

HARMON REPLIES WITH GREAT VIGOR

Governor Says Roosevelt's Charges Downright Lies Invented for Cox.

NO REBATES, NO DODGING

He Repeats Statement That Roosevelt Refused to Prosecute Morton for Rebating, Though a Clear Case Existed.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Governor Harmon devoted nearly the whole of a talk here tonight to replying to the attacks made upon him in Toledo and Cleveland by ex-President Roosevelt. He said in part: "With his usual recklessness he (Roosevelt) talks about a matter where he has not the slightest knowledge and makes what can only be called misstatements on matters with which he had nothing to do. I have publicly said again and again that not a dollar of taxes was evaded, nor a single rebate in any form paid while I was receiver of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway, and my statement is corroborated by Mr. Thomas, the general traffic manager, Captain Rifenberck, the officer in charge of the tax department, and Morrison R. Walt, the solicitor of the railroad. Charges "Downright Lies."

"The statements to the contrary are downright lies concocted by a legal sleight of tongue. George E. Cox for the purpose of repetition by my opponent, who has fully obeyed his master by retelling them on the stump, paying no notice to the facts stated by myself and the officers named. He is quite willing to get votes by false promises. "As I was a court officer with no interest in the property, I had no motive to deprive the state of any lawful taxes and could not have done so if I had wished, as the case in which I was appointed, he still kept open in court to see that all obligations were paid. "Mr. Roosevelt's word is not good enough to add anything but a color and a shadow to these lies and he ought to be ashamed to do that. Story of Rebating Retold.

"The government has obtained an injunction against the practice of rebating in which the Santa Fe Railroad Company was engaged. The Interstate Commerce Commission reported that the railroad company had continued the practice in favor of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, one of the most offensive trusts in the country. "Paul Morton, then a member of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet, had been the head of the traffic department of the railroad during the period covered by the report. Mr. Roosevelt appointed two Democratic lawyers, F. N. Judson and myself, to investigate and report what course should be taken. After careful study and investigation, we reported the evidence taken by the commission we advised that the injunction had been violated, the period of offense had been two years, the amount rebated more than $1,000,000 and that, both in law and in fact, the officers in charge of the traffic department were responsible. "We therefore recommended that action be taken requiring those officers to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of the injunction. We did not name Mr. Morton or any other officer, but recommended proceedings against them all alike. The president, after much delay, finally refused to allow us to take any other course. "We then resigned because we considered that such a course would be a mere mockery of justice. In that connection we urged the phrase 'Guilt is always personal.' "Thereupon Mr. Roosevelt directed the attorney-general to proceed against the corporation alone, and a subordinate whom Mr. Judson and I made sure was sent to meet the formidable array of counsel which such a company always puts forth."

Whitewash After Roosevelt's Heart. "He managed the case so well that the judge set aside his own injunction. Not a particle of evidence was taken, yet the judge went off his way to whitewash Morton. He was a judge after Mr. Roosevelt's own heart. As soon as he had said out justice after this fashion, the judge went off to Florida in the private car of the attorney of the railroad company. "Mr. Roosevelt and his attorney-general then exchanged congratulations by letter because the government had lost the case. Morton soon afterward resigned to become president of the Equitable Insurance Company and took with him, as treasurer at $5,000 per year, the assistant attorney-general, who had charge of the injunction suit whom Mr. Judson and I made sure investigation and report.

Winks at Morgan's Snag. "The Colonel's trouble seems to be that Mr. Morgan was the chief stockholder in the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad and his relations in that quarter don't seem to be so happy as they were when he agreed and did "wink" at Harding at the open violation of the anti-trust law by the steel trust's purchase of its chief rival, the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company. "The Colonel's concern, too, about my salary as receiver during the short time the court insisted on my serving after I became Governor. What does he think I should have done? "At any rate, I have not charged personal bills as state expenses, as he repeatedly did, which was one of the reasons why he was the noisiest man who ever held the office he has held. "The Colonel evidently thinks he can deceive the citizens by his rattle through the state at the very end of the campaign, but he cannot fool the people of Ohio any of the time about their own business, concerning which they are fully informed."

