E. H. Misner, general organizer of the International Machinists' Union, said the men felt now that there would be no strike.

Officials of the road here, complying with orders from headquarters, made farther reductions in the forces on the merhanical departments. In all, 200 men were laid off. The shops were closed today, Saturday work having been suspended since the order became effective, reducing the working time to eight hours, five days a week Other reductions were made in the force of workmen in California and Nevada towns. Twenty-two mechanics, three blacksmiths and three helpers were laid off. The shops at Bakersfield. There remain only five machinists in the hig building. Among the men laid off are some who held places near the top on the seniority list. The force at Sacramento has been reduced by from 20 to 13 per cent. Scarcity of work is the reason given. Thirty-two men, half the force at Dunamuir, were laid off indefinitely and those remaining were put on a nine-hour day, six days a week. The full force had been working eight hours a day, five days a

The men at Sparks, Nev. have been told they will be put on an eight-hour, five-day schedule. The vote among the union men here is believed to have been in favor of a walkout.

FACTS WHOLLY IGNORED

President Says Bills, Prepared in Hope of Veto, Would Have Cast Discredit on Congress Responsible for Them.

(Continued From First Page.) House by Mr. Underwood, the Democratic leader, with the statement that it was a free trade bill and was not intended to provide protection to the woolen industry, but that the 20 per cent tax which was placed on raw wool imported into this country was made necessary as a revenue measure by the prospect of a deficit in the National revenues.

"This was a most profound error, made by Mr. Underwood, through a mistake in adding up the columns of the estimated deficit, as suggested, there is in reality a surplus of $40,-000,000. Though this error was made known to him, the 20 per cent tax on raw wool was, nevertheless, retained. "The measure then passed as a free trade measure to the Senate of the United States, where, being defeated, the Democrats and the so-called Republican insurgents united in passing as a substitute the amendment of a bill prepared by Senator La Follette on the floor without reference to or investigation by any committee. The bill went to conference and emerged after a further compromise providing a duty of 19 per cent on raw wool and an average of 49 per cent on woolen manufactures. Bill Unnaturally Conceived.

"This compromise was adopted. Thus the bill is seen to be a compromise be tween avowed free traders and avowed protectionists, a bill conceived in an unnatural alliance, a bill, the product of political log-rolling for the purpose of securing its passage, a bill framed in ignorance of the exact effect of its operation and a bill that presents only those methods in its adoption which had been generally condemned in the making of previous tariff bills.

Mr. Underwood and Mr. Clark, in the House, and Mr. La Follette and his asociates in the Senate had earlier been conspicuous in the senate had earlier occu-ronspicuous in the support of the measure, which was avowedly adopted for the purpose of securing scientific information to assist in revisions of the tariff. Indeed, they earnestly depre-cated any future revision without an eccurate knowledge of the facts. Lovelorn Girl Has Quarrel With

"But now, in the opportunity presented by the special session and in a desire to 'play politics,' and gratify what was supposed to be a popular desire for the reduction of duties, they not hesitate to adopt all the al-ed defective methods of previous iff revision which they had de-Landlady Hears Groans and Police nounced, and to reject as entirely un-worthy of consideration the suggestion of delay until investigation by an impartial board should be had.

Little Care Exercised.

"No tariff bill within any one's recollection has ever been passed with so little care. They declined to wait 90 days to hear a report of a full investigation on schedule K, which the previ-ous Congress by a united vote of the Democrats and Republicans, including the insurgents, had directed to be made on the first of December. It is true hours in the life of 19-year-old Lou Hanlon, living at 906 South Grand ave-nue. The man in the case is C. R. that this statutory direction was specifically made to a Tariff Board created under a bill which ultimately failed of passage, although supported by all the gentlemen who were prominent in the passage of this woolen bill. "Still that same Congress gave me money enough to create a board to do the same work. It is a board of exactly the same personnel as that which the tariff commission would have had, for on it I have put three Republicans and two Democrats, and made it a non-partisan board in the sense that the tariff commission bill required. Is a board that in every respect is the same as the statutory tariff commission, except that it is not permanent, and has not the power to summon witnesses, and this it finds unnecessary, because it can se-cure all the information it needs with-

Confidence Not Deserved.

"It is the same board which Messrs. Clark and Underwood and Senator La Foliatte and his associates were de-manding. I submit that the Congres-sional history of this legislation, taken with the provious inconsistent positio... of Mr. Underwood and Mr. Clark, Mr. of Mr. Underwood and Mr. Clark, Mr. La Follette and his associates, is enough to show why the wool bill ought not to have been signed, and it is enough to convince the people of this commonwealth that the party in power in the Lower House and the combination which was temporarily in power in the Upper House, ought not to receive from them a vote of confidence.

The two other revenue measures were really impromptu, and were so loosely drawn that to have put them on the statute books would have been a serious reflection upon the Congress re-sponsible for them. They would have oduced the utmost confusion in the produced the utmost confusion in the collection of the revenues, would have made very different changes in the rates from those which the authors of the bills intended, and were certainly not measures that any Congress would have been willing to be responsible for if they had been framed with a bonatide nursease or expectation of making dent of the Logan Academy of Fine Arts, and Mrs. Logan, secretary of the Institution, who came here about two years ago from Portland, have disappeared from Los Angeles, leaving more than a score of creditors and debts agreementing $10.000.
