knows how to pitch; the speed of Southpaw Ables, of the Oakland club; the curves of Charley Baum, of Sacramento: the control of Tom Seaton, of Portland; the batting of Steen, who, in addition, is chosen by many as the best twirler in the league; the wonderful arm of Henley of San Francisco, or Pernoll of the Oaks, and the baserunning of Browning of San Francisco, or Leverenz of Los Angeles, whose work on the paths brought in the winning tally in the first game last Sunday.

Then take a look at the ideal catcher. First we have a backstop with Hogan may not be the best backstop in the league by a wide margin, but he possesses a great deal more gray matter than he gets credit for; second, a player with Tommy Murray's steely arm; next the batting of Ira Thomas, of the Sacramento team, who goes to Hoston again this Fail; the throwing of Herry of San Francisco; the base running of Kuhn of Portland, and the superb receiving of Mitze of the Oaks, one of the foremost backstops on the Coast.

Portland Leader Hopes to Capture Series With Oakland and Sacra-

BY W. J. PETRAIN. This afternoon marks the final appearance here this season of J. Patsy O'Rourke and his Sacramento club, and it also means the last of the Beavers for a couple of weeks, as McCredle's league leaders are off for a fortnight's session in California at the conclusion of this afternoon's affray.

The coming series with Oakland will undoubtedly prove a factor in the race for the flag. If the Oaks reverse the score expected by McCredie they stand a good chance of taking the lead, and it would be up to the Beavers to do some consecutive winning to get back into first place. Seven games will be played during the coming week, and if Portland should win the odd game the pennant can be said to be in sight, for the next time Portland meets the Oaks will be on the Beavers' home grounds.

Following the coming series with Oakland, McCredle and his braves march upon Sacramento, which seems like a cinch for the Beavers every time these clubs meet. Sacramento has not won a series from Portland since coming into the league, and this season the best the Senators have been able to do with the Benvers has been to get two games out of six on one or two occasions. After the two weeks in the Southland, the Beavers will return home for the final home stand, when they will meet the Vernon, Oakland and San Francisco clubs in succession.

"Knockers" Arc Busy.

Some "knockers" have written to McCredie and saying that Ryan is fighting the "booze." If he is, let us hope he keeps it up, for he is hitting the better than he ever did in his life. Buddy is leading all of the Coast League batsmen by a wide margin, and he is behaving himself as well, which means that he will continue to lead the siuggers of the league to the end of the season, despite his crippled hand. Artie Krueger and Chester Chadbourne have been gradually increasing their percentages and if they keep up their present gaits they may get into their present gaits they may get into Ables and Gregory Stars.

Ables and Gregory, of the Oakland team, continue to be the premier pitchers of the Pacific Coast League when it comes to winning games. Tom Seaton, of Portland, has a remarkable record. He has pitched 33 games, of which he has won 18 and lost 14 and tied one. This of itself is not much of a record, but the fact that he has pitched nine five-hit games, five four-hit games, two two-hit games, and one one-hit game is the remarkable feature, for a summary reveals that he has pitched 17 games in which he has held the opposing team to

CINCINNATI, Aug. 26.-The Cincin nati Reds are to have one of the bes grand stands of any around the cir cuit. The Cincinnati management ha definitely decided that it will erect a new stand during the Fall and Winter. The architect who has designed the new stand has visited all the other structures built within the past few years and from each has gathered ideas that he will put into effect in Cincinnati. All the architects who de-signed the latest structures have passed upon his plans and declare that he has designed the finest grand stand in the country. The plans are all drawn and estimates made and there is nothing to do now but let the contracts and begin work. It is quite likely that the con-to a close.
