Aftention Is Needed.

Thelieve that the states of this untry and the young lawyers of this untry abouid devote their attention country should devote their attention to a constant discussion and pressure upon the Legislatures for cutting short judicial procedure and expediting justice. It is the one thing, in my judgment, that is more easily reached and more needed under our Government than any other.

Trial by jury is a good thing it than any other.

"Trial by jury is a good thing. It brings into the administration of justice the people and in a popular government they feel safer. But trial by jury, my friends, was stated in the Constitution as a trial by jury of the facts under inspiration of a judge that had the power to tell the jury what the law was, and had the nower to hold the courtroom under his control and not let it be taken away by the counsel for the prosecution or the counsel for the prosecution or the counsel for the defense. And yet the popular suspicion of the judges has been such as to take away from the judges the power they had under the English system, that we have copied.

More Power Needed. to be toward giving the judges more to be toward giving the judges more power, I know it is proposed to make a short cut, and cut his head off without any reason, just because the people wish it, under the theory of a judicial recall. I do not agree that the court should be killed, and that is what I think you are doing if you make every tenure of office dependent on an elec-

It is not pecessary that we should have an impeachment by the Legislature if that is a clumsy method, as it is. We can have some other method of investigating the qualifications of judges, and if they don't fill the measure, to remove them. Have some sert of judicial hearing in which the facts shall be considered.

In his speech tonight President Taft declared that attacks made upon the tariff board were not candid criticisms tariff board were not candid criticisms of that body's work based on the showing made, but "came from the thoughtess heat of political controversy and sught to have no weight with unbiased friends of the public weal."

The issue which has arised in respect to the wisdom and propriety of the veto of the three tariff bills which passed Congress at the last session and were presented to the Executive for signature has brought into greater pruminence than ever before the question of the necessity for a tariff board to advise the Executive and Congress as to the facts in reference to the present operation of an existing tariff and the future operation of a proposed future operation of a propose the future operation of a proposed lariff.

The heated discussion that followed the passage of the Payne bill developed among the people of this country a deep feeling that never again ought tariff legislation be attempted without a fairer and more impartial investigation than had been possible under the system which prevailed in the making of the McKinley bill, the Wilson bill, the Dingley bill, and the Payne bill. These bills were prepared by men of great ability and large experience, but they were members of Congress. The investigation devoted to the work did not exceed more than a few months, the witnesses who were called were generally interested in the matter and prome to give a colored view of the facis in reference to the protection needed, the tariff itself was a complicated matter, the terms used were not easily understood, and while the question was of the utmost importance to the people at large had little opportunity to know what the changes were which were being getually effected, and what their operation would be stiher upon the lindustries protected or upon the cost of living to the consumbing public.

Ing public. Through a provision in the Payne Through a provision in the Payne bill, I was able to appoint a board of three, and with appropriations furnished by Congress to direct them to make a glossary of the tariff, or an encyclopedia, by which any layman might inform himself as to the meaning of the taring in the tariff, and as to might inform himself as to the meaning of the terms in the tariff and as to actual ad valorem rates imposed, although specific rates were provided, and all the other facts enabling one to take up a tariff and intelligently to study its meaning.

Permanent Board Defeated.

"The movement for the permanent organization of a tariff commission, after the passage of a bill for that purorganization of a tariff commission, after the passage of a bill for that purpose was put through both Houses, failed by reason of a filibuster and the shortness of the last session of the sixty-first Congress. Sufficient monsy was given me, however, to continue the board which I had already appointed. I increased its membership by two, in prefer to make it a non-partisan board, and I directed it to do the work that the hill which failed had prescribed for the permanent tariff board to be appleinted thereunder. At the instance of a Democratic Senator, the permanent tariff board in an appropriation hill which is now law, was directed if established to make a report on Schedule K on December I next. I issued an order to the tariff board, newly constituted to prepare a report on Schedule K and Schedule I, the woolen and the cotton schedules, by that data, which bring in the reports at the opening of the regular session of Congress.

