

CARNEGIE GIVES AWAY $1,250,000

Hero Fund Established for Germany as for Three Other Nations.

KAISER NAMES COMMISSION

Total Given to Reward Heroes Now $8,500,000—Income to Reward All Injured Doing Noble Deeds and Care for Families.

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—Announcement was made today that Andrew Carnegie had given $1,250,000 for a Carnegie Foundation for life-savers in Germany. The conditions and purposes of the endowment are similar to those of the "hero funds" previously established by the American financier and philanthropist in the United States, England and France. The annual proceeds will be used for the benefit of those who have been injured in the performance of heroic acts, and, in the event of a hero's death, for the support of surviving dependents. A special provision is made for the education of the children of those who have sacrificed their lives.

Some time ago American Ambassador Hill, at the request of Mr. Carnegie, approached the Emperor on the subject of whether such a gift would be acceptable. His majesty, after approval of the subject, and in an autograph letter to the donor expressed deep interest in the benefaction. The necessary details were soon concluded and the fund placed in the hands of the Emperor, who as its patron appointed a commission of 12 to administer the same.

The president of the commission is Rudolph von Valent, chief of his majesty's civil cabinet, and his associates in connection with the American Ambassador and representatives of the mining, railway, maritime and industrial interests of Germany and the medical profession.

The benefits of the fund will begin with the new year. Germany now has provisions for the relief of civil servants who have suffered through heroism, and Mr. Carnegie's gift will make it possible to round out a general system of benefaction.

This is the fourth "hero fund" established by Mr. Carnegie. The original endowment was made in April, 1904, when $2,000,000 was placed in the hands of a commission composed of 21 residents of Pittsburgh, Pa., who were instructed to use the annual proceeds of the fund for the benefit of dependents of those losing their lives in heroic efforts to save their fellow-men, or for the heroes themselves if injured only. The beneficiaries were confined to those associated with acts performed within the United States, Canada and Newfoundland and the waters thereof.

In 1908 Mr. Carnegie gave $1,250,000 for the creation of a hero fund in Great Britain. In the following year he established a similar fund in Prussia by the gift of $1,000,000. The total set apart for this purpose is now $8,500,000.

GIFT IS TRIBUTE TO GERMANY

Carnegie Tells Kaiser Reasons—Kaiser Expresses Gratitude.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Andrew Carnegie approved with satisfaction on learning that his gift of a hero fund for Germany had been formally announced in Berlin today.

"It is all most gratifying," he said, "and I feel that it is a good work to reward the heroes of civilization who have saved or served their fellows."

Mr. Carnegie's gift was announced in Berlin today by Emperor William offering to establish the fund reads:

"I am greatly pleased to hear that your majesty cordially approves of the hero fund which I have given to the North American continent rendered me anxious to extend its benefits to Germany, the root of the Teutonic race, from whence we have derived our speaking branches have sprung. I desired this the more, because during the present long reign Germany has kept the peace under your guidance. Your hands are unguiltless of shedding human blood, an example which cannot but impress and influence the rulers of other lands in the direction of blessed international peace."

"The unpayable debt our republic owes to Germany furnishes another reason. The present census will show nearly, if not quite, a million of Germans and their descendants and their present or future citizenship of the Republic is one of the most valuable of all its assets."

"We live in an heroic age. Industrialism develops the hero of peace. Scarcely a day passes without acts of heroism being revealed to one or another of the great nations already established. In cases of mine accidents, the volunteers for rescue work who risk their lives by descending into the pit invariably exceed the number required. Such are the heroes of civilization."

"I have long felt that such true heroes and those dependent upon them should be freed from pecuniary cares resulting from their heroism and as a fund for this purpose $1,250,000 in 5 per cent mortgage bonds, yielding approximately 250,000 marks per annum, will be sent to the commission designated to administer this fund."

"I enclose a statement giving general directions for the operation of the fund similar to that given to America, France and Great Britain."

