

There, Mrs. Satterlee is expected West early this month.

A clipping from a Chicago paper, which is of interest to the Portland friends of the young women at National Park Seminary, near Washington, D. C., reads as follows: "Miss Dorothy Bour, 6347 Euclid avenue, entertained at bridge recently in honor of the Misses Morgan, of Portland, Or., who arrived in Chicago with Miss Bour from National Park Seminary for the Christmas holidays. They also took part in other festivities during their visit with Miss Bour, including a house party at Manchester, dinner at the opera and luncheons and a cotillion or two.

Mrs. Kathleen Lawler Belcher reached Paris December 12, and is domiciled for the present with Mrs. Rudolph A. Marshall, number 6 rue Eugene Manuel. Mrs. Belcher studied voice culture several months in Berlin and visited all the musical centers of Germany before going to France, where she will continue her studies until summer.

The Portland Alumni Association of the Kappa Sigma fraternity held its annual banquet at the Portland Hotel Wednesday evening. The program was a most interesting one, and was attended by graduates from different colleges and universities throughout the United States who have been members of the college chapters in the past. The under-graduates were also present, and the evening was a most successful one. The majority of the men are from the universities of Oregon, Washington and California, and Stanford University. There are also Portland representatives from Purdue, Harvard, Wisconsin, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Wabash, Minnesota, Michigan and the George Washington University. Among the guests present at the banquet were Dr. H. B. Fenton, Kenneth Penton, Henry Westinger, John Latourette, Ben C. Day, Chester Starr, Dr. C. W. Beckler, James Donnelly, Dr. Daniel O. Webster, Harry Rafferty, Edward Murray, V. D. Earl, Robyn Nelson, Fred Whitteley, Herbert F. Clark, Clarence Young, Morgan Gooden, Ernest Wells, Dr. Ernest Gilbert, D. C. Green, F. V. Galoway, John Veatch, Dudley Clark, John Hickson, Richard Zimmerman, David Graham, Oswald Mackenzie, Arthur Fields, Chester Moore, Ralph Moore, P. Cecil, William Holmes, William Noon, Byron Honck, Delbert Searle, O. R. Roberts, Roy Kelly, Edward Smith, Gordon Moore, Harold Bates and J. Fred Stever.

E. B. Labbe left Portland this week for Los Angeles, where he will join Mrs. Labbe and his cousin, Mrs. Carroll K. Zilber, who have been in California for a few weeks. Mrs. Labbe is on her way South for the greater part of the winter.

Mrs. I. Frohman and Miss Stella Frohman expect to sail from New York January 7 for Cuba, where they will meet Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Williamson, from Spokane, who are at present in Jamaica.

Gerald Eastham, Princeton 1912, was the guest of his brothers in Boston through the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Samuel Kerr is entertaining next Tuesday afternoon at her Portland Heights home in honor of Mrs. Charles L. Lavelle. A number of the ultra-fashionable well-bred and beaux of Portland have been invited, and a flutter of excitement pervades the youthful circles of society.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kerr were dinner hosts at their home on Chapman street, Portland Heights, Christmas evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell are the hosts of a party at their home on A. Knight, having been called here by the severe illness of their son, William Mitchell, Jr.

A bevy of attractive school girls assisted Miss Lullie Hall last Wednesday afternoon, when she entertained in honor of Mrs. Walter Hall Mathewson, who is leaving the city soon for Canada, and Mrs. Clyde Hixon Reid, of Tacoma, who enjoyed Christmas here, on her return from the East, before going to the South. Mrs. Reid was formerly Miss Helene White. Mrs. Percival Allen, of New York, was also an honor guest at the tea. Miss Hall was further assisted by Mrs. Frank Branch Riley, Mrs. Otis Wight, Mrs. Richard Holder and Mrs. C. E. Grellie, who presided at the tea urns. Apropos of the season, the decorations were of red and green, and an attractive Christmas tree added to the delight of the occasion.

Mrs. J. C. Robinson, of Portland Heights, entertained Friday afternoon for Mrs. Mathewson, as well as for Mrs. John Ames, who is the guest of Mrs. Everett Ames. Seven tables of bridge were played. However, the affair was most informal, only intimate friends of Mrs. Robinson attending.

Mrs. Arthur Curran, of Halifax, is a guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rupert P. Chipman.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy P. Morgan, of San Francisco, visited several days last week in Portland at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth. Mrs. Morgan is a sister of Mr. Ainsworth.

Mrs. John Ames, of Cleveland, O., and Miss Elva Ames, of Oakland, Cal., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ames. They arrived last Thursday and will leave for the South tomorrow. Owing to the shortness of their visit not a great deal of entertaining could be arranged. Mrs. John Ames was, however, in honor guest at the afternoon Friday of which Mrs. J. C. Robinson was hostess, and she was also entertained at cards yesterday by Mrs. William Mac Rae.

Mrs. S. D. Smith and Miss Laura Smith will leave the city soon for California, where they will pass the rest of the winter.