WYOMING FIGHT CENTERS ON CAREY

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 5.—Interest in the Wyoming election situation centers largely in ex-United States Senator Carey's campaign for Democratic nomination for Governor. Carey first announced himself as an independent candidate, but was nominated by the Democrats. As a Republican he held nearly every office in the gift of the state. He left the party because, he said, of the way it conducted state affairs. Opposed to him is W. E. Muller, Republican nominee. The next Legislature will choose a successor to Senator Clark.

WEALTHY NEW YORKERS ENDANGERED BY DRUNKEN COACHMAN.

MRS. ANTHONY J. DREXEL.

DREXELS IN DANGER

Drunken Coachman Drives in Front of Moving Train.

CARRIAGE STOPS ON TRACK

Anthony J. Drexel and Wife on Week End Party Have Narrow Escape From Death—Engine Is Stopped Just in Time.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Nov. 5.—(Special)—An intoxicated coachman and a liver team of horses afforded an adventure for Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel here this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Drexel had come down from New York to spend week-end with George Gould and attend the funeral of Dr. Paul T. Kimball, the Gould family physician. Mr. and Mrs. Drexel entered the carriage and the coachman alighted the door, leaped up on the box and started the horses. Instead of driving up the road toward the Gould's home, however, he whipped up the team and drove up along the railroad track. About a hundred yards from the station the carriage struck a line of posts that stretched across the path running by the side of the tracks. The carriage broke off two of the posts and became wedged between them. The horses fell across the tracks in front of a train. The train which had just started was quickly stopped and young Drexel jumped out of the carriage, dragging Mrs. Drexel after him.

LAFFERTY'S REPLY RINGS

ATTACK BY WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IS ANSWERED.

Charges Against Character Are Denounced as False—Hawley Speaks in Praise of Candidate.

With words that were loudly cheered by audiences at Sellwood and Brooklyn last night, A. W. Lafferty, Republican nominee for Congress, attacked John Manning, declaring he had the publication in a weekly newspaper of certain charges against Mr. Lafferty, which he produced and read to the audience. "I was never arrested in my life upon any charge, and I never knowed it," declared Mr. Lafferty. "If I have ever been arrested why doesn't Manning produce the record?" asked Mr. Lafferty. "Why doesn't he produce the statement of the policeman who made the arrest? If it were true he would do so. These pertinent inquiries only go to show conclusively that it is not so. Since Manning has caused this baseless and infamous charge to be made against me, we know it to be false, no patriotic citizen, Democrat or Republican, can afford to stultify his manhood by voting for him for the high office of Representative in Congress." Again the speaker was interrupted with applause. Mr. Lafferty also assailed in no unqualified terms the editor of the weekly newspaper, in which the attack on Mr. Lafferty was printed. Representative Hawley, of the First Oregon district, accompanied Mr. Lafferty, and spoke at both meetings. Mr. Hawley paid Mr. Lafferty a high tribute, both for his character and ability. "Mr. Lafferty said he first became acquainted with Mr. Lafferty when working on the bill directing the institution of the suits to break up the Oregon & California Railroad Company and that his first impression of Lafferty was favorable and that such impression had been intensified by a continuous and intimate acquaintance since. Mr. Hawley said he wished to congratulate the citizens of the Second Oregon district on selecting a man of Mr. Lafferty's character and attainments to become his colleague in Congress. Mr. Hawley also discussed National issues and advocated the enactment of progressive legislation. In opening at Sellwood, Mr. Lafferty stated that he had been in Washington, D. C., every six months on business, the past six years and had been intimately associated with Mr. Manning, and that he regarded the latter as unquestionably the ablest man in the Oregon delegation today. Mr. Lafferty said he knew Mr. Manning to be a progressive Republican, and friend of the common people.

YOUTH WINS GIRL; RIVAL SHOTS HIM

W. H. Hayworth, Waiter, Hit by Two Bullets Fired by Wiley Rhoades.

WOUNDS NOT SERIOUS

Armed Man Who Lay in Wait for Victim Then Runs Through Crowd to Hotel, Where He Is Captured by Police.

