MAN HAS WIFE'S MOTHER DEPORTED

DAUGHTER JOINS IN REFUSAL TO RECEIVE AGED WOMAN.

Officials Have No Recourse in Case of Immigrant Likely to Become Public Charge.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Among the passengers who sailed from here today for Liverpool on the steamer Moya was a mother-in-law who had been "turned down" by her son-in-law, and was being deported by the National Government because she was likely to become a public charge.

When the woman arrived here last Monday to make her home with her daughter, the son-in-law protested to the immigration authorities against her being landed.

In his formal protest he declared the mother-in-law, who had visited him before, to be a perpetual troublemaker, objectionable in many ways, and that it was impossible for him to live under the same roof with her. His wife joined him in the formal objection to her mother.

The mother-in-law being well along in years, and the son-in-law refusing to receive her, there was nothing left for the immigration officials to do but deport her.

WIFE IS THRUST ASIDE

Woman Gets Divorce Because Spouse Wanted to Pose as Single Man.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—(Special.)—"You'll spoil everything if you don't leave immediately, for I've been passing myself off as a single man," Joseph Petrich told his wife when she unexpectedly visited him in Spokane, after she had not seen him for nearly a year. She suppressed her tears with difficulty as she related in divorce court here how she had greeted him after their separation, and he had repudiated her.

The couple were married more than 20 years ago. He was a theatrical man. Their life was apparently happy, being filled with just enough small disagreements to make it interesting, until he left for a trip to Arizona. He then went to Salt Lake City, New York and other Eastern places, and finally bought a moving-picture theater in Spokane.

She thought it would be a fine surprise to visit him unexpectedly, and was heartbroken when he told her she must go away and get a divorce. She got it.

SHORT BUSHELS MUST GO

Fruit and Vegetables to Be Sold by Weight in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(Special.)—Fruit and vegetables of many sorts will be sold here by weight instead of by measure after January 1, 1912. The berry boxes with bottoms in the center will disappear from Chicago at the same time, as will also "trade custom" bushels that contain but seven-eighths of a bushel, if several ordinances being prepared by Peter Zimmer, city sealer, are passed when the City Council convenes, as seems certain from a canvass of the Aldermen.

CONGRESSMEN MAKE PLANS

Oregon Delegation Will Quit Capital When Session Ends.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Aug. 19.—With adjournment decided upon for next Tuesday, the Oregon delegation in Congress is preparing to leave Washington. Senator Bourne will not visit Oregon during the recess, but will start on a lecture tour through the East.

Senator Chamberlain is still undecided, but will leave the capital soon, either for home or a vacation in the East. Representative Hawley will leave Thursday night for Salem and expects to superintend the planting of a large orchard on his farm near the state capital. Representative Lafferty plans to leave Wednesday, and declared today that he would go direct to Portland.

STATEHOOD GIVEN WITH CONDITIONS

Arizona Voters Must Amend Recall.

RESIDENT'S OBJECTION MET

New Mexico Constitution to Be Modified, as Well.

VOTE IS NOT CONSIDERED

Flood-Smith Resolution, Previously Passed by Senate, Adopted by House Without Division, After Spirited Debate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico now awaits only the perfunctory approval of President Taft. The Flood-Smith resolution admitting these territories into the Union with the judiciary recall feature of the Arizona constitution eliminated to meet the objection which caused President Taft to veto the original statehood bill was passed by the House today without the formality of a rollcall.

Having been passed by the Senate in identical language, the resolution will go to the White House as soon as the Vice-President and Speaker formally attach their signatures.

Vetoed Bill Abandoned. No attempt was made in the House to pass over the President's veto the original bill which contained the judicial recall provision.

The joint resolution provides for Arizona's admission with the constitution adopted by the convention of July 20, 1910, and later ratified by the Arizona voters, upon the "fundamental condition" that article 3 of the constitution relating to the recall of public officers shall be held and construed not to apply to judicial officers and that the Arizona people shall give their assent to that construction.

The President is required within 30 days after approval of the measure to certify the fact to the Governor of Arizona, who within 30 days thereafter must proclaim an election, to be held between 60 and 90 days after the proclamation, to vote upon article 3 and to vote for state and other officers.

Voters Must Ratify. If a majority of the voters ratify the exception of judicial officers from the recall, such a construction will be made part of the Arizona constitution. The President will then issue a proclamation and upon its issuance Arizona will become a state.

The resolution admits New Mexico into the Union with provisions making its constitution easier of amendment. The resolution was passed after a spirited two hours' debate. Representative Flood, of Virginia, chairman of the territories committee, declared that the Democrats favored passing the original bill over the President's veto, but knowing that such an attempt would be useless, they had decided to take the step that would insure immediate admission of the territories to the Union. He and the other speakers insisted that the question at issue was not the judiciary recall, but whether the people had the right to make laws to suit themselves so long as they did not violate the Federal Constitution.

Judges' Recall Denounced.

He said that before the original bill was drafted the sub-committee having it in charge had called upon the President and he had given them an intimation that he would disapprove any of the provisions later included in the measure.