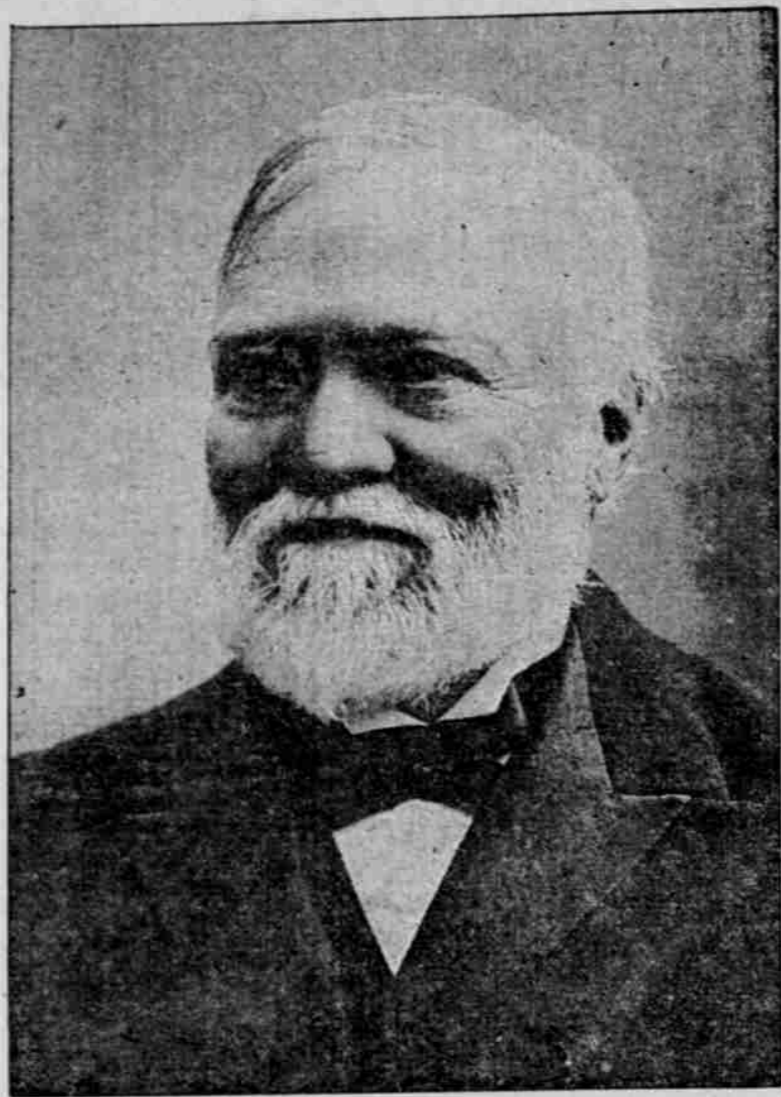

In his reply the Emperor says:

"This further proof of your world-renowned philanthropy and magnanimity has given me very great pleasure, and I consider it my duty in this case to be practically well chosen."

"Your fund will contribute in a large measure to the duty of mankind to make appreciative provision for the victims of heroic deeds of love of one's neighbor being more effectively discharged than has been possible heretofore, and will encourage the decision of noble persons to perform acts of rescue by banishing the fear for the future of their survivors. I desire to express to you also, in the name of the German people, my warmest thanks."

"The lasting memory of your noble deed I shall attach your name to the fund. Also I shall be very glad, in accordance with your wish, to place the fund under my personal protectorate and to appoint a commission. I shall send to you for your approval a draft of the fund statutes which will be drawn up containing the conditions stipulated by you, insofar as they do not need to be modified through the German congress, through the Ambassador of the United States accredited to my court, upon whose participation in the commission I lay great value."

KAISER'S ENTHUSIASM ROUSED

Carnegie's Donation Regarded as Binding Germany to America.

