at her home
last night.

have for some time been residing on Lovejoy street, have recently moved to 745 Irving street. Mrs. James Watts, formerly a resident of Portland, who has been passing two months at the home of the Piddling Kellys, left Portland last week for her present home in Maine.

Kenneth Beebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, returned to Portland Friday morning, after a week passed in San Francisco, where he officiated as best man at the wedding of his cousin, Effingham, Bowne Sutton and Miss Maudie Weston, which was one of the most brilliant affairs of the week in that city.

Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot and her mother, Mrs. W. M. Wallace, as well as Mrs. George Whiteside and Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, were guests at luncheon last Friday at the home of Mrs. William MacMaster. Mrs. Talbot and her mother were entertained informally for Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph and her guest, Mrs. Melbert B. Cary, of New York. Mrs. Cary is here with Mr. Cary, who is on a short visit, having here a week ago yesterday, and has been entertained in an informal way extensively since then. On Monday, her day at home, Mrs. Dolph gave a small tea, assisted by Mrs. William MacMaster and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, who poured tea. About 60 guests called during the afternoon to pay their respects to Mrs. Cary, and the following young women also attended their hostess: Miss Evelyn Wilson, Miss Caroline Wilson and Miss Dorothy Morrison. Mrs. Cary, however, did not attract the entire interest of society folk, as Mr. Cary was also a guest of distinction. Thursday at a luncheon given by Mr. Dolph at the Arlington Club, when covers were laid for 12 other men. Mrs. Cary's week has been full, both with a number of small affairs especially in her honor, and with the larger affairs of the week, such as Mrs. Talbot's tea on Tuesday. Mrs. J. W. Ladd, though she is not quite so tending at present, owing to the fact that she is still in mourning, did however ask a few friends to meet Mrs. Cary at her home Thursday evening at an informal dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett and their guest from New York, Miss Elizabeth Hoyt, left Portland Wednesday for Eastern Oregon, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sharp for 15 days. Miss Hoyt may see something of the Western ranch life.

The United States lighthouse tender Heather played rather an important part in society last week, as it bore a delightful party of society girls down the river, chartered by Mrs. J. M. Elliott, wife of Commander Elliott, who was making an inspection tour of the lights of the Columbia. These young women were: Isabella Gaudin and her guest from San Francisco, Miss Alice Hiller, and Miss Marjorie Hewitt. Mrs. Robert Wilson Forbes was also a member of the party.

Miss Priscilla Elliott has only recently returned from a fortnight passed at Seaside, Or.

Mr. and Mrs. John Latta were dinner hosts Friday evening, when they entertained a few friends informally.

For Commander and Mrs. J. M. Elliott, who will probably not be among Portland folk much longer, Major J. E. Meade and Mrs. Meade were bridge hosts Thursday evening, when their home was gay with decorations of old-fashioned garden flowers, both quaint and new. At present the plans of the Elliotts are to leave Portland June 5 for Honolulu and the Philippines. Guests at the home of Major and Mrs. Meade the evening were: Major and Mrs. J. G. Gaudin, Mr. and Mrs. Morten Insley, Mrs. Frederick Alva Jacobs and E. C. Messer. Meade were the fortunate cardplayers and were awarded the prizes.

Frederick Alva Jacobs, who has been in California for a short time on business, is expected to return to his home this week.

With the approach of June Dan Cupid is coming into his own. A bit of news which came as a surprise to folk not only in San Francisco, but in this country, was announced Wednesday at the wedding reception of Miss Maudie Wilson and Effingham Bowne Sutton. This announcement is that Miss Louise McCormick, daughter of E. O. McCormick, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Company, will marry Robert Henderson, one of the most popular young bachelors of the Bay City. Though Mr. Henderson's devotion has for some time been marked, no hint of an engagement had been made public, and even the most intimate friends of Miss McCormick had no knowledge of the affair. Miss McCormick has been a decided favorite of San Francisco since her arrival there, about two years ago, from Chicago.

Mrs. George C. Mason has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. James M. Ashton, of Tacoma, while in the northern city with Mr. Mason, who was called there by business.

Every effort is being made to make Baby Home day, June 6, a success and to this end an enthusiastic meeting of the senior committee are being held. One took place last Friday in the convention room of the Commercial Club and another will be held Friday at 3 o'clock at a new headquarters, which will be made known before that day. Mrs. Charles Joseph Schabel, who is at the head of this senior committee, has been chosen president of the Baby Home board since the departure of the ex-president, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Van Schuyver and children have recently returned from California after several months' absence from the city.

News comes from San Francisco that Mrs. Arno L. Sch is being greeted by old friends there, after an absence of two years or more in the East. Mrs. Sch will pass the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sperry, at Alta Vista, which is beautifully situated in the high Sierras.

Miss Frances Warren's tea Friday afternoon was one of the most delightful affairs of the week, and consisted of bridge, followed by tea, when about 40 of the younger set, including young married folks as well as the girls, called. Sweet peas in delicate tones of pink adorned the table where Mrs. Donald Munro, Mrs. George S. Whiteside, Miss Genevieve Thompson and Miss Louise Carey poured tea, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Talbot and Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Jr.