Prompted by jealousy and revenge Wiley Rhoades, 22 years of age, fired three shots from a .38-caliber revolver at W. H. Hayworth, a bridegroom of a week, when the two met at 8 o'clock last night near Hayworth's home at 215 Tenth street. Two of the bullets struck Hayworth, inflicting wounds in his right hand and left forearm. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. In an attempt to escape Rhoades ran several blocks. He was captured in his room at the Philadelphia Hotel at Third and Salmon streets by Police Sergeant Cole. The youth was taken to jail and charged with attempted murder. The shooting was the result of a love affair. Rhoades was Hayworth's rival for the hand of a young woman who married Hayworth a week ago. Both Men Waiters.

Both young men until recently were employed as waiters in local dairy lunch rooms. Three months ago Rhoades introduced Hayworth to the woman in the case at a dance. Rhoades, up to that time, had kept company with the girl. After meeting Hayworth her affections for Rhoades cooled and she became Hayworth's sweetheart. Hayworth and the girl were married last week. Rhoades then swore vengeance. Going to the vicinity of Hayworth's home, he waited for him to return to his work at the Imperial Dairy Lunch stand on Sixth street. When Hayworth was within a few feet of Rhoades' hiding place Rhoades opened fire. At the first shot Hayworth grappled with his foe. In the struggle Rhoades fired two more shots. Both hitting Hayworth, he sank to the ground and Rhoades fled down Salmon street. Pistol Drawn Again.

He had run but a few yards when he was stopped by R. R. Woodford of 228 Tenth street, who witnessed the shooting. When Woodford attempted to overpower Rhoades, the armed man pointed his revolver into his side and scared him away. Rhoades then fled toward his hotel. Woodford took Rhoades' pistol and loudly to pedestrians to halt the fugitive. At Sixth and Taylor streets the fugitive dodged into a group of pedestrians' home, accompanied by the opposite side of the street and jostled several members of the jury on the Kersh murder trial, who were returning to the jury room from dinner. Rhoades succeeded in evading the crowd that pursued him and reached his room on the third floor of the Philadelphia Hotel. A few moments later Police Sergeant Cole arrested him. At the city jail Rhoades expressed regret that only two bullets struck him and said he was sorry he didn't kill him.

STRIKENOT SETTLED

Garment Workers Repudiate Agreement of Rickert.

YOUTH TURNS GUN ON SELF

William Jennings Puts Bullet in Head—Cause Is Mystery.

William Jennings, 21 years of age, a mechanic in the employ of the Buick Automobile Company and son of Lafe Jennings, a well-known contractor, attempted to end his life by shooting himself through the head with a .38 caliber revolver in a room at the Levens Hotel, Third and Ankeny streets, at 10 o'clock last night. He is dying at St. Vincent's Hospital. The exact motive for the young man's act will probably remain a mystery. It is hinted, however, that he was recently disappointed in a love affair. This may have prompted the act. A few moments before he fired the bullet into his head the young man and his father had engaged in a conversation in the room they occupied in the hotel.

ELKS TO REMEMBER DEAD

Lodge of Sorrow of Order to Be Held December 4.

This year's Lodge of Sorrow of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will be held Sunday afternoon, December 4, at the Columbia streets with the victim an hour before the shooting. The description to some extent agrees with that of the man whom Miller saw fleeing from the scene of the shooting. A razor and a revolver were found on Rossi by the police. The police are inclined to believe that Rossi might have agreed with an enemy to settle their animosities in a revolver duel and retired to the secluded spot in the suburbs. Before Rossi had an opportunity of protecting himself it is believed that his enemy took him off his guard and pumped five shots at him, one of which took effect. Nothing could be learned of the victim's antecedents last night. He is about 35 years old.

PIANO FREE

Piano Sale

See Ad., Page 4, Section 1.

