst in his presidential ambitions, the capture of the city for Mayor Harrison for Mayor, and some equally good things for Judge Duane, had an awful trump put in it by that "dewy" political general, Roger Sullivan, National Democratic Committee member, and some other.

Final returns of the primaries today showed the election of Stephen Griffin, Sullivan candidate for state central committeeman in the Sixth Congressional District.

Error Made in Tabulation. Through an error in the tabulation of police returns in the Thirtieth Ward, Thomas Fitzgerald, the Hearst-Harrison candidate, was credited with 148 votes more than he received, and had been considered the winner.

This development cut out of the list of state committeemen named by the Hearst-Harrison allies. The anti-Sullivan forces, according to unofficial returns, have but 649 out of the 700 committeemen from Cook County districts, and Sullivan leaders evidently believe that a majority of the returns will reduce the number to 500.

Present indications are that the Sullivan committee will include James J. Kelly, second district; Henry B. Berger, third district; Thomas F. Aylward, fourth district; Stephen Griffin, sixth district; Eugene Sullivan, seventh district; and John Hadeney, ninth district.

The Hearst-Harrison committee men are Robert Redfield, first district; Francis Vesper, second district; Edward J. McGrath, eighth district; and Herman Bauer, ninth district.

Official Canvass May Alter Result. Redfield, Bauer and McGrath won by small margins, and it is the Sullivan contention that all of them will be shown to have lost when the official canvass of the returns is made.

Perhaps the Hearst people have gained some commitment in the Chicago Congressional district, and perhaps they have gained some in the official canvass of the returns is made.

Professor Hahn's home is in Munich. All nine designs will be executed for the principal cities of the United States in case the design submitted by Professor Hahn is selected.

When Mayor Gaynor took office he said that he intended to serve the full term of four years.

"The bureau," said Mr. Whitman, "will be in no sense a special organization for the purpose of conducting raids on suspected places, but a bureau of five or six competent men, who will sift the evidence, and as preparatory steps, that convictions as well as indictments may be obtained."

NO SUCCESSOR TO BALLINGER PICKED

If Secretary Retires After Vindication, Eastern Man May Succeed Him.

HIS RESIDENCE HANDICAP

Fact That He Had Represented Western Clients in Land Matters Gave Ground for Tramped-Up Campaign Against Him.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 17.—Assuming that Secretary Ballinger, after his vindication by the Congressional investigating committee, will sooner or later resign, President Taft's Cabinet, who will succeed him, it is safe to say his successor has not yet been chosen, and probably will not be picked until the President is definitely notified that there is to be a vacancy.

When Judge Ballinger was selected for the Interior portfolio, the West was generally pleased, because it labored under the impression, as did the President himself, that it was the part of wisdom to place at the head of that department a man not only resident of, but familiar with public land conditions in the West. The experience with a Missouri lawyer, who had made land laws and Western conditions, and with an Ohioan, even more unfamiliar, had been unpleasant to the West; hence the advent of Ballinger was hailed with delight.

But it soon turned out that Secretary Ballinger, by reason of having as a legal adviser the best of the Western lawyers, had been in the matter before the Interior Department, was to be assailed bitterly by men determined to disrupt his administration, and drive him from the Cabinet.

Because of his situation, it was possible for Pinchot, Garfield, Glavis and others to trump up charges against Secretary Ballinger. This, however, could not have arisen had Mr. Ballinger been an Eastern man with no practice before the Interior Department. It is true that an Easterner, unwilling to do the bidding of Garfield, Pinchot, would have found trouble in his path, just as Ballinger did, but such an Easterner would have had no record as a lawyer before the Interior Department, and would have afforded Pinchot and his allies an opportunity to make such attacks as were made against Ballinger.

In view of this situation, it is not clear whether President Taft, in picking a new Secretary of the Interior, will choose a Western man. Several Westerners have been suggested in connection with the office, among them Senator Flint, of California, who is to retire, Senator Dixon, of Montana, who probably does not want a Cabinet office; Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, who is an out-and-out Democrat, and partisan of Pinchot, and therefore not to be considered; and Representative McKinley, of California, who was recently defeated at his party primaries.

None of these men is likely to be chosen, for all have been more or less active before the department, and none but Chamberlain would be any more acceptable to the Republican crowd than Ballinger. Not that the President is going to consider Pinchot and Garfield in filling the vacancy, but he probably will not select a man as successor to Ballinger knowing that that man would keep alive the strife which has induced many Republicans to urge the President to get rid of Ballinger—for purely political reasons.

