"Why, I do not believe Mr. Roose-velt has had continuous control of himself for a week at a time since he became a great National power. He simply can't help himself. "Until there is a change in sentiment many words, Mr. Hill clearly believes that future railroad expansion, con-struction and development must, in a large measure at least, come from in-creased earnings, which means higher freight rates, which the lines all over the country are now seeking to obtain from the interstate Commerce Com-mission. He frequently referred to the high cost of doing business in every line. Yet, he said, the railroad tariffs are stationary or lower than before.

1911 Will Be Quiet Year.

We will do little building during In Oregon.

"We will do little building during 1911. We will finish,our line to Bend in Oregon. We would like to complete our road in the Okanogan Valley. We have a grade from Oroville to Pateros and Wenatchee. The Northern Pacific would like to build more branch lines. "AB large business will be conducted with great caution during 1911. It will not be a year of expansion or great development. It is much better for the country that this is so. There will be no stress of hard times or panic, or anything of that sort, but investors will exercise caution and care. Otherwise there might be trou-ble, but as matters are now, there will be no trouble."

he no trouble." "With all its natural resources Wash-ington need not fear financial depse-sion." said Mr. Hill. "The West is co-pecially prosperous and will continue so. Oregon produced $5.000.000 worth so. Oregon produced $5,000,000 worth of livestock last year, and the crop of apples in Washington has been the best in years." Mr. Hill and party will leave for Van-couver, B. C., tomorrow night.

Prune Trees, Between 500,000 and 600,000, Outnumber Those of Remainder of State-Annual Crop 10,000,000 Pounds.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 17 .- (Special.)-The first annual census of the fruit trees of this district, comprising the counties of this district, comprising the counties of Clark. Skamania, Cow-lits and Kilckitat, has been completed by A. A. Quarnberg, District Horticul-tural Inspector. The result has not been made, public, but has been forwarded to State Horticulturist Huntley, who will incorporate it in his report to the Gov-ernor. GARRISON MAY BE KEPT ernor. The census is more complete than that of the people in this district, as the trees do not move, and Mr. Quarnherg and his assistants visited personally every or-chard in this large territory. In taking the census of the trees, Mr. Quarnherg has been able to give much valuable in-formation to the fruitgrowers, teiling them when to spray, how to kill the pests, and where best to plant certain kinds of fruit trees for the best and most profitable results. RUMOR SAYS FORT WALLA IS TO Report That Orders Have Stopped Shipment of Stores Is Regard-pests, and where pest to best and most profitable results. In Clark County are about 5000 acres of trees, 550 orchards, and between 500,000 and 600,000 prune trees, a total scarcely equaled by the combined prune orchards of the State of Washington. The aver-age crop of prunes, such as last year, is about 10,000,000 pounds, or 550 carloads. But this year being a light season, only 115 cars were shipped. More apple trees were planted last year than any other kind of fruit. Prunes net from 1300 to 1300 an acre a year. One grower averaged more than 1100 a yedr for five years, and one of the seasons in-cluded was almost a total failure. An average crop is about seven and a half tons to the acre, and these green prunes make about two tons of dried fruit. Prunes sold for as high as 5 cents a pound this year. (Special.)-That Fort want to be re-established is a rumor on the streets here today that has every confirmation in the way of circum-stantial evidence. It was started by the statement of one of the present garrison, consisting of but a bandful of men, that orders had been received to stop the packing and shipment of the stores and supplies from the fort. It is also well known that local painters have been asked to submit bids on the painting and varnishing of all the buildings at the fort, and that they have done so. These contracts will run into thousands of dollars, and it is believed the forcement means to establish an artillery force here. It is reported that theore now on the way. It is believed that the grotests of residents here, and the squabble over the fort grounds; led to the Government's decision to re-establish the garrison.

ing the past week and were opened to day. New bids were ordered. The farmers paid $5.47% for their bags last year and while it is not given out at the Farmers' Union. It is understood the lowest bid made this year was by Balfour, Guthrie & Co., whose quota-tion is said to have been $5.80. Twelve firms bid.
