"Feast for Lawyers," Says Casualty Insurance Man -- Rates Are Sure to Increase as Risks of Business Advance.

That the employers' liability act passed the initiative at the recent election is of the most radical laws ever enacted in any of the states, is the declaration of representatives of casualty insurance companies. Those who have mad a study of the law and compared its provisions with those either of the Illinois act or the New York act believe that the Oregon law not only covers all the rigid features of the illinois and New York measures, but also provides addi-tional features considered even less flexi-

One feature of the act is the provision to return a verdict. Agents say that this will have a tendency to preclude reason-able chances to adjust claims by arbitration, a method much preferred by ensualty companies, and instead claimants for damages will choose the alternative of litigati

As usually 20 per cent of the amounts recovered in court are received by the lawyers, it will be good business for the fawyers. After the claimants make their division, they will find that the amount awarded them by the court will not be as large as those offered by the com-panies having the risk. At least, this has been the invariable rule in the mast." Attorney Robert Ferral, for the de-fendant, made a strong plea for mercy of the court in passing judgment. Mr. Hates was of the opinion that the compensation law recently passed in New York will be much breader and more equitable and at the same time furnish full protection to those who dealer it. Employers who may be exposed under such law can ill afford to take the chance themselves, he said, for where the risk is considered slight, the rates for protection are corresponding low. But with the law that will become effective in Oregon, it is difficult to say what the effect on present rates will be. It is believed that the rates will be advanced to offset the increased liability. In the freed environment inspecial chilips-

Restores Hosy Complexion. The following prescription is con-trainable known for bringing back the row tint of youth to the skin: Two ounces Rose Water; one ounce sprite of Cologne (or pure grain alco-hol); four ounces Sartoin. Put the Sar-toin into a pint of hot water (not boil-ing) and when dissolved and cooled add the Rose Water and Spirits of Cologne (or alcohol) and strain through a fine cloth. Any large bottle will serve as a receptacle if it can be closed air-tight. Any druggist has these ingredients in stock or will get them in a few hours from his wholesale house. They are assily mixed at home. This preparation should be applied once a day after washing. It is said the results become upparent after the first few applica-tiona but the treatment should be con-tinued until the rose tint complexion becomes permanent.

The sense of luxurious comfort imparted by these marvels of modern lingerie manufacture must be felt to be understood.

Rich externals are not evidence of internal refinement; but Italian Silk Underwear marks the really exquisite woman, for silk underwear is the unmistakable mark of exquisiteness.

Kayser's Italian Silk Underwear is the last word in lingerie luxury. It is soft, seductive and comfortable. It is