Priest's Advice Led to Their Recovery

Thin, weak, or frail people—those who "take cold easily" and sufferers of Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, and Eczema's Alternative in the house. Remarkable cures of even Tuberculosis (Consumptive) persons are often accomplished. Here are two instances: "Gentlemen: On June 3, 1907, I was operated on for Tuberculosis Peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physician gave me up. I was then urged by a priest to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight, which had steadily gained in health and strength, I now weigh 125 lbs., and am absolutely (Signed Affidavit.) EDNA FINZER, 29 Savannah St., Rochester, N. Y. Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma and Bronchitis for seventeen years. After trying many remedies, Eckman's Alternative was recommended to me by our Parish Priest. I am now feeling fine. I cannot praise it enough. (Signed Affidavit.) ANNA MAE McENTEE, Lacon, Ill. Eckman's Alternative cures Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. For sale by The Owl Drug Co., and leading drug stores. Ask for a booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

hotel. At that time the would-be suicide was apparently in cheerful spirits and did not intimate he proposed to end his life. A few moments later, when Lafe Jennings, the youth's aged father, stepped downstairs to the office of the hotel, Jennings prepared his execution. Taking a revolver from a dresser drawer he laid on the bed and fired the bullet into his right temple. The bullet plowed its way through the head, shattering the nerves and muscles of both eyes, causing total blindness. The bullet emerged through the left eye and flattened itself against a porcelain washstand. Attracted by the report of the pistol shot a dozen lodgers in the hotel hurried to the room. They found the young man writhing in agony on the bed and bleeding profusely from a wound in the head. He was conscious and pleaded that he be given either morphine or the revolver to relieve his sufferings. To his father the young man refused to divulge the motive for his act, despite the pleadings of the parent. The injured youth was rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital, where it was said that his death is but a question of a few hours. He was suffering from hemorrhage caused by the bullet. Should he survive he will be totally blind in both eyes. The would-be suicide was born in Birmingham, Ala. Since 1892 he has resided with his father in this city.

ITALIAN IS FATALLY SHOT

Laborer Found Dying with Bullet in Side—Assailant Flees.

John Rossi, an Italian laborer, was shot and probably fatally wounded by an unknown assailant last night. Rossi was found lying in a vacant lot near the intersection of Eighth and Second streets. He was lying on his back, face downward, several feet from the sidewalk near an old barn. Rossi was unconscious and bleeding from a wound in his left side. Dr. J. G. G... was summoned and the injured man was carried to a nearby residence, where he was given temporary treatment by the physician, pending the arrival of the police and an ambulance. Rossi was rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital and a probe for the bullet, which is believed to have imbedded itself in the muscles of the back, was deferred owing to his weakened condition from the loss of blood. Police Hunt Italian.

The police are searching for an Italian who is said to have been seen to leave Rossi's lodgings in a house at First and Columbia streets with the victim an hour before the shooting. The description to some extent agrees with that of the man whom Miller saw fleeing from the scene of the shooting. A razor and a revolver were found on Rossi by the police. The police are inclined to believe that Rossi might have agreed with an enemy to settle their animosities in a revolver duel and retired to the secluded spot in the suburbs. Before Rossi had an opportunity of protecting himself it is believed that his enemy took him off his guard and pumped five shots at him, one of which took effect. Nothing could be learned of the victim's antecedents last night. He is about 35 years old.

W. H. Hayworth, Waiter, Hit by Two Bullets Fired by Wiley Rhoades.

W. H. Hayworth, a bridegroom of a week, when the two met at 8 o'clock last night near Hayworth's home at 215 Tenth street. Two of the bullets struck Hayworth, inflicting wounds in his right hand and left forearm. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

In an attempt to escape Rhoades ran several blocks. He was captured in his room at the Philadelphia Hotel at Third and Salmon streets by Police Sergeant Cole. The youth was taken to jail and charged with attempted murder. The shooting was the result of a love affair. Rhoades was Hayworth's rival for the hand of a young woman who married Hayworth a week ago. Both Men Waiters.

Both young men until recently were employed as waiters in local dairy lunch rooms. Three months ago Rhoades introduced Hayworth to the woman in the case at a dance. Rhoades, up to that time, had kept company with the girl. After meeting Hayworth her affections for Rhoades cooled and she became Hayworth's sweetheart. Hayworth and the girl were married last week. Rhoades then swore vengeance. Going to the vicinity of Hayworth's home, he waited for him to return to his work at the Imperial Dairy Lunch stand on Sixth street. When Hayworth was within a few feet of Rhoades' hiding place Rhoades opened fire. At the first shot Hayworth grappled with his foe. In the struggle Rhoades fired two more shots. Both hitting Hayworth, he sank to the ground and Rhoades fled down Salmon street.

