WORK TO BE SEEN

Portland School of Trades and Exhibit May 26-27.

GIRLS MAKE 91 DRESSES

Display to Represent Labor Amounting to $6000—Students Who Pay for Material Keep Product. Output for Year Large.

The Portland School of Trades is to have an open session and an exhibit May 26 and 27. The exhibit will be in the draughting department on the second floor. It will illustrate fully the nature of the showwork as conducted this year in the various departments. The articles on exhibition constitute a portion of the output of the school during the year and in quality, it is said, the exhibit will not be surpassed by any other similar one from any other trades school in the United States. An estimate of the labor involved in producing the total output, on the basis of what the same labor would cost in the regular trades' labor market shows that for the entire school, including the girls' school as well as that of the boys' this amounts to nearly $6000. Only about one-half of the articles which are the result of this labor will be the property of the school and most of this has been taken away to their homes. Some of it, however, will be returned temporarily for the exhibit.

Girls' Own Handiwork.

It is in the girls' department mainly where, under present policy, articles made have been allowed to become the property of the student making them, on payment for the material. It will probably be necessary to continue this policy for some time longer. In the last year 91 dresses have been made, as well as many other articles belonging to women's headwear. The greatest amount earned in one department by one girl is $163.75. The total market value of labor in the girls' departments, not including the cooking department, exceeds $1500. In the boys' departments nearly all the articles made this year will be the property of the district.

The policy of the school this past year has been to make, as far as possible, things that are really worth making—such articles as can be disposed of readily in the public market and of such finish as will challenge the best makers anywhere.

BOYS WILL RESIST

Musicians Want High School Band in Union.

PAID SERVICE IS ISSUE

Primary Purpose of Youthful Organization Is to Dispense Free Entertainment at Affairs of School Nature.

While the controversy has not progressed sufficiently to call for official consideration, there is conflict between the Musicians' Union and the High School Band, composed of boys from the Washington and Lincoln High Schools. The pending trouble arises from a desire on the part of the High School Band to furnish its services for remuneration in connection with dances and other entertainments of a public nature. To this the organized musicians object, unless the members of the school band become members of the union.

Western Field Large.

When the Portland school is somewhat larger, its products will have to be disposed of in the public markets. As it will be located here in the West, for many years to come, it can limit itself to things not made here in the West, and still have a very large field of activity. A quarter of a century ago the machine department of the University of Wisconsin not only made itself self-supporting, but became a source of revenue to that university by making things not made in that section of the country and selling them at the best market prices.

Photograph Sharps at Work.

Three days' free invention of an illustrated advertisement in The Oregonian is the bait being held out by two smooth young sharpers at work in the city taking orders for photographs. The game was worked a few days ago upon J. D. Kriete, a saloonkeeper of 234 Johnson street. Mr. Kriete paid $4 and received a dozen very poor photographs, with the promise that his photograph and business card would be published three times. The sharpers are about 22 and 25 years old respectively, and are well dressed. It is reported that they have deluded many persons with the same offer.

LEBANON SOON IS HOSTESS

Strawberry Carnival Visitors to Hear Prominent Men Speak.

Increasing interest is being shown in the Lebanon Strawberry Carnival, which is to be given May 31 and June 1 and 2. The opening exercises will include the crowning of the queen of the carnival, to be followed by a stock parade. The first day will be devoted to the good roads movement in Oregon and a special programme of addresses will be given. C. T. Prall and Dr. Andrew C. Smith, of the Oregon Association for Highway Improvement, will be among the speakers.

Vancouver Asks for Warship.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—The Fourth of July committee plans to have a United States battleship fire a salute of guns on the morning of July 4 in this harbor, if sufficient pressure can be brought to bear upon the War Department. There is a warship in Puget Sound now, and it is proposed to have it come here for the Fourth of July celebration.

Corn Troubles Ended in 48 Hours

A Blue-jay plaster is applied in a jiffy, and the pain of the corn ends at once. You simply forget it. The bit of B & B wax gently loosens the corn. In two days you lift it out. No pain, no soreness, no inconvenience. Compare that with old-time ways. Can you wonder that Blue-jay is now being used on five million corns a year? Can you wonder that Blue-jay now outsells—by fifty times over—any other treatment known? People who once try Blue-jay simply laugh at corns.

ROSE SHOW PLANS FIXED

PRESIDENT OF SOCIETY SEES MOST BRILLIANT EVENT.

Special Attention This Year to be Paid to Competition for Benefit of Women Only.

PORTLAND, Or., May 20.—(To the Editor.)—The twenty-second annual rose show of the Portland Rose Society, which is to be held in the Armory, June 5 and 7, promises to be the most brilliant event of its kind ever seen here, owing to the fact that more Portlanders than at any time in the past have become enthusiastic about raising roses for exhibition purposes, while our generous and public-spirited people have offered a greater number of trophies, and these finer than ever before, for competition. It is to be hoped that all who have roses growing in their gardens will enter them for these prizes, as they will be awarded impartially to those showing the best blooms.

GILLIAM COUNTY VICTOR

City of Condon Cannot Force Payment of Tax.

SALEM, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—In response to a communication from County Judge Thiessen, of Gilliam county, in which the Attorney-General is asked whether the city can levy a tax on the roundhouse, depot and track of the O.-W. R. & N. in the city limits of Condon, and as to whether the city can force the county to levy and pay such tax, the Attorney-General holds that the county is not compelled to pay the tax to the city, nor can the county compel the road to pay 10 mills city tax.

Work.

The cultivation of roses for this season should now be so far advanced that we have to deal chiefly with disbudding and the enemies of the rose. As to the former, we should not hesitate to disbud freely, leaving but one bud on a stem, or not more than two, the second being left so low down on the stem that the main flower may be cut without interfering with it. The fingers, or a small pair of tweezers may be used for pinching off the buds. Too many buds should not be removed at the first operation, one bud being left by the side of the main bud until the wounds caused by the first disbudding have healed; otherwise it is found that malformation of the principle bud may take place. Not all roses should be disbudded alike, for instance: Bent Cant, Duke of Edinburgh, Mabel Morrison, Charles Lefebvre, and others with globular buds should not be disbudded so freely as Madame Melanie Souper, His Majesty, Lady Ash-town, Dorothy Page Roberts, etc., which have pointed flowers, opening quickly.
