DAKLAND WALLOPS $20,000 BEAUTY

Bennie Henderson Pounded Hard In 8-6 Game in Which Beavers Are Losers.

MURRAY SPLITS HIS FINGER

Pertland Catcher May Be Out of Same for Some Time-Injury Causes Big Shift in Lineup. Everybody Has an Off Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24 .- It's corenation day for the San Franciscans, who, for the first time in two months. after a weary grind, with the Beavers setting the pace, are out in front, leading the league.

Today the Oaklands took a game with a four-run lead against them, banged Bennie Henderson, the $10,000 beauty, out of the box, and converted the score into an 8-to-6 victory. There was action every n rows with the umpire, a player tossed out of the situation for disputing a decision, a protest filed by Manager Harry Wolverton, all sorts of costly errors, and tailles hopping across the piate so fast that it was hard to keep track of Pernoll Also to Blame.

Henderson, whose chief fault was wildness, was not the only one to blame. Equally, Pernell suffered from unched hits and the errors at his back and more than once Welverton had it in mind to beach him and send in another twirler. The bandy-legged pitch-er straightened up under his burden a little further along in the game, but he gave his supporters a fright in the ninth when, with two down, the next two at but hit the ball for a couple of sharp singles. There was an accident also, and, as result of catching a foul tip on his finger, Catcher Tommy Murray, of the Beavers, is apt to be out of the game for some time. The backstop was hurt in the fourth inning. His finger was badly split from the force of the ball, and he writhed in pain on the ground in front of the grandstand, as the players rushed to his ausistance. A physi-rian bandaged the crippled hand, but refused to sew up the finger for several days to come.

The injury necessitated a sudden shifting in positions. Kuhn, who had been playing shortstop in place of the deposed Peckinpaugh, thrown out of the game by Hildebrand, was ordered to do the catching. Ryan was sent in to cover third; Tommy Sheehan filled in at short; Chadbourne moved to center, and Walter McCredle himself took up the position in right.

Everybody Has Off Day.

Everybody seemed to have an off day in the error line, but the second basemen were the chaps who fumbled the most. Cutshaw and Barry got a quartet of black marks apiece, and practically every miscue that they made counted in the gathering of runs. Hildebrand had many close decisions to give, and two of them that were rendered down at second base threatened to start small-sized riots.

The game started with runs and although it did not finish exactly in the same manner, there was more than enough doing. Pernoll suffered more knocks in that inning than in the balance of the innings. The ruction that resulted in the throwing of Peckinpaugh out of the came came about in the same inning. loffman, who had been hit by a pitched stole and was declared safe, Peckinpaugh took violent exception and tossed the ball on the ground to show how he felt about it. He was waved toward the clubhouse by Hildebrand The score: Portland-

KNIGHT AND WARRINER WIN

Katz and Ames Go Down to Defeat in Hard Match.

Overcoming steady playing and clever net work, R. R. Warinner and J. H. Knight yesterday won the annual Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club handicap doubles tennis tournament, defeating Everett Ames and Alma D. Katz. Four sets were required before the winner was decided.

Ames and Kats won the first set and the other team took the next three successive sets. All sorts of tennis was seen, several good rallies being part of the third set. Also much poor tennis was seen, six double faults being made in three games. The scores were 3-5, 7-5, 7-5, 6-3. The winning team was presented with two silver cups by the Multnomah Club. Prizes were also given for the runnersup. A. B. McAlpin, chairman of the Multnomah Club tennis committee, refereed the match.

MUNDORFF IN LEAD

Portland Player Heaviest Batter in League Now.

SWAIN IS CROWDED BACK

Coltrin, New Roadsters' Shortstop, Is Showing Great Form---Emil Frisk Is Ahead of Netzel and Now Heads Spokane List.

In the race for the batting honors in the Northwestern League, Mundorff, of Portland, has crowded ahead of Swain again and is now the real leader of Northwestern players. Knight, of Seattle; Blodt, of Tacoma, and Coltrin, of Portland, have started off at a terrifle pace, but because of their few times at bat cannot be ranked with the real leaders. Bues and Cruikshank, of Seattle, have been coming to the front at a rapid pace the last few weeks, and the race between the four big slug gers is so close that a single day's ex-ceptional work with the stick might swing any one of them into the lead.