The Republicans, headed by Leader Mann and ex-Speaker Cannon, lauded President Taft's veto and denounced the judiciary recall as destructive of Republican form of government. Representative Lemrot, of Wisconsin, (Concluded on Page 2)

TIGHT HOLD URGED ON PANAMA CANAL

JOHN BARRETT DECLARES FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL.

Spokane Advised to Be Vigilant for Trade Opportunities When Big Waterway Is Opened.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—Control of all facilities of the Panama Canal should be under governmental direction, in the opinion of John Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American Union, as expressed before the Chamber of Commerce today. In addition, Mr. Barrett would place the coaling, repairing and equipping of all vessels passing through it under Government direction, "so that the shipping of the world will know that it will not be handicapped by the control of private interests."

"Colonel Goethals," said Mr. Barrett, "should have an opportunity to train a large force of able men to operate the canal so that no mishap will follow its opening and discourage its use by shipping. The plan for 'one man power or administration' should be now authorized."

Mr. Barrett urged Spokane not to rest on the laurels and seeming advantages resulting from the recent freight rate decision. "You must remember equally your fortunate position in being only a comparatively short distance from the great terminal points on the Pacific Ocean, which will receive and send out the commerce which will go through the Panama Canal to countries affected by it," he added.

RAILROADS TO SAVE ELK

Free Transportation to 10,000 to New Range Is Offered.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 19.—Ten thousand elk from the Jackson Hole country are to be shipped to Colorado and distributed over that state, the railroads having agreed to transport the animals free of charge.

The serious difficulty of providing for the animals in Jackson Hole during the winter months makes it urgent that they be distributed over a wider range. Thousands of elk died from starvation in that country last winter.

SHUSTER TO QUIT POST

Anglo-Russian Action Makes American's Position Untenable.

TEHERAN, Persia, Aug. 19.—W. Morgan Shuster, of Washington, D. C., authorizes the statement that he is prepared to resign his position as Treasurer-General of the Persian government, as the Anglo-Russian action regarding his appointment of Major C. B. Stokes as head of the treasury department has made the effective occupation of his own post impossible. There is no confirmation of the report that ex-Sheriff Mohammed Ali Mirza, who is at the head of an invading force, has been assassinated.

Railroad Unions of Cheyenne Make Positive Declaration.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 19.—A committee representing the railroad unions of Cheyenne today made a statement that there is no grievance among the Union Pacific employees here which can possibly form the basis of a strike.

The committee was appointed especially to correct an erroneous impression prevalent with reference to conditions here.

ASK COUNT ABOUT 'SALE'—MRS. INMAN

She Says Jealousy Led to "Malicious Lies."

TWO TOGETHER IN CHICAGO

Czaky Frequent Caller Upon Portland Divorcee.

BOTH SILENT AS TO PLANS

Woman From Whom Oregon Capitalist Secured Freedom After Five Weeks of Married Life Incensed by Reports.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Maud Howard Bryan Inman, erstwhile fiancée of Count Kaiman Czaky, Austrian nobleman, employed as a clerk in a Chicago bank, and revealed as the divorced "Five Weeks Bride" of R. D. Inman, a millionaire lumberman, of Portland, Or., may yet attach the prefix of Countess to her already lengthy name.

Mrs. Inman today in her apartment at 5245 Lakeview avenue, told of her marriage to the Western man of millions, the divorce that followed, of taking up her residence in Chicago, where the Count is, but refused to commit herself on whether her next marital trip would be made with the Austrian nobleman at the helm. She declared they were the best of friends.

Jealousy Blamed for Stories.

To the jealous hate of an enemy, Mrs. Bryan Inman laid the blame for the stories circulated about her friendliness with the Count, even after her marriage to Inman, and about other sensational facts alleged to have happened during the last two years.

"I know the name of the person responsible for the malicious lies told about me," said Mrs. Bryan Inman. "This is not the time to make the name public. Some day I will reveal it and it will create a stir."

It had been strongly rumored that the Count, to whom she was at one time officially engaged, had "sold" his fiancée to millionaire Inman for a price that would buy several perfectly good and ancient Austrian family estates.

Ask Count, Says She. When the divorcee was asked about such a marital bargain she looked keenly at her questioner and answered: "Please ask the Count about that. That is purely his personal business."

"Are you going to marry the Count after all these stormy happenings?" Mrs. Bryan Inman was asked. She smiled a moment, shook her head, and answered:

"Really that is a question I cannot answer at this time. It is very personal, not to say impertinent."

30 GIVE SKIN TO SAVE ONE

Fellow Laborers Make Sacrifice That Comrade May Live.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—Through gifts of skin from 36 fellow laborers, Rex Hart, with half his body seared by hot metal from the Tacoma smelter, will recover. This was announced today by his physicians following an operation performed yesterday.

Thirty fellow workmen of Hart appeared before the surgeons yesterday and each gave pieces of cuticle cut from his arm. The live skin thus grafted is expected to heal the spots on which it was placed and if all goes well Hart will be able to leave the sanitarium in a few weeks.

