 These of course show the highest art in tailoring, styles that Fashion has indorsed as most correct, materials that have come from over the sea. They, too, are garments that cannot be duplicated and are not to be seen elsewhere, for they are exclusive models. The woman who perhaps has long awaited such an opportunity is not going to be disappointed in what she will find in these groupings.

THE OLD FOLKS' HOME.
 is soon to be completed—a great and good work and a worthy tribute to him whose wise forethought has provided this magnificent institution, of which Portland and the State of Oregon may well be proud.
 At the suggestion of many interested in this work, we have arranged a model room for the inspection of those who may wish to donate, and on which we have made a special price.

Mrs. L. C. Redding, of New York, Will Demonstrate the Famous Modart Corsets

"The Improved Front Laced"
One More Week
 Inspired By the Past Week's Success, We Have Arranged to Continue the Demonstration Another Week.
 We hope any who doubts that Modart is better, or that these front-laced corsets are not more comfortable, stylish, give better and smoother-fitting gown effects than other corsets they know about, or that front-laced is the correct principle of construction from every standpoint, will just try one.
 No corset ever made so sensational a hit in meeting the exacting requirements of particular women throughout the country, and no maker ever made so complete a showing of such remarkable success as has, from the very beginning, been accorded Modart Corsets, "The Mould of Fashion."
 Search as you may and you'll find their value not duplicated. Made from specially woven exclusive materials, in styles they originate and so carefully finish, they have a tailored look and style distinction that instantly pleases.

The Free Wall Paper Offer To Continue a few days more

Last week was the busiest that our Department of Interior Decoration has ever known, and well it might be, for on Monday morning we commenced giving away 2000 rolls of fine Wall Paper for living-rooms and sleeping-rooms. Although this stock has been greatly reduced, the variety remains unchanged, so that those who wish to take advantage of this remarkable offer will have the same opportunity for wide selection as those who participated last week.
 All we are asking is our regular charge for hanging, and, as stated before, will be done right—we will stand back of it. If desired we will give an absolute contract on the work of preparing the walls and doing the work complete.
 Bring in your room measurements—the length, height and breadth and number of openings, and select your paper. Decorative Department, Sixth Floor.