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—(Special.)—Andrew Carnegie's decision to establish a hero fund with a capital of $1,250,000 in Germany is received with manifest satisfaction in government quarters and in circles close to the Kaiser. The official world regards it not only as an important philanthropy, but also another of the ties binding Germany and American interests together.

Kaiser Wilhelm received the announcement of Mr. Carnegie's proposal with positive enthusiasm. The extent to which he will interest himself personally in the undertaking is shown by the character of the administrative committee which he has appointed. This body will be headed by Herr von Valent, head of his Majesty's cabinet for Civil Affairs, who comes into contact with the Kaiser more frequently than any other official. His selection will practically bring the administration of the fund directly under the Emperor's supervision.

At the time of his visit to Berlin three years ago Carnegie expressed the greatest admiration for the Kaiser, comparing him in energy and force of character with Oliver Cromwell. His esteem and cordiality were reciprocated by the Emperor.

The hero fund donation is probably the largest charitable endowment ever made in Germany by a person not a native of the country.

AFFINITIES, TOO MANY

WIFE OF PROMINENT NAVAL OFFICER WANTS DIVORCE.

Lieutenant William Linn Culbertson, of Battleship North Dakota, Not True, Alleged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—(Special.)—Members of the Army and Navy smart set will receive with consternation the news that First Lieutenant William Linn Culbertson, United States Naval Academy, attached to the battleship North Dakota, has been made defendant in an action for divorce brought by Mrs. Liza Winchester Culbertson.

The suit was filed in the Superior Court here November 29, last, and since then every precaution has been taken to preserve the secret. The complaint was placed on the secret file, and service on the young naval officer was not made until five days ago, after his ship returned from the San Diego practice grounds.

Cruelties of various kinds and unnamed "affinities," with whom the husband is said to have spent a large part of his shore leave, are the basis for the suit, and, on trial, it is intimated, if content is made, there will be the sensational told, that is not recorded in the complaint, which will involve the names of many in and out of the Army and Navy set.

On September 19, last, Mrs. Culbertson alleges, she received a letter from her husband informing her that he "had an affinity," and would therefore bid her good-bye.

Culbertson asks an interlocutory decree of divorce, carrying with it the custody of her two-and-a-half-year-old son, William Linn Culbertson, Jr., and $150 a month from Culbertson's monthly salary of $230.

Culbertson, son of a Boston manufacturer, met Miss Liza Winchester Helgins, daughter of a Hartford, Conn., capitalist, while he was attached to the Atlantic fleet years ago. They were married at Fairfax, Conn., in September, 1906, and the event was one of the most important in Army and Navy circles in the East.

12 STORIES IS PLAN

Skyscraper to Rise at Seventh and Morrison.

50-YEAR LEASE IS $967,500

Last Big Realty Deal of 1910 Is Deal by Riskey Estate to Morrison Trust Company for Business Corner.

The last big real estate deal of the year 1910 was closed shortly before 6 o'clock last night, a 50-year lease for property of the Riskey estate at the northeast corner of Seventh and Morrison streets, representing an aggregate payment of $967,500 for the ground rent alone, passing into the hands of the Morrison Trust Company. As soon as leases on the small structures now occupying the property expire, a modern 12-story office building, to cost about $250,000, will be erected on the site by the company.

The property has 100 feet frontage on Morrison street and 50 feet on Seventh. Rentals are scheduled on 10-year periods. The monthly rate for the first 10 years is $1125; for the second 10 years, $1375; for the third 10 years, $1625; for the fourth 10 years, $1875; and for the last 10 years, $2000. The rental amounts to 6 per cent on $225,000, the given valuation.

The principal stockholders in the company are A. L. McAllen and E. A. Lundberg. The deal was negotiated through the law firm of McNary & Lundberg.

