

SOCIETY

BY ESTHER J. STEARNS

MISS JEAN MACHANIE

INTO the midst of shopping, with inquiries for Christmas to right and left, plunge the "400," not so engrossed, however, that a few hours may not now and then be spared for teas and the appropriate sewing bee which has been popular with the approach of the Yuletide. Few large affairs were given last week and there are few scheduled for this week. The debut of Miss Jean Machanie promises to be not only the most brilliant event of this week but also of many to come. The Press Club entertainment at the Heilig Theater tomorrow evening is another function of particular interest and a number of large and box parties are planned which will be followed by suppers at the fashionable grill of the city. The Press Club itself will entertain with a banquet at the Portland Hotel after the show.

The feature of special note in the programme of social activities last week were the dinner-dances given by Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster for Miss MacKenzie, the informal hop at the Vancouver Barracks, Mrs. Byron Randolph Nicholas' tea yesterday, and the afternoon Tuesday when Madame von Bolton, Miss Tina von Bolton and Miss Edith Nicholson entertained with the third of their "sewing teas."

One fact particularly noticeable now-a-days is the influx of folk, who have been journeying about the globe for months, that they may pass the holidays at home in Portland.

Huge scarlet poinsettias and also palms were the decorations of ballroom, banquet-hall and card parlors last Friday at the Masonic Cathedral at Lowndale and Morrison streets, when the Scottish Rite Masons entertained with the second of their successful and delightful "at homes." As usual the winners at cards were presented with gifts, and at this affair the successful contestants were Mrs. John Greene and Dr. L. M. Davis. The patronesses for the party were:

Mrs. E. A. Beale, Mrs. M. C. Bannfield, Mrs. J. McLellan, Mrs. George Stapleton, Mrs. Philip Neu, Mrs. N. U. Carpenter, Mrs. H. A. Hepper, Mrs. H. L. Keener, Mrs. Charles E. Runyon, Mrs. Walter J. Holman, Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell, Mrs. J. J. Reed, Mrs. Frank Watkins, Mrs. H. E. Wood.

Among the guests were: H. L. Pitcock, Mrs. Kate Hesterman, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Newcaste, Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Locke, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Runyon, Dr. and Mrs. Homer I. Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cellars, Mr. and Mrs. N. U. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Heenan, Mr. and Mrs. William Freuberg, Mr. and Mrs. C. Minsinger, Miss Helen Minsinger, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Toney, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Searles, Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Probably the largest affair of the week was the reception and tea given by Mrs. Byron Randolph Nicholas (Miss Nancy Vochtes) yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. William Alfred Stanton, recently from Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Allen Greer, of the Barracks. Mistress of the samovars were Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mrs. David Shindler, Mrs. Francis T. Hallinan and Mrs. Lloyd Wentworth. At the punch bowl were Mrs. Donald H. Munro and Miss Genevieve Thompson. Others assisting Mrs. Nicholas were Miss Elizabeth Sears, Miss Ruth Small, Miss Lucille Parker, Miss Henrietta Elliot and Miss Camille Douch.

Christmas decorations of holly and Oregon grape, with crimson carnations, made the receiving and tea rooms particularly attractive.

The guests who called between 2 and 5 o'clock were: Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mrs. William Bidde, Mrs. G. E. Bruere, Mrs. Donald Munro, Mrs. Fred Strong, Mrs. Robert Strong, Mrs. Fielding Kelly, Mrs. Walter Burrell, Mrs. J. C. Amesworth, Mrs. George Westcott, Mrs. Lloyd Wentworth, Mrs. Charles E. Stiton, Mrs. David Loring, Mrs. Frank Chamberlain, Mrs. James Ernest Laddlaw, Mrs. R. P. Chipman, Mrs. Seth Caines, the Misses Caine, Mrs. J. N. Neal, Mrs. M. E. Teal, Miss Clara Teal, Mrs. R. J. Marsh, Mrs. Francis Holman, Mrs. Maxwell Houser, Mrs. Benjamin Trinchman, Mrs. Allan Smith, Miss Camille Douch, Miss Lillian Douch, Mrs. John Claire Monteith, Miss Elizabeth Sawyer, Mrs. Willy, Mrs. P. J. Wiley, Mrs. Henry Scott, Miss Frances Hatchelor, Mrs. Hoamer Arnold, Miss Elizabeth Stephens, Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Mrs. Kate Arnold, Mrs. Frank Riley, Mrs. W.

