LOVE FIGHT GROWS: WIFE MAKES REPL

Woman Asserts ex-Millionaire's Conduct Unbecoming of Husband.

LEGAL TALENT IS HEAVY

Prominent Portland and Chicago Firms Arrayed Against Each Other in Baker Contest Over Beautiful Babe and Divorce.

BAKER, Or., May 6 .- (Special.)-Answer to the complaint in the suit for divorce brought in this county by Sidney C. Love, the ex-mulionaire stock exchange member and society leader, against his wife was filed by the attorneys of Mrs. Love today. In his complaint Love alleged that he had always been a kind and dutiful husband and was always willing, and is yet, to provide a home for his family, but in October, 1909, his wife deserted him, when his to be to him, when business reasons made it necessary for him to leave Rofant, Susex County, England, where they were

He also alleged in his complaint, that his wife was an inveterate cigarette smoker, and in other habits not a fit or competent person to have the con-trol of their child.

He asked that the court give the lit-tie girl into the care of his mother, Mrs. Mary Love, who was the wife of the late James Madison Love, of Chicago.

Woman Tells Her Side.

Mrs. Love, in her answer, alleges that the time he wanted her to leave Eng-land she was in delicate health and unable to travel and that Love came into her apartments and ordered the nurse to prepare for the journey home as he had arranged transportation for the entire party. On her refusal, she says, he left the room and slammed the door, remarking as he did so that if she did not go "that was her own

She also aggerts that he came into her presence under the influence of liquor and that his conduct toward her was unbearable. The fact is brought out that the suit, brought by her in New York against Love, is pending and charges therein against him cited in which Mrs. Love alleges he has been guilty of immoral actions, which are the only grounds by which a suit for diverce can be brought in New York.

Specific instances in which he is said to have been guilty of such action are given. She asserts he was involved with women in New York, Seattle and Baker and gives in each case the name and date. It has been asserted by Love's attorneys that, owing to the fact that she had brought suit against him as a resident of New York, when he has proved that he is a resident of Oregon, that her suit in the Westches er County courts is invalid.

Case on Trial Soon.

His suft will come to trial here soon. Love does not want to prevent her from getting a divorce, but does not want to agree to her demands re-garding the child, who is now three

GOOD ROAD FAVORED

Rex-Tigardville Highway Will Be Improved.

FUND FOR WORK STARTED

Yambill Auto and Commercial Clubs Improvement Association Holds Meeting and Takes Steps to Get Necessary Cash.

M'MINNVILLE, Or., May 6,-(Speial)-Rebuilding of the eight-mile stretch of road between Rex and Tigardville, through the eastern part of Washington County, is now practically assured. Two meetings of the Yamhill Auto and Commercial Clubs Improvement Association, held within the past 10 days, demonstrated that the people of this part of the Willamette Valley are anxious to have the road improved and are willing to donate their share of the funds needed.

At the meeting here Friday night there were present 150 good roads advocates. The meeting was called to order by President George E. Waggoner, who announced the purpose of the meeting and reported the progress made thus far. Speeches were made by C. T. Prail, president of the Oregon Better Highways Association; S. L. Parrett, E. J. Ricker and J. D. Gordon, of Newberg; W. T. Macy, G. S. Wright and J. B. Mardis, of McMinnville, and J. W. Winters, of Washington County. J. W. Winters, of Washington County. Mr. Prall assured those present of the which he is president, and suggested that a committee representing the local association meet with the Portland Commercial Club and endeavor to secommercial Glub and endeavor to se-cure its support. Mr. Waggoner an-nounced that in a partial canvass of Newherg and vicinity over $2500 had already been subscribed for the proj-ect. He also eaid that the Portland Auto Club would co-operate and in ad-dition many business fine of Portland who have property interests in this county would assist.

J. D. Gordon, president of the First National Bank of Newberg, headed the subscription list with $100, declaring that he would have to make only a few over the road to Portland to be repaid for his contribution.

