IRRIGATION PLAN WILL OPEN UP GREAT TERRITORY.

Thousands of Acres in Eastern Oregon Will Be Benefited by W. C. Parrish's Proposition.

BAKER, Or., Dec. 24 .- (Special)-W. C. Parrish, superintendent for the Eastern Oregon Light & Power Company has just returned from Burns and Harnoy County, where he has been making investigations preparatory to establishing one of the biggest irrigation propositions in the state.

In an interview Mr. Parrish said:
"The future of the great inland Oregon depends largely upon the success along irrigation lines. There are cess along irrigation lines. There are great stretches of fertile land lying adjacent to Burns which can be made to produce almost anything that grows in the ground by the application of water. Contigious to Burns lies one of the largest tracts of arid land in the State of Oregon and it is of the most vital importance to the future of Central Oregon that this land be watered as cheaply as possible.

"With railroad facilities practically assured to open up this hitherto un-the land be made more productive in as short a time as possible."

It is the intention of Mr. Parrish to construct large pumping plants to be operated by electricity, the water to be taken from the Silvies River and pumped to the land requiring it. Mr. Parrish's plan was most favorably received by the residents of Harney County and it is the intention to commence work on the power plants early in the Spring. If the proposition goes through, it will place some of the fin-

Seacoast Railway Receiver's Claim Declared False.

Alleged Scheme to Prevent Building From Astoria to Nehalem Is Declared Unrighteous-Road's

Transactions Reviewed.

Absolute denial of the statement that he is indebted to the receiver of the Portland, Oregon, Seacoast Railway Company, was made yesterday by William Reid, the accredited builder of an aggregate of 193 miles of railway on both sides of the Willamette River, who sides of the Willamette River, who declares that the report of the receiver made 10 days ago evidently is false and that the facts prove it.

"It was a surprise to me," he said, "to learn, October 27, 1908, that after all the debts in the company had been paid in full except those due to me for cash disbursements, the United States courts, without notice to any of the company's directors, appointed a receiver, but it was a greater surprise to see in the paper last week that the see in the paper last week that the receiver reported that 'William Reid, of Portland,' is indebted to that company, when I have evidence to show that I never owned more than one share of stock and this only to qualify

Mr. Reid then exhibited a contract entered into with W. H. and W. A. Montgomery, who now appear to be the only creditors of the company, of which contract the following is a copy. which contract the following is a copy.

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—To W. H. & W. A. Montgomery. Los Angeles.—Referring to the contract entered into and executed at Los Angeles this day between you and the Portland. Oregon, Sea Coast Railway Company, wherein it is agreed that the 60 per cent of the stock of that company, which stands in my name and which I hold as trustee, is to be at your demand transferred to you or to any person you may designate, I begt to say that I consent to this agreement, and shall hold that stock as your trustee as security to you for rejayment of the indeht-edness which said railway company has contracted to you, and should you desire me at any time hereafter to transfer to you for any person you may designate such stock, I shall, on demand, make such transfer, conditioned only that such transfer, when demanded by you, is made only as a collatoral security and to enable you to obtain repayment of the indebtedness of $50,000, and 5 per cent interest due by said railway company to you.

Further reviewing the history of the company, Mr. Reid declared the alleged scheme to prevent the building of the road from Astoria to Nehalem most unrighteous one, saying that H. Hawgood, who in 1907 was elected president of the company, had gone over the route in person and declared the practicability of carrying out this project.

Money Spent by Hawgood.

"When Mr. Hawgood was elected president," Mr. Reid added, "I was made secretary. He secured authority to borrow $59,009 from the Montgomerys, who are multi-millionaires in Los Angeles, and who were to receive Los Angeles, and who were to receive 50 per cent of the stock as security. I was to hold this stock as trustee for them. The directors consented and the contracts were drawn up. The stock was placed in my name as trustee and Mr. Hawgood received the $50,000. He alone had charge of the expenditures. "He paid $35,000 of it to H. "So there was no occasion for a re-ceiver on the 26th or 27th of October ceiver on the 26th or 27th of October, 1908, when he applied for one in person at Portland. Or. Suddenly, in the face of these facts, which I am prepared to swear to, on President Hawgood's application and arrival in Portland, he obtained a receiver and he appointed C. H. Warner as that receiver, with consent of the United States court, and from that day till now I have never met Mr. Warner except once, and aside from the railway company's papers, which I gave him, he has never demanded from me any moneys. He could not, for I never had a dollar of the company's money in my moneys. He could not, for I never had a dollar of the company's money in my possession. Yet, in his report to the United States court last week. I am told he says that William Reid, of Portland, and the Lewis & Clark Construction Company, a Portland firm, are indebted to his railway company in large sums, yet he admits that the only debt of that railway company is $55,000, due to W. H and W. A. Montgomery, who advanced $50,000, and interest."