Theodore B. Wilcox was registered recently at the Holland House, New York, prior to his departure for Portland, with his daughter, Miss Claire Wilcox.

Mrs. James Canby will be a bridge hostess next Friday afternoon.

Additions to the interesting people at the Vancouver Army Post are Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. G. W. Van Deussen and their attractive daughters, Miss Hazel Van Deussen and Miss Gladys Van Deussen. Lieutenant Colonel Van Deussen succeeds Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Foster. Mrs. Van Deussen has only recently returned from a world tour and has a number of clever stories to tell of her experiences.

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman will be dinner hosts today in honor of the new year.

Mrs. W. C. Knigton, who leaves the city soon for the South, will be the motif of an afternoon at bridge Tuesday, when Mrs. G. B. Knudson will entertain.

Miss Isabella Gauld has returned from Tacoma where she passed a few days last week visiting with friends, and also where she attended the important social function of the year in that city, the large assembly ball in the parlors of the Tacoma Hotel. Miss Gauld is entertaining Miss Ruth Leighton, of Syracuse, N. Y., who arrived in Portland last Friday and will remain with Miss Gauld for several weeks. Mrs. J. G. Gauld and Miss Isabella Gauld will be at home today, to their friends, on the occasion of the new year. Another Portland society matron, who expects soon to leave the city, is Mrs.

WOODBURN COUPLE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT F. COOLEY.

WOODBURN, Or., Dec. 31.—(Special).—Robert F. Cooley and wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in this city December 23. It was an all-day affair with an elaborate dinner at noon. There were present 23 descendants. Many valuable gifts were received.

These esteemed Oregon pioneers have lived together on one farm for nearly 50 years. They were married at Belle Pass, just east of Woodburn, December 23, 1860, by Rev. Neil Johnson, then pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church here. They lived on the Cooley donation land claim from that date until last September, when they moved to Woodburn. Their children, all of whom with their families were at the celebration with the exception of the last two, are Mrs. J. M. W. Bonney, Mrs. Inez Carpenter and R. R. Cooley, of Woodburn; De Witt Cooley, of Clark County, Wash., and Ernest and Fred Cooley, of California.

Robert F. Cooley was born in Clay County, Missouri, January 25, 1837; crossed the plains in 1845 with his parents, arriving at the Dalles in October of that year. He came down the Columbia on a flat-boat; went to Champron, and in the Fall of 1864, located on the C. C. Cooley donation land claim in this vicinity. His father died of him 108 acres and he lived there until moving recently to this city. Mrs. Cooley was born at Pleasant Hill, Ill., May 23, 1845; crossed the plains with her parents in 1847; lived east of Oregon City for one year, then moved to Hubbard Station, her father, Charles Hubbard, being the founder of that town, which stands on his donation land claim.

Walter V. Smith, for whom Mrs. Max Houser will be a hostess at cards next Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Frances Mills and Miss Elizabeth Roberts who are respectively the guests of Miss Marguerite Hume and Miss Lucile Parker were the feted guests at a bridge tea Wednesday, when Miss Marguerite Hume entertained at her home. At cards Miss Hazel Williams was the fortunate winner of the high score against the contestants, Miss Muriel Williams, Miss Shanna Cummings, Miss Gladys Hoff, Miss Angela Kinney, Miss Inez Kinney, Miss Barbara Crocker, Mrs. Wilcox Clark, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Ada Burke, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Helen Harmon and Miss Lucile Parker. For tea later Mrs. Frank Gilchrist Owen, Miss Dorothy Holbrook, Miss Leslie Weldler, Miss Milla Westinger, Miss Louise Carey and Miss Jean Mackenzie called.

Among the number of interesting Christmas Eve dinners was that of Mr. and Mrs. John Foulser. The entire house was decorated with holly and poinsettias which color scheme was also carried out in the arrangement of the dining table. The affair was largely a family one. The grandchildren were seated at a small table in the drawing room on which were placed three miniature Christmas trees with ornaments of fruit, toys and cotton snowballs. Those who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foulser were, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerns, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Bates, Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Trommald, Miss Louise Poulsen, Miss Dorothy Kerns, Leslie Kerns, Virginia Thatcher, Evelyn Thatcher, Joseph Bates, Hamilton Bates and John Poulsen Trommald.

Informal Christmas dinners were also given by Mr. and Mrs. Trommald and Mr. and Mrs. Bates when each host entertained in honor of eight guests. Hollister McGuire, of Stanford University, is one of a number of young men who returned for the Christmas recess. Miss Dorothy Josselyn, the interesting daughter of B. S. Josselyn, is at home and rapidly recovering from an operation recently performed at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Mrs. Henry W. Good, with her daughter, Miss Helen Good and her son, Henry Good, Jr., were guests at the Savoy in New York last week. Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lipman were at the Netherlands, in New York City, over Christmas.

