TAFT'S STATEHOOD IDEA IS APPROVED

Senate Adopts Flood-Smith Resolution, Paving Way for Two Territories.

RECALL OF JUDGES GOES

Arizona Must Eliminate Feature Affecting Judiciary-House Will Consider Measure Today-It Goes Then to White House.

WASHINGTON. Aug. 15. - Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona on a basis acceptable to President Taft was approved by the Senate Fridag through the provision of the Flood-Smith resolution presented by Senator William Alden Smith, chairman of the committee on territories.

The resolution was accounted, 52 to 8.

The resolution was as opted, 53 to 8, after a debate in which the House was charged with evading a vote on the President's statehood veto, and in which the Freeident was charged with trying to coerce the people of Arizona on the proposed recall of judges. The Senate measure will be considered in the House tomorrow and that body will be able to pass it, if it chooses to do so, without having to vote first on the repassage of the vetoed resolution.

The new resolution will go to the President tomorrow or Monday.

Rocall Feature Must Go.

The new resolution requires that Arizona shall eliminate from its new constitution the recall of judges provision before it shall be admitted to the Union. New Mexico is instructed to vote again on a change in its con-stitution designed to make that act more easily amendable, but it is not made a condition of New Mexico's statehood that the people approve the Senator Bristow, of Kansas, announced he would not support any other resolution until the House had acted on the vetoed measure. Chairman Flood, of the House territories committee, was in the Senate chamber most of the afternaon; and it was generally understood that House Democratic leaders were anxious for the opportunity of voting on the new resolution rather than to be on the new resolution rather than to be forced to vote on the vetoed one

Cabinet Men Hear,

During part of the debate, Attorney-General Wickersham, Postmaster-Gen-eral Hitchcock and Secretaries Stimson and Nagle were in the Senate cham-ber, Mr. Hitchcock listened while Senator Road, of Missouri, Democrat, criti-cised the President for trying to force Arizona to give up its recall of judges and read a telegram arraigning Mr. Hitchcock for his political activity in Arisona. The telegram read: "Phoenix, Arisona, Aug. 12, 1911.—

E. B. O'Neill, Washington: "It is a well-known fact that Hitchcock, during the campaign for the eletion of delegates to our constitutional convention, traveled over Arizona with different Federal officials, holding quiet little receptions at which plans were made for the defeat of the candidates who stood pledged for a progressive constitution. "The objection is not to the recall of declared Senator Reed. President, through his satellites and officeholders was unable to dictate the action of the people of Arisona and we find him now using his power to prevent the people of that state from heing admitted to the Union." Despite many objections to the resolution, all Democrats voted for it ex-cept Senators Bailey of Texas and Pomerene of Ohlo. The Republicans who voted against it were: Bourne, Oregon; Brandegee, Connecticutt; Bristow, Kansas; Clapp, Minnesota; Cummins, Iowa, and Heyburn, Idaho. Indignation Meeting Is Held Aboard Breakwater on Return From Coos Bay-Naval Militia Officers Not Acquainted With Discontent.

Dissatisfaction over insufficiency of rations, which they assert were the conditions that existed in the messrooms during the greater part of the recent cruise of the Boston, has determined members of the Oregon Naval Militia to make complaints and bring about an investigation. bout an investigation.

An indignation meeting of the men was held aboard the Breakwater Friday night on the return trip to Portland, and a committee was chosen to determine what steps should be taken. The meeting was not attended, according to the statements of the men, Clemens, steward on the Boston during the cruise, against Captain J. J. Reynolds, in command, who, he asserts, was intoxicated and unable to perform his duties at several times during the trip. Over a score of the men met Friday night at 410 Yeon building, at a meeting called by Wilbur LeGett, who went on the cruise as a hospital apprentice. Both men have seen regular service, Whitcom on the cruiser Chicago and Snyder on the Louisiana. While the rations were not as good as the men might have been used to, both men said that they were as good as the average ration one can expect in actual service.

