Their Highest Endorsement is That They Are Made by Deutsch and Max M. Schwarcz & Co.

Ninety Suits comprise our entire showing at the above prices and not one is reserved from this special group—plain and trimmed models from Deutsch and Max M. Schwarcz & Co. The woman who has put off choosing her fine Tailored Suit and considers this her opportunity, should make selection early. Every kind of material that one finds only in the higher-priced garments, from the handsome imported broadcloths to the real Irish, English and Scotch rough weaves, is in this collection. To go into detail and tell about this and that particular model would be a long story but the names of their makers is sufficient to impress that there's distinctiveness and superiority in the fashioning and tailoring.

The line of sizes is still complete, so that those interested in this attractive offering are not going to be disappointed in making selection.