The type of office building has not been decided upon, but the construction company have arrived at an understanding after years of litigation, by which the city saves $4,514,405. The company asked $6,139,814 for extra work. The city put in counter claims on work called for in the contract and never done. The balance struck will now be a payment by the city of $1,624,109.

General Lamping has refused to make a formal request for his change, but the law provides that he must be given the first vacancy and a vacancy exists in that command.

No attempt has been made to fill the vacancy in the Second Washington since Colonel Otto A. Case was placed on waiting orders. It was understood at the time this action was taken that the Adjutant-General would retire with the beginning of the new year and that he would be given the place.

STUDENT LOST; SEARCH ON

Willamette University Authorities Fear for Guy Preston.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 31.—(Special.)—Willamette University authorities, after searching since the middle of October for Guy Preston, a student in the college of liberal arts are now expressing great apprehension over his disappearance and desire to secure some word from him if possible to relieve the minds of the student's parents in Ohio. He packed his trunk and grip, left his books in his room at the men's dormitory and disappeared, as he owed no money, had been in no trouble and as far as he knew was an exemplary student in every respect. He is described as being about six feet tall, dark hair, thin face and weighing about 160 pounds. His father writes that his son has a scar near the crown of his head, running diagonally, a little over an inch in length and that the large finger on his right hand is crooked at the end joint. There has been no inquiry for the missing student since he left the university, which leads the president to believe he had been in no difficulty here.

GRANTS PASS, Or., Dec. 31.—(Special.)—At a special election held in the city today the wets won by a majority of 49. The election was held to get the expression of the voters that the Council might license the selling of intoxicating liquors under the home rule amendment.

Considerable work was done by both wets and dries. The Anti-saloon League through its local committee, has declared that injunctive proceedings will be instituted in the courts to prevent the Council from acting.

FILMS SHOW LOCAL GIRL

DOT BERNARD, PORTLAND ACTRESS, IN PICTURE.

Leading Role in Remarkable Moving Picture Held by Former Juvenile in Stock.

In one of the most remarkable motion picture films ever brought to Portland and shortly to be shown in Portland and widely known here. The film is a tremendous sermon depicting the "two paths," and the role of the leading figure, the girl who goes to Hades, requires acting of no mean quality, since everything must be expressed by gesture and expression of face.

The former Portland girl (and those who have seen the film say the character is unmistakably Miss Bernard) shows a wonderful development in her art since she was seen here in juvenile and ingenue roles, and her work in this feature film is taken by critics as indicating a decided future for her as an emotional actress.

The picture is to be shown in the near future at the theaters of one of the largest motion-picture concerns on the Coast.

Transfer Slips Give Advice.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—He who rides in New York streetcars may henceforth get a liberal education by studying the backs of the transfer slips which the company distributes gratuitously. Formerly advertisements were printed on the back of transfer slips, but now people may learn almost anything from the care of teeth.

JOINT RATE IS DEMANDED

Relief of South Tacoma Is Object of Commission's Suit.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 31.—(Special.)—To force the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound and the O-W-R. & N. Company to put into effect a joint rate to South Tacoma, the State Railroad Commission has filed a formal suit before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

On shipments from points along its line the Northern Pacific absorbs the switching charges on goods consigned to South Tacoma, but when a shipment is made from a point on any one of the other roads the Northern Pacific makes the shipper pay an additional 2 1/2 cents a hundred on cartload lots.

As the order would affect interstate shipments, the Interstate Commerce Commission will be asked to enter the order.

PARRAL, Mexico, Dec. 30 (via El Paso, Tex., Dec. 31).—Thirty-eight rebel prisoners, guarded by 60 soldiers, were taken from here to Chihuahua yesterday for trial. Two hundred soldiers sent back five prisoners this week, and reported, according to the Jefe Politico, Rodolfo Valles, that "the insurgents are racing madly for the State of Sonora, with troops in hot pursuit."

Fifty men and three officers are stationed on top of hills commanding this city, but have nothing to do.