"They are mostly ray men," said Whitcom, "who never saw actual service. They went out expecting a va-cation. Instead they found scaman's work and seaman's fare, neither of work and seaman's fare, helther of which they were used to. Because they were soft and not accustomed to the hard work or the scant, coarse food served them, they anturally felt that they were abused. I don't want to see them do anything rash, however, for they probably will injure themselves worse than they are aware of If they do."

If they do."

Thomas P. Clemens, the steward, made a full statement at the meeting of the conditions that he said he had observed upon the ship, and his statements were partially corroborated by others present at the meeting.

"Reynolds hired me on July 3," Clemens said, "to go on the cruise from Elliott's Restaurant in this city to act as steward, and to cook for the six as sieward, and to cook for the six regulars aboard the ship. Instead of filling the office for which I was hired, I was relegated to the position of a private walter in his own cabin, and acted as a sort of bartender to him. He made no mention of the conditions in the seamen's mess, and did not apamong the men until last Sunday night.

"The rations were so had that the men got in the habit of hissing and groaning at mess time. In the meantime, while I was waiting on Captain Reynolds, A. J. Capron, the paymaster, had appointed another man to act as steward, but when he called me in and asked me what was the trouble among the men, Captain Reynolds did not know anything about this arrange-ment. I was told that he should look over the bill of fare served the men each day, but to my knowledge, he did not do so until Sunday evening.

"On Saturday evening, at Astoria, Captain Reynolds entertained some of the officers from the mosquito fleet in his cabin, and during this dinner kept me and four of the men busy in the pantry serving liquor to his party from 6:30 o'clock until nearly midnight. Captain Reynolds became in-toxicated so that he was not able to leave the cabin, treated me abusively and when I couldn't uncork champagne bottles fast enough to suit him, ordered me to break the necks of them. The four boys I had assisting me in the pantry and who were witnesses of the whole affair were all under age, and were considerably shocked by the affair.

"I kept count of the liquor that was consumed by the party of ten, and during the evening I opened 19 pints of champagne, 35 bottles of beer, four bottles of bourbon whisky, one quart of cockinils and four quarts of imported French wine. rted French wine.
"The fellows who were with me in the pantry were Frank Stepnick, of Montavilla; Earnest Hunke, age 16, of 440 Miller avenue; Jack Kavanaugh, aged 17, of 897 Missouri avenue; Henry Strathouse, age 17, of 441 East Yambill, and Norman Patterson, aged 19, of 449 East Yambill. I was so disgusted with the whole job that I have resigned from my position.

"Saturday night was not the only occasion on which I had experience with Captain Reynolds' drinking. During the whole cruise he used to ring for the boy at any time and send out for me to come in and bring him a settle of which you comething else to bottle of whisky or something else to drink. The party he held on Saturday night was the worst affair, however, that I witnessed on the trip.

"As to the rations," he said, "they were scanty and not very good, and I don't blame the men for complaining about them."

Officers of the Naval Militia, who went on the crulse, while not prepared to make an official statement last night, were unanimous in declaring that the charges made against Cap-tain Reynolds by Clemens were preposterous. The rations served the men cruise were regular navai rations they say.

Lieutenant-Commander Wolf, chief surgeon, sald that after the second day out, the rations, which had been the same as are served in the regular Navy, were increased, not, however, on account of any complaint of the men.
"The officers may have had better fare than the men," he said, "but they paid for their own mess out of their own pockets. It was not secured with "As to Captain Reynolds, I can vouch

The alleged shooting by A. J. Capron refused to be quoted concerning the evidence he will furnish the court when the case is brought up before Judge Bell. Porter charges in the complaint filed with the clerk of the Justice Court that Capron on July 30 shot the animal with a .22 caliber rifle, fatally wound-ing it. Capron says that he did not shoot the dog, knowing it was Porter's rather than that of any other neighbor, but that since the case has been filed, he will show evidence calculated to discredit Porter.

Porter says he does not know the reason of the shooting and asserts that there has been no offense given Capron by either himself or the dog. He will fight vigorously, he says, to get the full amount of the damages asked, asserting that the dog was val-
