SPEAKER ASSAILS MALARKEY'S BILLS

Candidate Charged With Favoring Companies for Which He Acted as Attorney.

STRANGE OMISSION NOTED

Tooze and Stapleton Address Assembly Meeting on East Side-Meetings at Gresham and Troutdale

Are Set for Today

Walter L. Tooze and George W. Stapleton were the speakers Friday night at an assembly meeting at the Hawthorne Park Tabernacle. Aside from going over campaign issues and presenting a defense of the assembly plan of recom candidates, the two speakers attacked Dan J. Malarkey, anti-assembly candidate for joint State Senator. Mr. Stapleton also made some pointed remarks regarding John B. Goddard, anti-assembly free lance aspirant for the Legisla-

Mr. Stapleton reiterated his charge made several nights ago that Mr. Malarkey, in the Legislature of 1907, was the father of the bills indelibly stamped as favoring certain corporations. "This railroad employes' act for which he takes so much credit to himself is an exam-ple," said the speaker. "That act prorides that trainmen shall not work more than 14 consecutive hours in any one day and it is an excellent thing-but you will observe that by some strange omis sion it does not apply to the electric railways, and Malarkey was at that time attorney for the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company-if that throws any

Asphalt Concern Favored.

"He was on hand, too, with a measure providing that neither the state nor any municipality therein should use pat-ented materials in public works. That simply meant that the Barber Asphalt Company would have a complete monopoly, since that company digs its materials out of the ground and does not need a patent. By such an enactment other companies would have been shut out of bidding and the Barber Asphalt Com-pany would have had things entirely to its liking. But the thing was killed in the committee-room. And at that time Mr. Malarkey was the attorney of that company. Yet we find him charging that the assembly is under corporation control and that he is a real champion of the dear people."

Mr. Stapleton then referred to his verbal clash at St. Johns Thursday night with John B. Goddard, whereat someone in the audience inquired who Goddard is. "I could hardly answer that question, replied the speaker; "that is not here in an assemblage where ladies are present. I have ascertained some remarkable things about his record today. Among other things, he was the head of a hospital association in this city once, and I think If you would hunt up some of the mem-bers of that association they would be able to tell you a few things about him.

Assembly Is Needed.

"Under the present system and with-out the assembly you find every cheap skate in the state running for public office," he continued. "All that is required is the mere circulation of a petiout substantial men who otherwise would out substantial men who otherwise would not present their names to the voters— not being of a self-seeking nature." Taking up Statement No. I, Mr. Sta-pleton said: "Corrupt as we are repre-sented as being and wrong as the old plan is represented as having been, there was one man who, with all his wealth. ould not buy his way into the United States Senate from Oregon until Statement No. 1 was installed. Then he got there the first clatter out of the box." Mr. Toose presented his complaint at the treatment accorded him by the antiassembly element in refusing him an op-portunity to debate with Mr. Malarkey at the anti-assembly Armory rally, which marked the opening of the campaign. He also accused Mr. Malarkey of rowdylsm in interrupting a later assembly meeting day, the first in the afternoon at Gre-sham and the night meeting at Trout-dale. A list of meetings for each night of next week is being prepared at Republican headquarters and will be an-

LABOR MAKES SECRET SLATE

Anti-Assembly Element Wins by Narrow Margin After Fight.

At a secret meeting of the Central La or Council Friday night at Bartenders Hall, 2051/2 First street, a resolution wa adopted opposing the candidacy for of-fice of all candidates recommended by the assembly. A ticket was indorsed for every office to be voted for on Septem-ber 24, but Secretary Robinson declined to name any of the candidates who met with favor.

The Central Labor Council will communicate in the most secret manner with the union labor voters of the city and will advise them of the names of the men

It is popularly conceded that the union labor vote of Portland equals 7000 to 3000 votes, but in the past no indorse-ment of a list of candidates has ever produced more than 2500 votes for the successful aspirant for indorsement, it is contened by those who are in position

The session of the Labor Council was stormy, and it required several hours to reach a conclusion. Delegates from dif-ferent trades unions are said to have favored candidates particularly in touch with their own industry, while the advocates of the assembly lost by a narrow margin. Many representative labor men were opposed to the idea of opposing a man simply because he represented the assembly idea of recommendations, and the "antis" are said to have won for their slate only after a bitter fight. Many of them retired with the notion that they had not received a "square deal."

CHICAGO, Sept. 17. — Representative Henry Sherman Boutell, who was defeated by nearly 1000 votes in yesterday's primaries by F. H. Gansbergen, who proclaims himself a progressive Republican, stated today that he would run independently. Tomorrow Mr. Boutell will leave for Washington, and it is believed for Beverly also.

"I will run independently and beat my rivals on the simple principles of responsible government," said Mr. Boutell. "I place no reliance in direct primaries. In my district fewer than one-third of the Republican voters went to the polls. Pure Democracy always has

Salem Man Declares Judge Failed to Clear Clackamas County of Debt.