The local soliciting committee will begin an active canvass for funds next week, and as assurances of support have been received from property owners along the road, it is believed that a large amount will be subscribed. It is estimated that the proposed improvement will cost between $15,000 and $20,000. A committee will interlie, view the County Court of Washington of priation of at least $5000.

The board of governors of the association was authorized to employ a force to make temporary repairs on the Rex-Tigardville road. This work will be started Monday.

Gish. Washington's Famous Athlete Blames Maybury for Poor Showing Made.

POLITICS SEEN AT BIG "U"

Team, Limited to 12 Men, May Not See Brokaw, Hurdler, Run in Oregon Meet May 13-Pre-Event Gossip Interesting.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 6 .- (Special.) Over fondness for chocolate drops and overindulgence in this confection is what students at the University of Washington attribute as a part of the reason of the defeat of Brailey Gish, star athlete of the track team at the All-Coast meet in California Cash, however, doesn't see it that way and the result is a bit of college politics and a petty war on the track deam which promises none too well for Washington's chances in the triangular interstate track meet at Eugene on May 13. Coach Maybury will have no easy time in picking his 12 men for the meet as a result of the squall which has arisen. Coming home from California, where he had been defeated in the 100-yard dash, without even getting a place, failing as miserably in the running broad jump and just managing to nose out a victory in the quarter-mile run. after which he refused to enter the 220-yard dash, Gish found none too warm a reception await. All-Coast meet in California. Gish. found none too warm a reception await-ing him. The athlete had been counted upon to win at least 20 points in this meet; his failure to do better than five points had to be explained.

Fish at once said it was all Coach
Maybury's fault; that he had been over-Maybury's fault; that he had been over-trained; that he, had not been shown how to care for himself and that he went into the meet at California stale and seven pounds underweight. Team-mates of Gish, however, defend May-bury and say that he gave the athlete carte blanche in his training, treated him as a man and an experienced ath-lete (Gish has been in track athletics for eight years) and not as a schoolboy.

Chocolate Fondness Starts.

Members of the team declare Gish used his privilege in self-training by practicing all sorts of queer stunts. practicing all sorts of queer stinits. Some years ago, they assert, an Australian sprinter named Day trained at the university campus. He ate a great deal of chocolate. Gish, thinking the confection must be good training food, did likewise. Added to this he dieted himself like a welterweight trying to make weight to fight in the light-weight division. At San Francisco, they say, he carried this procedure to they say, he carried this procedure to an extreme, lived on toast and poached eggs, ate practically nothing the day of the meet and went into a gruelling contest in a weakened condition when what he needed was every bit of stam-ina he could muster for the five events he was to enter.

Now to the politics which is an aftermath to the meet. Gish, who won first place in the 100-yard dash, the quarter-mile run, the broad jump and the javelin throw in the meet two weeks ago with Oregon Agricultural College, is heading a revolt against Maybury and, with the victories still fresh in the minds of the students, he is assuming a position of dictator of tioned as possibilities for captain of the 1812 track team. These are Gish and Brokaw, who won the two hurdle races empire. against Oregon Agricultural College as well as taking second place in the broad jump in that meet. Brokaw is exceedingly popular with his fellows. Washington, being limited to 12 men

Washington, being limited to 12 men for the triangular meet, must needs pick its team carefully. Gish now declares that there is no use in taking Brokaw as he has no chance of defeating Hawkins or Latourette, of Oregon, or Montgomery, of Idaho, in the hurdles. Likewise he points out that he can easily defeat Brokaw in the broad tumn as can Montgomery, of Idaho, and tumn as can Montgomery, of Idaho, and jump as can Montgomery, of Idaho, and Kay, of Oregon.