It would seem that the President, if he is called upon to choose a new Secretary of the Interior, would as likely look to the East or the Middle West as to the Far West, but it is also probable that the man chosen will be from what section he has, and will be a believer in and advocate of sensible and practical ideas of conservation as arranged against the wild theories of Pinchot and Garfield. Such a man can be found who can legitimately be opposed by the fair-haired managers who are slandering Roosevelt, and such a selection is likely to be made.

THE PROBLEM OF fighting aerial war was also tested, each General having at his disposal guns mounted on automobiles, the sights of which could be elevated to an angle of 75 degrees for an attack on the dirigibles and machine guns for use against the dirigibles. Theoretically all the dirigibles were destroyed, while most of the aeroplanes escaped.

Hunter's Laitham, the aviator, who ranked as a private soldier during the war, is likely to be promoted to an officer of the Legion of Honor.

Monoplane Is Success. NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Walter L. Fairchild, an electrical engineer of Manhattan, who has taken up aviation, made a flight today at Garden City, L. I. He used an original type of monoplane, and successfully flew back and forth over the aviation field several times. Mr. Fairchild has been trying out the various parts of his machine for three weeks, and judging from the speed displayed, the monoplane is likely to develop a record of over 70 miles an hour.

BRIBERS EXEMPT BY LAW Only Those Who Accept Money Amenable in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Charges of petty frauds, that were expected to materialize in large numbers before the Board of Election Commissioners as a result of altered regulations and vote buying at the primaries Thursday, did not show life at the commissioners' office yesterday. The order of some of the investigators was disappointed by the discovery that the primary law provides punishment for the voter who sells his vote or accepts a bribe, but at the same time provides immunity for the candidate or politician who does the bribing or buys the vote.

"There is nothing we can do in these cases as far as the briber is concerned," said John C. Cannon, chief clerk for the commissioners. "It seems rather strange, but the law seems to be so framed that it is practically impossible to find out who the vote sellers were."

SINGER'S PROMISE BROKEN (Continued From First Page.) numerous promises. As called, there is doubt whether the agreement does not infringe on the rights of Chanter's two daughters in the trust fund of $50,000. Grave legal doubt exists regarding Chanter's ability to make such an agreement to the prejudice of his creditors.

Chanter's friends here believe that the contract will be strictly annulled. It is their opinion that he was so infatuated with Cavalletti that he was possessed of a desire to sacrifice himself for her, which amounted to mania. He repeatedly asserted that he wished to give the singer all he possessed.

WILSON PRAISES TARIFF

NO BILL CAN PLEASE EVERYBODY, SAYS SECRETARY.

OHIO REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN OPENS

With Regular Party Leaders in Evidence.

KENTON, O., Sept. 17.—The Republican state campaign opened here today with Warren G. Harding, of Marion, candidate for Governor, and James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, as the principal speakers.

"We have good times now," Secretary Wilson said, "and have had since since McKinley became the advance agent of prosperity." The revision of the tariff has lost no man his job; no panic has followed. The schedules average lower than the Dingley law. A further reduction of duties on imports would hit the working people first. Europe has lower wages than the United States and would promptly take advantage of lower duties. The farmer would lose his customers, and prices for both farm and farm goods would come down."

"President Taft, the Secretary continued, had insisted on keeping in good faith the Republican platform promises and Congress had met the platform requirements.

"No tariff bill pleases everybody," said Mr. Wilson. "It is universally conceded that all the facts necessary for intelligent legislation were not at the disposal of the two houses of Congress when they were acting upon the tariff. Steps have been taken to remedy this condition."

"A very important feature of railway legislation is still under consideration. This is with regard to the issue of land and bonds by interstate railways."

"We got a postal savings bank bill enacted. It will promote economy among people who are waiting to buy by a little money for a rainy day."

"Food is cheap no longer. Population increased faster than production from the filling of charges of wheat policy of giving farms to the people has exhausted the supply in the regions where rainfall usually assures good crops. High prices of fresh meats and of their products cause much concern. Much more productive of costliness not to be considered. The Government is the overdoing of the retail business. The multiplication of small shops is a burden to consumers, and no source of riches to the retail storekeeper."

The Secretary declared that high prices will encourage better production and cultivation, and that these will encourage the farmer to meet the demands of the increasing population.

NAVY TAKES ALL BLAME North Dakota's Oil Burners Followed Approved Design.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The findings of the Naval Court, which investigated the recent oil explosion and fire on the battleship North Dakota, that the accident was due to faulty design and installation, appear to have led to a great deal of comment in the press. This has caused the Navy Department to make public today a statement. This statement says that the design of the oil burners is a matter that has been used in other navies for a long time with great success.

Furthermore, all the detailed plans were approved by the Navy Department. Under the circumstances no one can be held accountable unless it is the Navy Department that approved the design.