Emil Frisk has passed Netzel and now leads the Spokane team in bat-ting. Netzel's figures are dropping a ting. little, but he still hangs on to a spien-did average. Kippert has been doing some fine work lately. Zimmerman is iumping. Fourteen Northwestern League bats men are in the charmed 300 class an five or six others are very close. Th five or six others are very close. The batting this year is the heaviest it has ever been since the old days of fluelsman. McIntyre, Ward, "Home-run Joe" Marshall and others. Netzel retains his leadership in runs scored, with Cooney, his teammate and "side kick" his nearest rival. Frisk leads the long-distance hitters with a total of 25 extra bases, gleaned from 19 doubles, eight triples and three home-runs. Mundorff and Bucs alone are in "Silent Emil's" class for fice hitting. In team batting Spokane leads with the remarkable average of .208. That is the highest average any Northwestern League team has ever upheld as late as the middle of June, in six or eight years. Seattle leads the Indians in extra base hitting, but that is be-cause of the short fence in Dugdale's chicken-coop. Vancouver is the near-est rival in team batting and leads all teams in stolen bases and sacrifice

"SAFE ZONE" FOR LONG DRIVES CUT OFF BY FENCE.

Only Three Homers Made on Los Angeles Field Outside of Obstructed Area.

LOS ANGELES, June 24-(Special.)-Hereafter home runs at Washington-street ball park will be as scarce as the proverbial ben's teeth.

In fact, it will be surprising if there is another homer made inside the grounds this season, while to put the ball over the fence is a herculean feat that is seidom accomplished. A fence, that is supposed to spell the death knell of home runs inside the park, was early last week constructed from the south end of the bleachers to the right field extra base hitting. Bues leads in home fence, closing up the area into which the runs with seven. Johnny Bassey, of ball has always rolled when the drive went for four sacks inside the grounds. Tacoms, having six to his credit. Mundorff leads in two-base hits, with Kip. This fence is comparatively low, and in three-base hits.

Harrison, Vancouver's fleet outfielder, is leading the veterans Pug Bennett, for base stealing honors by the narrow margin of one base, and Jimmy Adams is close up with 25; then comes Cooney, of Spokane.

Adams, of Vancouver, leads in sacritice hitting. beyond the south end of the right field bleachers, and out of the umpire's sight. With the ball out of sight, but still in-side the grounds, there always was a side the grounds, there always was a chance for an argument or the charge that another sphere had been substituted, and it was deemed best to close up this avenue of escape, even at the expense of the delectable homer.

But two players have ever driven the ball beyond the confines of the new park. Karger of the Red Sox turned the trick is a substitute as and during the in an exhibition game, and during the last Vernon-Sacramento series Danzig dropped the ball beyond the center field fence. Jerry Sheehan made fence. Jerry Sheehan made almost as long a drive, but the ball's flight was interrupted by a feative youngster who chanced to be perched on the fence. Owing to this, the "ump" allowed Jerry to complete the circuit unmolested.

Bloomfield Puts Too Many Over on Lynch's Athletes in Fast Game.

PITCHER SCORES 2 BY HIT

Fifth Inning Proves Fatal to Tigers and Discouragement Such as to End in Zero for Visitors--Annis and Jensen Twirl Today.

"Parson" Bill Bloomfield pulled the bottom out of the kalsomine keg yesterday and when the splattering was over Tacoma's highly-frescoed athletes were on the Diaz end of an 8-to-0 score. Portland, of course, had the Madero side of the argument, six runs of the total piling up in one frame, the fifth, when Schmutz' classy cogs gave way before a 12-ton load of boots and bingles.

The Roadsters really should have celebrated their fifth win of the series by a 10-to-zero ring-up but Catcher Bradley omitted the formality of touching first base after bringing in two runs in the seventh by a two-base swat and was called back for Coroner's examination by Umpire Baumgarten. Bradley likewise lost his hit. Schmutz, for the Lynchville lonesomes, was twirling great ball up to the fifth inning cataclysm, in fact not a single hit or run had marred the evenness of keel. Rockenfield then sparked the fuse by a had heave on Measor's grounder. Pettigrew and Coltrin both laid down beautiful bunts and all hands went safe filling the pews with nobody down.

Bloomfield Cries for Fame.

Bloomfield here put in a claim for fame by singling past second and scorling two. Mundy drove safely to right scoring another. Casey gobbled off the first sack safely on Coleman's erratic peg to Fisher and Stovall and Williams joined the cannoneering by singles to right scoring Mundorff and Casey. Six classes. clangs.

The other two followed in the seventh when Casey tripled to deep center, and was pushed down the sluiceway on singles by Williams and Pettigrew, Manager Nick crossing in the blow-upe Casey and Coltrin were the silver knots on Portland's Pine board. Casey thrilled the stands by one of the greatest one-hand catches ever seen on the local grounds, when he robbed Coleman of a line double in the third inning. Coltrin executed a beautiful double play in the eighth by stabbing Morse's drive near the second sack, forcing Rockenfield by touching the bag and heaving to Williams in time to catch the batter.