Among those who were hosts at Christmas dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Kerr. Covers were laid for 16 guests at the elaborately decorated table, the center piece of which was a miniature Christmas tree, with Santa Claus near by in his sleigh, which was filled with favors for all.

Other Portland people registered at New York hotels are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Alva Jacobs, at the Waldorf, who left the city last August for a European tour. They will probably reach home within a fortnight. Mrs. H. R. Adams was hostess at tea for Miss Bertha Masters last Wednesday afternoon. Miss Masters, who has been absent from this city the past two winters attending college, is home for the holidays. Last year she was a student at the University of Oregon, while this winter she is attending the Leland Stanford University at Palo Alto, Cal. Assisting Mrs. Adams were: Miss Jessie Hurley, Miss Louise Manning, Miss Helen McFall, Miss Hazel Blakey, Miss Norma Graves, Miss Eva Graves and Miss Clara Howell, who sang several selections. Miss Catlin, of Salem, was the only out-of-town guest.

Miss Florence Considine and Miss Ruth Considine, of Seattle, are the guests of Miss Genevieve Kelly.

Miss Ethel Morris, who is attending school at Dana Hall, Wellesley, near Boston, passed the holidays visiting in Portland and in New York. Miss Morris is at present the guest of Mrs. F. F. Van Duseen, of Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, but will return to school for the opening of the winter term, January 4.

Paul G. Giesy, of Stanford University, has been with his parents in Portland and the past week, but expects to return to college within a few days. Miss Lillian Rowse Miller, of Forest Grove, who is the guest of Mrs. Frank T. Chapman on Portland Heights, was the motif of an informal afternoon at cards Thursday, when Mrs. Chapman was hostess. Mrs. Chapman entertained in her honor at the Tetraxini concert Friday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Giesy returned last week after a year's absence in Europe. The journey was taken largely because of the critical condition of Dr. Giesy's health, which is now entirely restored.

Mrs. G. S. Wold and the Misses Wold will be at home this afternoon, as has always been their custom on New Year's day. Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Boyer, of Vancouver, B. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Irving Wold, of Washington, D. C., will also receive with Mrs. Wold.

Mrs. J. F. Davies and her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Rowen, will leave Portland tomorrow for Los Angeles and Santa Barbara for a three months' absence. Mrs. Rowen has had her machine shipped to the South and will motor extensively while in California.

The senior class of the Allen Preparatory school gave the annual Christmas party last Wednesday evening at the Irvington clubhouse. Numbers of students from the Universities of Oregon and California were present and the patronesses included Mrs. Greenbury Wilson Allen, Mrs. John P. Ford, Mrs. George W. Bates, Mrs. Gustav Clewin, Mrs. James Moore and Miss Jane Caples.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Allen gave a reception on Monday evening to the graduating class and alumni of the Allen Preparatory School at which about 60 guests were present.

Mrs. R. Becker and daughter, Mrs. Claude de F. Smith, and also Mrs. Becker's son, Rudolph Becker, returned last

The Delta Tau Delta alumni held their regular luncheon at the Imperial Grill yesterday, when a number of the active members, as well as the alumni, gathered in honor of the occasion. Several out-of-town alumni also added to the pleasure, and after luncheon the fraternity attended the Oak Park and Washington High School game.

The past week belonged to the students at home from colleges, and the members of Oregon University chapter of the Chi Omega Sorority were no exceptions among those who took the chance offered to enjoy themselves and furnish pleasure for others, and to these ends they entertained Wednesday evening with a dancing party at the home of Miss Doris Plummer. Thursday afternoon Mrs. Paul Trullinger was hostess at the Oregon Yacht Club from 2 until 5 o'clock, when a delightful program was furnished, including musical selections by Miss Gladys Mack, who has studied in Boston, Berlin and Paris. Folk dances were given by Miss Gene Wold, of New York City. A luncheon at the Portland Hotel completed the formal festivities of the week. Those who attended the luncheon were: Mrs. Ruth Giltner, Miss Eather Maegly, Miss Sybil Brown, Miss Doris Plummer, Miss Ernest Miller, Miss Cecil Miller, Miss Grace Cole, Miss Rose Basler, Miss Nellie Hemenway, Miss Clara Wold, Miss Cora Wold, Mrs. Paul Trullinger, Miss Kate Kelly, Miss Louise Gray, Mrs. Darrell Bristow and Miss Sybil Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Planders, who are wintering in California, are enjoying the excellent drives through the southern part of the state and from Los Angeles to the beaches. Last week they motored to Riverside accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, of Vancouver, Wash. The Planders are also planning a trip by motor to San Diego next month and expect to return to Portland sometime in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mason were tendered a delightful surprise in their home in South Portland on Christmas evening in honor of the thirtieth wedding anniversary. In the course of the evening a mock wedding service was held, at which Mrs. Mason carried brides of the valley and was presented by her husband with an emerald ring set with pearls. Whist and "500" furnished other entertainment during the evening and a luncheon daintily appointed completed the festivities. Those (Concluded on Page 4.)