The order to secure an adoption of the regular session at this special session. At this special session. At this special session of Congress.

The order to secure an adoption of the canadian reciprocity treaty, I called a special session. At this special session of the condition of the changes which were proposed, and that they ought to await the coming in of the report, in December, when we should have full information at least on the question of wool and woolens and cotion manufactures. There were other grounds for withholding my approval from the bills, which are set forth in the messages, but for the present I do not wish to consider them. The mere fact that in the case of certain schedules there ought to be reductions was not a sufficient reason for insking any kind of a reduction. Revenue measures of this sort, in which the protective principle has heretofore been recognized and enforced, have a direct bearing upon the business and prosperity of the country, and a substantial change in the rates ought not to be made without an earnest inquiry as to the effect that may be find upon the industries affected.

Board Net Expert.

Board Not Expert.

The tariff board has been referred to sometimes as a board of experts on the tariff. This is hardly a correct description. It would be impossible to secure a board all the members of which had expert knowledge upon all the subjects of the tariff, for the 14 ur 15 schedules are very broad in their scope and include much of what is manufactured or produced in the world. Indeed, it is by no means clear that it would be of advantage to have in the board itself men who are experts upon the making and sale of particular articles mentioned in the tariff. It is far better to have in the board men who are in the habit of making investigations, who are in the habit of calculating costs, who are in the habit of calculating costs, who are in the habit of digesting and analyzing great collections of evidence. I put at the head of this board Professor Henry C. Emery, upon the recommendation of the presidents of a number of universities who were consuited.

The board is a board of the highest intelligence and ability, and well qualified by their previous experience to act as investigators, analyzers of evidence, and judges of issues of fact. They are Board Not Expert.

as investigators, analyzers of evidence, and judges of issues of fact. They are under instructions to draw their conclusions without respect to their effect, and I venture to say that there is no board in the country less likely to be influenced by political or other improper considerations than the tariff board as it is now constituted.

"It is said with respect to the Tariff Board that its investigations are not to as investigators, analyzers of evidence

Board that its investigations are not to be relied upon, because it must secure its information from interested parties. and that no information is available to it that is not available directly to the ways and means committee, and that the committee can secure testimony of such people more effectively than the Tariff Board. Such a statement falls entirely to recognize the real char-acter of the investigations of the Tariff Board. Material secured by that board is not in the nature of testimony of different parties examined as to what they think on any of these facts. It is in the result of an examination of the books and records of producers and manufacturers and a tabulation from manufacturers and a tabulation from these by the expert agents of the board. In short, it is the substitution, of records compiled from the books of the concerns for the testimony of indi-

"I do not contend that the tariff can be taken out of politics, in the sense that it will never be made the subject of political discussion. Men differ rad-ically as to the economical wisdom of ically as to the economical wisdom of a protective tariff, or a tariff for revenue only, and that must always be the subject of political discussion. But there is a means of taking the ascertainment of facts away from a tribunal like that of the ways and means committee, which is necessarily hurried in its inquiries and necessarily lacking in theroughness and the temper necessary to reach the most impartial conclusions. "But, meantime, Congress has enabled me to organize the present commission. They have shown by the work already done how thorough their future work will be, and they have done that the material which they will place before the Congress and the Executive

Tour of Germany Shows America's Lead in Inventions.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—That Germany, while leading the world in science, is lagging far behind America in the field of invention, is the conclusion of Thomas Alva Edison, as a result of a long motor tour through the empire. Mr. Edison arrived here last night from South Germany, where an itinerary had been arranged to carry him through the heart of the industrial districts.

What has impressed me most in Germany, said the American inventor this motuling. Its its wonderful industrial expansion, especially in the northern part of the empire. I was struck, however, by the fact that with all their industrial growth, the Germans' technical methods and appliances are far inferior to ours. BERLIN, Sept. 23 .- (Special.) -That