IMPUTATION IS RESENTED

Records of County Governments Are Compared-Colonel Hofer Says He Has Been on Every Side of Political Game.

OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The two leading anti-assembly candidates for Governor, Grant B. Dimick, County Judge of Clackamas County, and Colonel E. Hofer, of Salem, trounced each other verbally for two hours last night at the Courthouse before a curious crowd that packed the Cir-cuit courtroom to its doors, W. S. U'Ren presided,

The substance of Hofer's charges The substance of Hofer's charges against his opponent was that Dimick had promised to free Clackamas County from debt and found the job beyond him. Hofer also accused Dimick of running about on political errands and neglecting probate business, citing the statement of an attorney.
"I have been on the bench here four years," retorted Dimick, "and I have never been reversed."

Dimick accused Salem and Marion County of extravagance. He said that Clackamas spent $53,000 last year and Marion $80,000. He presented figures to support his statement that Clackamas county was economically adminamas County was economically admin-istered and insisted that there never was a time when the roads and bridges were in better shape.

"The deaf mute school at Salem gets $75,000 from the state," said Dimick, "and all the inmates could stay at the Portland Hotel for 10 per cent of that amount. Hofer has come out of his own county into Clackamas and, by inuendo and inference, attempted lead you to believe that dishonesty is prevalent here."

Colonel Hofer said that he felt it a disagreeable duty to come into Dim-ick's territory and attack the latter's Hofer admitted that he had fought the primary law before its adoption, but said that ever since he had understood it he had been its ardent champion.
"The Oregonian has tried to rule me out of this race," he said, "but I am not a quitter. I have been in the political game in Oregon 30 years. I have been in the political game in oregon 30 years. I have been on every side of it, and I have been in the machine and out of it. Dimick's newspaper friends have forced me to come out in the open and The Oregonian and the other newspaper. papers cannot put it over me. I am here protesting against arrogant of-ficialism, and am making my fight as a private citizen, without the ma-chinery of the state and county gov-ernments to help me."

EXTRAVAGANCE IS IMPLIED

Colonel Hofer's Open Letter on Judge Dimick's Administration.

Colonel E. Hofer's open letter of charges against Judge Dimick, made pub-Charges against Judge Dimick, made pub-lic Thursday night, follows: OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 15.—Judge Dimick is seeking the Republican nomina-tion for Governor. For that reason I be-lieve it to be my duty to my fellow-Repub-licans to give them the results of his ad-ministration of the affairs of Clackamas County.

county Judge in July, 1906, the total debt of the county in round numbers was $43,000. The total debt of the county is nearly double that amount now, and will be at least $100,000, chiefly or altogether on warrants on the road fund, when Judge Dimick goes out of office at the end of this year.

The total amount of the last tax levy for the county before Judge Dimick took office was $212,000. The total amount of the last tax levy under Judge Dimick administration is $427,000.

In 1905 the assessed value of all the property in the county was $10,100,000. It increased gradually to $12,858,000 in 1907. There was little or no change in this assessive valuation until 1908. In that year, under the influence of the County Court, the assessed valuation was increased to more than $22,000,000, nearly doubling the valuation of 1907. The tax levy for that year, was $444,000, and the doubling of the assessment was to keep down the rate of the levy. For that purpose the assessed value was doubled for nearly all the property in the county except that owned by the corporations. For example: Fred Josi owned 140 areas of land, of which 45 was in cultivation. From 1908 to and including 1907 his cultivated land was assessed at $1440 and his uncultivated land and at $720; is 1908 the assessment on exactly the same property was $2580 for the cultivated land and $1440 for the county of the child to its home in Cascade Locks. Constable Lou sessment on exactly the same property was $2580 for the cultivated land and $1440 for the uncultivated land. Thousands of similar instances can be cited in the county among the farmers and small taxpayers.

What is Done With the Money?

The roads and bridges of the county are in very little better condition, if any, than when Judge Dimick took his office. There are very few men in Clackamas County, not employed on the roads, who claim that there has been any great improvement in the condition of the roads or bridges. Good judges who are familiar with the facts say that the bridges have hardly more than been kept up since 1908. The same statement applies to all county business.

Judge Dimick signed as a member of the Direct Primary League in 1804 and agreed to pay $10 towards the expenses of the eague. When called on for the money he refused to pay and has never paid a dollar of the amount. Until he was a candidate for Governor it was not known to the advocates of progressive measures that Judge Dimick actively favored any one of them. It was known in 1908 that he was opposed to Statement No. 1 until the sentiment was clearly and overwhelmingly in favor of it in Clackamas County.

Dimick's Campaign Promises.

When Judge Dimick was a candidate for election he publicly promised that if he was elected he would have the county entirely out of debt within two years or he would resign his office. He has not resigned. The debt is double, and the tax levy for the past two years is more than double. It increased $27,000 in his second year; more than doubled in both his third and fourth years. When Judge Ryan was elected County Judge in 1858 the county debt was about $200,000. When he went out of office in July, 1906, he had reduced it to $43,000.