OREGON PRODUCTS SHOWN

Business Men Throughout Country Remembered by Douglas County.

EUGENE Or., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—One hundred and fifty prominent business men throughout the United States will have two famous Oregon products impressed upon their minds in connection with the happy Yuletide, through the energies of A C. Dixon, manager of the Booth-Kelly Company. The products are Booth-Kelly Company. The products are Oregon-grown English walnuts and Oregon-grown English walnut methods of introducing the won-walnut last season that the pro-has been followed again this rear.

About 800 pounds of local-grown walnuts of the finest type were procured by Mr. Dixon, and these were put into approximate five-pound eacks for "Santa Clausing" people in nearly every state in the Union. That the nuts are appreciated is evidenced by the autograph notes, in longhand, from busy men. The Booth-Keily Company remembers their big patrons with this token, and the following very patriotic suggestion printed in red and blue on the Santa Claus sack of nuts.

"We are pleased to send you sumples of Oregon-grown English walnuts, and we will be more than pleased to continue filling your 'repeat' orders for that more famous Oregon product, Douglas fir."

BOISE IS RIVAL OF RENO

Lawyers Would Stop Issuance of Divorces of Convenience.

BOISE, Idaho. Dec. M. - (Special.)-BOISE, Idaho, Dec. M.— (Special.)—
Idaho loses its reputation as a divergencenter. Boise ceases to be the Mecca for Reno's overflow of matrimonial bondbreakers, if a resolution recently of the Ada County Bar Association goes into effect, providing for one year's residence instead of six months, as is now the case, before application can be made for divorce.

With less notoriety than Reno, Boise is a rendezvous of society men and women of many states who seek separation.

One recent notable case was that of Valentine Winters, president of the Dayton Traction Company, Dayton, O., a man of wealth and social prominence.
Winters lived in fashionable quarters winters lived in institutions data to in Boise for six months, and then applied for a divorce from his wife, who bitterly contested the petition on the grounds of religious scrupies.

Judge Fremont Wood refused the decree and scored Winters for coming to Idaho to "purchase" a divorce from his wife.

Winters was unsuccessful; others of Winters was unsuccessful; others of equal prominence were more fortunate. Many migrated to Idaho from New York and kept their identity secret, and the divorce mills work overtime.

While the Ada County Bar Association did not adopt the two following resolutions dealing with the same subject, it pisced the stamp of approval on them after deliberation:

piaced the stamp of appropriate after deliberation:

"First-That all marriages within six months' time after a decree has been obtained in Idaho be held absolutely vold, whether the offender be married in Idaho or in another state.

"Second-That divorces be granted from bed and board without the right to either party to remarry, for the same caure for which absolute divorce can now be obtained."
One in every five marriages in Ada County is a failure, according to the records. About 10 per cent of the divorces is attributed to non-residents who come for the express purpose of obtaining a decree and who afterwards return home.

rarely touched by the foot of a white man. He has undergone great perils, but in return has secured pictures really worth while. Mr. Dobbs accompanies the showing of his pictures with a lecture in which he tells of his experiences in Alaska—in the gold camps, among the Eskimos and on snow-capped mountain peaks.

The old expression of the whalers, There is no law of God or man runs north of 53, no longer holds good, said Mr. Dobbs yesterday in discussing his pictures. "There are no more lawabiding, brighter or more loyal Americans found any place in the world than in Northwestern Alaska. It would make you here in Portland better men if you could be thrown upon your own resources in that great gold and fur-producing region, if you could for a time inhabit a miner's cabin far removed from civilization or mingle with the Eskimos."