Members of the Washington team as-

Despite the unsettled conditions loach Maybury counts on a sweeping victory at Eugene next Saturday Courtenay and Gish he has sprinters whom he thinks sure winners. Condon. a freshman, and Stoll are performing like champions in the quarter mile and half mile and with Gish and Courtenay complete a fast relay team; Lang, the miler and two miler, is gaining confi-dence every day and promises a great race in the two long distances against McClure, of Oregon. In Eakins, Gish and Sherrick, Maybury thinks he has weight men capable of taking the ma-jority of the points in the big men events, while Hugh Bowman, captain, is counted a sure winner in the pole vault. Evans is good for 5 feet 10 inches in the high jump and is virtually unbeat-able in the high jump in the Pacific Northwest, as is Gish in the broad jump with a mark of 23 feet 1 inch.

The Idaho team, save for the performances of Montgomery, sprinter, hurdler and jumper, is almost an unknown quantity, but the Washington contingent does not especially fear the team. Oregon's showing at the All-Coast games in California was such as to cause no grave fears from the Wash-

HURRIED CASES Railroad Officials and Commission

Will Join in Motion.

SALEM. Or., May 6 .- (Special.) -- Arrangements have been made between O.-W. R. & N. Co. officials and members of the State Railroad Commission to join in a motion beautiful to the commission to the commissio to join in a motion before the United States Supreme Court May 15, urgins that the Minnesota, Missouri and Ore-gon rate cases all be heard at the same time, and that the cases be advanced on the docket to make this possible.

Inasmuch as similar points are involved in all of the cases and they are considered of utmost importance to car-riers and shippers as well, all concerned are anxious for an early decision. In the Oregon case the point specifically involved is whether the Railroad Commission in regulating Portland distributive rates on purely intra-state business was not interferance with or readilyering the rates on ing with or readjusting the rates on interstate business.

In this case the United States Circuit

Court dismissed the complaint to re-strain the Commission. United States Senator Chamberlain will present the motion for the Railroad Commission and Harriman counsel for the railroad. The Minnesota case involved a similar point to the Oregon case, but in the Oregon case the question of shipments of original packages also enters This is a point not touched upon in the Minnesota case, which recently was passed upon in the United States Circult Court by Judge Sanborn,

BEND-HAS BIG PLANS

RAILROAD DAY TO HAVE MANY IMPORTANT FEATURES.

President Hill Expected to Drive Golden Spike-Portland Men Plan Excursion.

BEND, Or., May 6 .- (Special.) -The eople of Bend are to be treated to the biggest thing in the way of "railroad lays" yet seen in the state, if the plans on foot for that occasion only half materialize. The latest announcement in connection with the enterprise is the news brought from Portland by Man-ager Sawhill, of the local Commercial Club, to the effect that Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Rail-road, will be here to drive the "golden spike" that will mark the completion of the new Oregon Trunk Line to Bend, its

While the Bend boosting body now has assurance, through the Portland Commercial Club, that Mr. Hill will be on hand to aid in the big celebration that is promised, an added zest of possibility is given through the fact that J. J. Hill, the "Empire Builder," may himself witness the completion of the Central Oregon line, which his system is building.

One of the chief reasons for Mr. Sawhill's trip to Portland was to investi-gate the possibilities of arousing intergate the possibilities of arousing interest in the proposed Bend celebration in the Rose City. From this preliminary reconnaisance it is apparent that in Portland, Bend will find a willing helper in the perfecting of the scheme. That this should be true is a matter of expectation with those planning the "railroad day," laasmuch as Bend will be the distribution point for an experi be the distributing point for an enor-mous territory tributary to Portland, whose chief buying is done at the Oregon metropolis. A closer bond, econom-ically as well as socially, must result from a visit of Portland business men to this point.

At a later date, when the exact time of the railroad's arrival at Bend has been definitely fixed, a committee from here will visit Fortland, and in conjunction with the Fortland publicity bodies, "sign up" several train loads of business men desirous of making the trip and cetting into personal touch trip and getting into personal touch with the interior of the state. From preliminary inquiries it is believed that at least 500 Portland people will take advantage of the opportunity that will be offered by the special train service and other attractions peculiar to the railroad-day exercises. railroad-day exercises.

In addition to those whom Portland will send already 50 Seattle business men, many of whom are interested in Bend property and enterprises,