H. Mathewson, the Misses Nicholas, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Lucille Parker, Miss Lullie Hall, Miss Elizabeth Sears, Miss Henrietta Elliot, Mrs. T. L. Elliot, Miss Genevieve Thompson, Mrs. B. C. Ball, Mrs. Frank Golber, Mrs. Howard Rankin, the Misses Hallinan, Mrs. Hallinan, Mrs. Herbert Nichols, Mrs. Charles Gault, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Gile, Miss Eleanor Gile, Miss Kate Gile, Mrs. Walter Goss, Mrs. Frank Kerr, Mrs. David Shindler, Mrs. A. C. Pantou, the Misses Peck, of Oregon City, Mrs. Henry Russell-Talbot, Mrs. Biddle Wells, Mrs. C. E. Wolverson, Mrs. Grisewood, Mrs. Curtis Strong, Mrs. D. P. Thompson, Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mrs. H. H. Northup, Mrs. Harry Northup, Mrs. Joseph Bradley, Mrs. Leroy Parker, Mrs. William McRae, Mrs. Norman Pease, Mrs. Lansing Stout, the Misses Gray, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. James Dunlap, Mrs. Del Stuart, Mrs. Ramsey, Mrs. Ralph Hahn, Mrs. Ray Cross, Mrs. J. C. Sanford, Miss Kate Failing and the Misses Moulton.

The photograph of Mrs. Byron Randolph Nicholas which appears on today's page, is taken in a wonderful gown worn more than a hundred years ago by the great-great aunt of Mrs. Nicholas, Mrs. Elizabeth Woodward, of Lexington, Ky. It is of a heavy old-time silk band embroidered with clusters of tiny rosebuds and trimmed with beautiful yellow silk fringe.

Mrs. Frank Hart will pass Christmas in the East this winter with her daughter, Miss Sallie Hart, who is attending an Eastern seminary for young women.

Prior to the departure about January 1 of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hall Mathewson from Portland for Mission, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. James Ernest Laddlaw are entertaining most informally this afternoon at tea in their honor. Mission is about 40 miles southeast of Vancouver. These Mr. and Mrs. Mathewson expect to remain for an indefinite period. Many farewell teas and sewing parties, all extremely informal, have been given for Mrs. Mathewson in the last fortnight.

Mrs. H. H. Northup was hostess at tea last Wednesday at her exclusive new home on Terrace Drive. She entertained 50 guests informally in honor of Mr. Northup's sister, Mrs. A. M. Pratt, of Bryan, Ohio, and her daughter, Mrs. W.

D. Comer, of Seattle, who are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Northup for a few days on the way south to the winter. Assisting Mrs. Northup at the table, with its centerpiece of pink carnations and amias, were Mrs. Harry Northup and Mrs. Clarence Gilbert. The same flowers and greens formed the decorations of the receiving rooms.

Mrs. R. A. Letter has written from San Francisco that she may be expected in Portland this week, after passing several weeks in California as the guest of her parents, as well as traveling between points of interest, including a trip through the Grand Canyon.

The announcement that Miss Caroline Wilson will make her debut early in January is causing a flurry of interest among those who are already gowning are being planned for the occasion.

Among the delightful events of the past fortnight was the series of "sewing teas" which were given by Mrs. Madam von Bolton, Miss Tina von Bolton and Miss Edith Nicholson, who entertained at their Marshall-street home, in all about 150 guests. At the first afternoon those who assisted at tea were Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. F. H. Allison and Mrs. A. M. Ellsworth. At the second Miss Ella Hirsch and Mrs. J. N. Teal poured the tea, and Tuesday Mrs. J. D. Hart and Mrs. E. L. Thompson assisted. The table decorations Tuesday were of Roman hyacinths and asparagus fern, while chrysanthemums, carnations and roses in delicate shades were distributed about the rooms. The drawing-room was particularly charming with fragrant pink rose buds.

The guests entertained at these "sewing teas" were Mrs. L. H. Tarpley, Mrs. Elliott Habersham, Mrs. George D. Schaik, Mrs. H. Holmes, Mrs. Charles Joseph Schabel, Mrs. R. E. Earhart, Mrs. George Willet, Mrs. Frank Nau, Mrs. Frank Vanduy, Mrs. Frank Kerr, Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. J. J. Pantou, Mrs. P. J. Marquam, Miss Ella Stephens, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Miss Genevieve Thompson, Mrs. Leroy Parker, Mrs. Theodore Wygant, Miss Wygant and Mrs. A. C. Pantou.

Dr. C. L. Templeton will join his family in San Francisco for Christmas and the holidays, returning to Portland the first part of January.

Miss Martha Hoyt, sister of Mrs. Robert Lewis, returned to Portland Tuesday, after an absence of 15 months, during which time Miss Hoyt, accompanied by Mrs. Philip E. Johnson, traveled throughout Europe, summering in Switzerland and Italy. Miss Hoyt passed the latter part of her absence in Paris, sailing thence for America.

Mrs. Henry Fairbanks (Miss Frances Lewis), who was the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. H. Lewis, for a fortnight, left the city Tuesday for her home in New York. With Mrs. Fairbanks went also another charming guest of Portland society, Miss Helen Cheever, of Boston, who was for two weeks the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. S. Whiteside. Several large affairs, including a tea at the home of Mrs. C. H. Lewis and a luncheon at which Mrs. L. Allen Lewis was hostess were given for Mrs. Fairbanks and many entertainments, mainly informal dinners and theater parties, had Miss Cheever as their motif. The departure of both women is regretted by their social acquaintances.
