

BORAH FIGHTING RECIPROCAL ACT

Idaho Senator Declares Canadian Treaty Will Work Great Injustice.

SCHEME FAVORS ONLY EAST

Attitude Will Complicate Republican Situation in State as Taft Is Popular, but Not as Strong as Junior Member.

By C. E. ARNETT. Boise, Idaho, June 11.—(Special.)—By way of defining his attitude in the Canadian reciprocity subject now before Congress, W. E. Borah, United States Senator from Idaho, has written a letter to an Idaho friend and it has been published in pamphlet form and a few copies are being passed around for consideration. Senator Borah, in this publication, comes out strongly and emphatically against Canadian reciprocity. For many reasons this attitude is of unusual concern in the politics of Idaho.

For instance, widespread publicity has been given the possibility of Borah being on the ticket of the National Republican party for Vice-President, as Taft's running mate. The fact that the President is strenuously favoring the reciprocal legislation; that Borah is opposing it; that Idaho Republicanism is all for Taft, presents an altogether ludicrous position. The fact is indisputable that Borah is even more popular as a United States Senator than is Taft as a President.

Reducing the situation from another angle, the Republicans of Idaho are not for Borah for Vice-President because of the very significant reason that they are for him for the United States Senate, as his own successor. His services are regarded as more beneficial to his party and to his state as a Senator than they would be as a Vice-President, even if some political reasoning pointed to Borah as the man. The natural inference of this situation leads to the logical conclusion that without regard to the President's favorability and the Senator's unfavorable views on the subject of Canadian reciprocity, Borah stands for enough other things agreeable to the ideas of the Republicans of the state to justify the conclusion of his success as his own successor in the Senate.

Taxation Should Be Equitable. "I am not agreeable," says the Senator in his open letter, "to vote for a proposition which puts the farmer's products upon the free list and keeps what the farmer buys on the dutiable list." Again referring to the products of the soil of Idaho, the Senator says: "If he is not permitted to buy cheaper when he is compelled to sell cheaper, then he must inevitably suffer, be forced from the farm into more profitable business, and Idaho, whose basic wealth is her agricultural interests, her fruitgrowers and stockraisers, must be one of the first to suffer."

Although always a protectionist, Senator Borah has for a long time disagreed with his party, or that portion of it represented by the machinery of the United States Senate, of which his colleague, Senator Hayden, is a distinguished type, on the matter of the operation of the protective tariff schedules.

COMMISSIONER SAYS BRIDGE COMPANY MADE OFFER. New City Body Upholds Ousted Commissioner's Choice in Span Specifications. TACOMA, Wash., June 10.—(Special.)—That one of the bridge building companies had offered him a bribe was the assertion made by Commissioner Owen Woods, at the municipal commission session today. Decision of the old pre-recall Council in the matter of hiring Waddell & Harrington to draw plans and specifications for a vertical lift bridge and basic bridge over the city waterway, and plans and specifications for a vertical lift bridge and a basic bridge over the Puyallup River was emphatically upheld by vote of the commission.

WALLOWA FOREST SLICED. One-Third of Reserve, 500,000 Acres, to Be Known as Minam. WALLOWA, Or., June 10.—(Special.)—Dividing the Wallowa National forest by cutting off 500,000 acres and naming it the Minam National forest, appointing Sherman A. Brown, at present assistant supervisor of the Wallowa National forest, as acting supervisor of the new division and setting July 1 as the date for the change, the Department of Agriculture completes a change contemplated for four years. The headquarters of the new forest will be maintained here for the present, and will probably occupy the same quarters with the supervisor of the Wallowa National forest. The division of the Wallowa National forest, which contains 1,200,000 acres, has been delayed only because of the increased expense in administering the affairs of the forest. The management has been so improved in the meantime that the two forests will be administered with no additional rangers, those now employed being divided between the two forests and patrolling practically the same ranges as at present. At least one additional clerkship will be created by the change. The dividing line will follow the entire length of the Minam River, cross a narrow divide and follow down the Imnaha River to the Coverdale station, and then through to success. The Brady defeat last year was the striking evidence of the fallacy of such ideas. From present-day observations, it appears that the prohibition question would again be in interest. Then there is the matter of revenue laws, a legitimate offspring of Governor Hawley's agitation throughout the state of the theory of a full cash valuation in the assessment of all property. Furthermore, the control of corporations of public-service nature will demand the attention of the people. These are all questions upon which men and women are inclined to think intensely. All these issues tend to make "cranks" out of a great many voters to the extent of overshadowing the otherwise natural political inclinations.

With the heavy increase in our population, the people are going to look carefully into the probability of good government, its close attention to the business of the people; open-handed publicity of all the affairs of state and the confining of the expenditures of the state to the actual necessities of all the departments.
