

The faciling has grown rapidly the past few days that Simon has made good. It is this conviction which has brought to his support many votors who had, from the entrance of Sime into the contest as an independent candidata, been undecided.

The thinking voters of the city know what Mayor Binion has done. They know what he stands for. They recogthat he stands for a clean, progressive business administration; a higger, better and more prosperous city in every way. The position of Mayor Simon's opponent, Mr. Rushlight, is an unknown quantity. Nobody knows what he stands for, other than alliances with all sorts of interests that are unfriendly to the city and its best Interests.

Simon Followers Earnest.

Mayor Simon is being supported by a large following of the earnest, patrietic citizens of Portland who recognizhis worth as the city's chief executive. Included in this following are many workingmen and small home-owners who realize that as Mayor, Mr. Simon has always fully protected their inter ests and given to the city the best ad-ministration of its affairs that could have been given under the present city charter.

The appointment by Mayor Simon of commission of 15 representative citisubmission to the people has served further to prove his consistency in his advocacy of such a charter for Portland. Regardless of the result of the election. Mayor Simon already has announced that he will call the commission together early next week for the purpose of organizing and taking up the work before it. The plan of Mayor Simon is to have the proposed new charter completed and submitted to the voters as a historic landmark for years. not later than next Fall, the same to go into effect January 1 next, if ratified by the people

Rushlight Cheers Refused.

With rousing addresses by Tom Richardson and A. A. Bulley at an open-air meeting of 258 voters at Sellwood, Rughlight's home ward, last night the citizeus' committee concluded its short speechmaking campaign in support of Mayor Simon's candidacy. The meeting was the largest of the week and the audience proved attentive listeners. Early in the meeting Hitchings proposed three "Hat" cheers for Rushlight, but the response was so disappointing that he did not us his efforts to disturb the. speaking.

-"Back to the farm." is a (Special.)ery that has a real meaning in Walla Walls. More than two dozen families have left the city for their abandoned farms within the last two weeks. More have announced their intention of so doing and it is believed that within a the deserted homesteads will be reinhabited. More than a score of vacant houses in the city have been left by farmers who have gone back to their ranches and several city homes have been put on the market for sale. It is not the usual Summer exodus to the farms. It is the belief that the farm is a desirable place to live and the deserted farmhouses are to be full of life again after years of desertion.

OLD FORT TO BE SAVED Blockhouse Long Neglected at Goldendale Will Be Rebuilt.

GOLDENDALE, Wash, June 1 .-(Special.)-The old fort blockhouse, built in the early 50s and used as a place of refuge by the early settlers of Klickitat County during Indian War sens to draft a commission charter for days, was torn down a few years ago and removed to this city, where it has been neglected.

Now the Grangers of this county are arranging to have it reconstructed in the city park and the City Council has agreed to aid them in the enterprise. The building was located in the Spring Creek country a few mills west of this city. It is a log structure and can be rebuilt strong enough to stand An effort is being made to collect all data available relative to the old building which will be preserved with the building.

People Approve Bill.

"It seemed mutually profitable to extend the consideration of the tariffs of the two countries, already begun, to the point of a complete reciprocity agreement. Commissioners who had expert knowledge of the subject were appointed and after investigations and study and conferences that covered an entire year, an agreement was finally reached, which has been embodied in the bill which has passed the House and is pending in the Senate. The cordial approval throughout the country which the proposed agreement received when it was sent to Congress surprised even those who were responsible for its making, and I am surprised that further consideration of the bill has been delayed so long.