Hart was burned six weeks ago. Hot metal splashing from a large vat almost covered the exposed part of his body and his clothes caught afire.

DOUBLE LIFE LIKED BETTER THAN WIFE

TACOMA MAN CHARGED WITH FLEEING INSANE MATE.

Lawyer Says P. M. Ruthfield, Figure in Romance, Is Really M. L. Lipson, of Boston.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—That Philip M. Ruthfield, formerly of this city and now a successful realty dealer with handsome offices in the Provident building in Tacoma, is in reality M. L. Lipson, of Boston, was the declaration of Attorney Philip Tworoger to Judge Myers, in the Superior Court this morning, in presenting a petition to vacate a decree obtained by Ruthfield here in 1908, divorcing him from Mamie Lipson, then in a Boston insane asylum.

Tworoger said that Ruthfield, who is now in Tacoma, admits his identity but will fight the case on the ground that his divorce was valid. The Seattle lawyer followed up his petition to vacate this morning by obtaining an order temporarily tying up all Lipson's property in King and Pierce counties and moneys in Seattle and Tacoma banks. Ruthfield, or Lipson, is also cited to show cause before Judge Main on September 1 why he should not be compelled to pay Mrs. Lipson alimony for the support of herself and his children now in Boston.

Advices from Boston say that Lipson left there in 1907. In that year Ruthfield appeared here. While in this city he obtained in the King County Superior Court a divorce from Mamie Lipson, alleging desertion. Lipson used his own name and said in an affidavit that he mailed a copy of the summons and complaint to his wife's last known Boston address. Tworoger's certified papers from that city show that Mrs. Lipson was then in an insane asylum, that Lipson knew the name and address of her guardian, and that he frequently communicated with his children through his brother.

On this alleged false affidavit Tworoger seeks to set aside the King County decree.

Ruthfield was one of the parties to a romantic marriage in the Archibald Hotel last Easter Monday, when he made Miss Florence A. Vogelman, of Oakland, Cal., an actress, Mrs. Ruthfield.

WALNUT GROWERS HAPPY

Big Yield and High Prices Promise Valuable Harvest.

EUGENE, Or., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—That this will be the best year in the history of Oregon walnut growing, is the statement made by Lane County walnut growers. According to careful estimates, an average crop of over 50 pounds to the tree is expected, and the price is firm at 17 to 18 cents. Lane County orchards average 40 trees to the acre, which will mean an average yield of approximately 2000 pounds.

The walnut is well adapted to Lane County, and a large acreage has already been set out. The varieties grown here are the Franquette and the Mayette, both of which produce superior nuts.

OREGON PLEDGES CALIFORNIANS AID

Goodfellowship Rules at Big Banquet.

$500,000 FUND PROPOSED

Beaver State Publicity to Be Feature of Fair.

BUSINESS LEADERS TALK

Opportunity Offered Development of Coast Region by Panama-Pacific Exposition Told by Experts.

Co-operation Is Keynote.

Extending the hand of good-fellowship across the banquet board, representatives of the commercial bodies of Portland last night assured members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition of their loyal support and sincere co-operation in making the exposition a magnificent success. The visitors also received the tentative promise of an appropriation of $500,000 by this state for assembling and exhibiting a display of Oregon resources.

These were the results of an elaborate banquet at the Portland Commercial Club last night under the auspices of the Commercial Club, Chamber of Commerce and the Oregon Panama-Pacific Commission to 46 visiting members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. The banquet concluded an all-day's entertainment of the Californian visitors, and went a great way towards cementing a kindly feeling, unstrained by keen competitive conditions commercially, between the substantial representatives of the business interests of the two states attending the function.

Greetings Are Exchanged.

Harvey Beckwith, president of the Portland Commercial Club, presided as toastmaster and extended a cordial greeting of welcome, which was responded to by Captain William Matson, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Captain Matson confessed he had met with many surprises in a day's inspection of Portland, one of which was the conviction that the residence district of this city was without an equal on the Pacific Coast.

"Oregon's greatest need, present and future," declared Captain Matson, "is more population. You want more farmers, more tillers of the soil—men who will work your land and increase your production in view of the increased trade relations between Oregon and California and other markets of the land which are certain to follow the completion of the Panama Canal."

The principal speaker of the evening on behalf of the visitors was Colonel M. H. De Young, vice-president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission and proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle. With the other members of the party Mr. De Young said he had been impressed with the wonderful development of Portland, which, he said, could be traced very largely to the Lewis and Clark Exposition, held five years ago. He spoke of the stimulus such exhibitions prove in the growth and progress of any progressive city and predicted that if Portland kept pace with its present development, it would have a population exceeding 500,000 in 1915.

Celebration to Be Unique.

"The Panama-Pacific Exposition," said Mr. De Young, "will be different from any other exposition ever held in this country or any other country. It will be a celebration of an event of today—the greatest physical achievement in the world's history. To San Francisco as a result will be attracted thousands of people from all over the world.