With the sunshine of last Sunday the day was ideal for cross-country riding and apropos of Captain William S. Biddle's birthday a number of folk took the opportunity to pay their respects to him by riding with Captain and Mrs. Biddle to the Middle ranch early in the morning, returning the same evening. This party was composed of Miss Margaret Biddle, Miss Angela Kinney, Miss Milla Wessinger, Walter Burrell, Chester G. Murphy and Master Martin Biddle.

Mrs. Antoine Labbe was hostess at an informal tea last Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Alexander Ballie, and Miss Elizabeth Ballie, of Tacoma, who passed a few days in Portland last week.

Mrs. Russell E. Sewall and Mrs. H. A. Sargent were mistresses of the Samovars recently, when Mrs. Clara E. Koehler was hostess at cards and tea.

Preceding the dancing at Murlark Hall Monday evening, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett and a number of guests to take dinner with her complimentary.

LIKE a poor little walf, dependent on the whims of a capricious fate, would be society if it were personified. A lone, hungry thing one week, almost forgotten, a change of fortune the following seven days will plunge it into a deluge of the festivities whereby its maintenance is gained. Then, too, often it faces weeks when, hovering between life and death, it has scarce animation to arouse itself at all and yet is not quite at the starving point.

The past week in Portland's social life has been one of the latter sort. Opening rather brilliantly with a ball and a large formal tea, it has slowly dwindled down to a straggling luncheon or two. However, despite all this, and the fact that most of the week had to be passed behind closed windows, while generous downpours of rain took place without, regardless of the importance of sunshine just now for blossoms for the Rose Show, society women occupied themselves with little sewing bees, preparatory to graduation days and they luncheons and informal teas. They also found time to arrange other affairs for this week.

With the coming of the summer season the pleasure of having a socially attractive place such as the Waverly Golf Club at which to entertain is being appreciated by hostesses, and one of the most charming luncheons of the year will take place there next Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Charles F. Adams and Mrs. J. N. Teal will entertain together.

Apropos of country clubs, probably foremost among the coming events which will engage the interest of the majority of Portland folk is the annual meet which will be given by the Portland Hunt Club at the racetrack of its new club home, south of the city, Saturday afternoon, June 18. The boxes are being secured and parties are being made up for the occasion. Notable too will be the unusually large number of four-in-hand "turnouts" and tally-ho parties which will be present at the meet.

Foremost among the social festivities of the week was the tea Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot gave Tuesday in honor of her mother, Mrs. W. M. Wallace. Decorations of green and white formed the color scheme of the tea room, a gold basket of white daisies was the center piece of the table, while clusters of white Scotch broom were arranged about the room; yellow broom massed artistically in vases of handsome design adorned the receiving rooms, while the hall was attractive with pink pommes. Mrs. A. L. Maxwell, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Charles F. Beebe and Mrs. John Shepard poured tea and coffee and Mrs. James Canby and Mrs. William Skimo served punch. Others who assisted their hostess were Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. E. C. Shewlin, Mrs. Harriet McArthur, Mrs. William Warren and Mrs. J. G. Gaudin, who were in the living-room, and Miss Caroline Wilson, Miss Evelyn Wilson, Miss Meta Buehner, Miss Margaret Buehner, Miss Anita Burns and Miss Isabella Gaudin. Mrs. Talbot's list of guests included Mrs. David Loring, Mrs. W. W. Cotton, Mrs. F. H. Page, Mrs. S. H. Luthinham, Mrs. K. A. J. Mackenzie, Miss Jean Mackenzie, Mrs. Gordon Voorhes, Mrs. Frank B. Riley, Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mrs. Roger B. Sinsott, Mrs. Russell E. Sewall, Mrs. C. A. Gray, Mrs. Everett Ames, Mrs. Charles F. Adams, Mrs. C. A. ENTRIES IN HUNT CLUB MATINEE RACES SCHEDULED FOR ROSE FESTIVAL ARE HIGH-CLASS.

MISS MABEL LAWRENCE ON "SUNDAY KICK"

Many members of the Portland Hunt Club have entered horses in the annual matinee running races to take place under the auspices of the club during Rose Festival week. The meet is scheduled for Saturday afternoon. One of the feature races of the Hunt Club programme will be a mile trotting race for trotting saddlers with women riders. This race was won two years ago by Miss Mabel Lawrence, who has already entered her horse, Sunday Mack, in this event. The entries are being received rapidly and good fields are expected to face the barrier each time the horses are sent away. The programme of the meet will include a steeple chase. In this latter event one of the foremost entries is Arnold Rothwell's Jumping Kitty.

Miss Elizabeth Hoyt, covers were laid for Miss Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Miss Anita Burns, Miss Evelyn Wilson, Miss Caroline Wilson, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Leslie Smith and Miss Isabel McQuinnie, of the Post; Jordan Zan, Kirk Smith, Eugene Pales, Charles Holbrook, Frederick Foster, Blake Robbins, Richard Jones and Kurt Koehler.

For Miss Alice Hiller, who is visiting Miss Isabella Gaudin, Mrs. Charles Scadding was hostess yesterday afternoon.

From a delightful visit at Fortness Monroe, Va., and also in New England and New York, has come Miss Louise Mesick.

Mrs. J. C. Robinson will be a bridge hostess tomorrow.

Miss Dorothy Josselyn and Miss Mildred Josselyn left Portland Monday for the East, where they will visit in St. Louis. They expect to attend the graduation exercises of the Principals School, where they were formerly students.
