

demts are invited to come. No invitations have been extended and it is the wish that all former St. Helen's Hall girls will consider this a personal invitation.

Mrs. G. W. Allen, Mrs. H. M. Haller, Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, Mrs. G. W. Baker, Mrs. G. P. Ford, Miss Jane Caples, Mrs. T. T. Burkhardt, Mrs. G. P. Clerin and Miss Ruth Pringle were patronesses last Friday evening at the dance given by the Allen Preparatory School students at the Masonic Temple.

The following clipping from the San Francisco Call will be of many interested readers, as the persons mentioned are well known here, especially Mrs. Douch, who is the wife of Arno Douch, son of Colonel and Mrs. Henry E. Douch, of the San Francisco street.

Mrs. Douch, who was the beautiful Miss Jane Douch, is just as lovely as ever. This is her first visit to San Francisco since her marriage to Arno Douch in New York.

Preparatory to the coming tag day, the Senior Auxiliary of the Baby Home will meet with the president, Miss May Coon, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at 1475 1/2 street, in the Selling building.

Mr. Allen M. Ellsworth was hostess at tea last Friday afternoon, when a number of guests called for a chat with her hostess during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis were hosts informally at bridge last week, when their guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman, Mrs. Frank McDonough, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, and Mrs. William Sample, Calvin Hellig and Joseph H. Ferguson.

Interesting to Portland folk may be the clipping from a Seattle paper concerning the recent debut of Miss Elizabeth Sander, who carried the banner of this city, and at whose coming out Miss Stewart has been present in Seattle.

Miss Elizabeth Sander made her debut Thursday afternoon at a brilliant reception given in her honor by her mother, Mrs. Fred Sander, at the home, 214 Seventh avenue.

Just at present, Scotch broom is extremely popular in fashionable circles. It is particularly effective in the home of Mrs. Charles A. Eastman last Tuesday, when she was hostess at five tables on the bridge.