He had run but a few yards when he was stopped by R. R. Woodford of 228 Tenth street, who witnessed the shooting. When Woodford attempted to overpower Rhoades, the armed man pointed his revolver into his side and scared him away. Rhoades then fled toward his hotel. Woodford took Rhoades' pistol and loudly to pedestrians to halt the fugitive. At Sixth and Taylor streets the fugitive dodged into a group of pedestrians' home, accompanied by the opposite side of the street and jostled several members of the jury on the Kersh murder trial, who were returning to the jury room from dinner. Rhoades succeeded in evading the crowd that pursued him and reached his room on the third floor of the Philadelphia Hotel. A few moments later Police Sergeant Cole arrested him. At the city jail Rhoades expressed regret that only two bullets struck him and said he was sorry he didn't kill him.

William Jennings, 21 years of age, a mechanic in the employ of the Buick Automobile Company and son of Lafe Jennings, a well-known contractor, attempted to end his life by shooting himself through the head with a .38 caliber revolver in a room at the Levens Hotel, Third and Ankeny streets, at 10 o'clock last night. He is dying at St. Vincent's Hospital. The exact motive for the young man's act will probably remain a mystery. It is hinted, however, that he was recently disappointed in a love affair. This may have prompted the act. A few moments before he fired the bullet into his head the young man and his father had engaged in a conversation in the room they occupied in the hotel.

This year's Lodge of Sorrow of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will be held Sunday afternoon, December 4, at the Columbia streets with the victim an hour before the shooting. The description to some extent agrees with that of the man whom Miller saw fleeing from the scene of the shooting. A razor and a revolver were found on Rossi by the police. The police are inclined to believe that Rossi might have agreed with an enemy to settle their animosities in a revolver duel and retired to the secluded spot in the suburbs. Before Rossi had an opportunity of protecting himself it is believed that his enemy took him off his guard and pumped five shots at him, one of which took effect. Nothing could be learned of the victim's antecedents last night. He is about 35 years old.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

THAT ONE

—the Overcoat
—is HERE
—Your Overcoat
You bet it's here—the best-tailored in America! Any and every style, cut, weight and texture to try on. Come now, while the crop's choice, $20.00 up to $40.00.

Robinson & Co.

"Where You Get the Best," on Washington Near Fifth

Washington, Nov. 5.—Word was received at the Interior Department today of the indictment of Everett Eldre at Omaha, Neb., several days ago for conspiracy to acquire title to Government land by procured or dummy entries. The case involves 10,000 acres of land in Garfield County, Nebraska. This indictment has no connection with those handed down at Omaha about the same time in which nine ranchmen were charged with conspiracy to drive homesteaders from their claims at points of vantage.

Dry Cleaning Does Much to preserve the feminine temper and keep ladies in good humor. By its aid, grease and other stains are quickly taken out of the most delicate fabrics and the garments made to look like new again. Should you have any stained gowns, skirts, waists, or other articles of your wardrobe, notify us and we will send for them and quickly clean them. Mail Orders Receive Prompt Attention. THE VIENNA STEAM CLEANING AND DYEING WORKS. Phones Main 1456, A 3450. 224-226 THIRD ST., PORTLAND, OR.

PIANO FREE

Piano Sale

See Ad., Page 4, Section 1.

LAY-AWAY TIME IS HERE

It's not too early to think of Christmas. Now is the time to select your holiday gifts. Our stock of diamond-mounted jewelry, watches, gold and silver novelties, sterling silverware, silver deposit ware, toilet ware, cut glass, clocks and umbrellas is worthy of your inspection. We have them to suit every fancy, taste and purse, all solidly good and low priced.

A SMALL DEPOSIT

Is all we ask on any article you might select, and we will hold it until the time you need it—or you might select what you want, pay a little at the time; you'll have it paid for by Christmas without missing the small amounts.

MONOGRAM WATCH FOBBS TO ORDER $10.00 TO $15.00.

MARK & BLOCH

LARGEST DIAMOND MASTER CRAFTSMEN DEALERS IN OREGON IN PRECIOUS METALS 283 MORRISON ST.