JURY'S VERDICT AGAINST AT-

Sub-Contractors Win Suit Alleging

Lawyer's Failure to Turn Money

A jury which heard in Judge Mor-row's court the evidence in the case of P. Petcoff and four laborers, con-stituting the sub-contracting firm of

The amount allowed is the difference between 30 per cent of $1683 the amount actually collected by Yanckwich from E. F. Hunt, a contractor, for the plaintiffs, and $1000, the amount retained by Yanckwich by virtue of a modified agreement. The plaintiffs testified that in signing the modified agreement they were led to modified agreement they were led to believe that it was a receipt for $683 and that they were later to receive the balance less 30 per cent of the total amount, they having entered into a written agreement by which Yanck-wich was to receive the percentage of the sum collected in lieu of a stated fee.

Yanckwich branded the verdict as unjust and announced that he will appeal the case on the ground that the evidence did not justify the verdict. He says he will call attention to the discrepancies between the testimony given by the plaintiffs in the civil suit which terminated yesierday and that which they gave when Yanckwich was a statement given out today he says:

"My visit to the Baby Home is simply in line with what I consider my duty to all institutions receiving state aid. I am interested in all such instiintions and wish to see them receive liberal support. The Baby Home seems to be in the hands of a very competent, wide-awake head nurse, who recently came from the East to take the position. She appears to be making the best of what little she has to do with, but is surely in need of a great many things to give the bables such attention and comforts as one would desire them to have.

of a warrant issued by Justice of Peace Olson.

Judge Morrow yesterday reversed his ruling of Friday to the effect that the pleadings of the plaintiffs were not in such form as to permit the introduction of evidence tending to show fraud on the part of Yanckwich. Ralph E. Moody, introduced into the case by Attorney Hayman, representing the plaintiffs, reargued the point before Judge Morrow. This was after he and Attorney Hayman had spent nearly all of Friday night in looking up additional authorities on the question. Attorney McAllister is strong in the contention that the judge's original ruling was correct.

The change in the court's decision allowed P. Petcoff to testify that Yanckwich had proposed to him that he take the $883 and "skip," the attorney declaring that he would tell Petcoff associates in the firm that he had given Petcoff their shares of the money.

Yanckwich protested on the stand Yanckwich protested on the stand Yanckwich protested on the stand that the extra work which he found necessary before settlement was reached with the contractor had led to his proposing the modified contract and that the plaintiffs were fully aware of the nature of the paper they were signing. Oklahoma Authorities to Take Man, Who Surrendered Here, Back. SEEN

"Hold prisoner. Will send officer. He will come without requisition papers," telegraphed W. F. Gillespie, of Newata. Okla., to Sheriff Stevens yesterday in reference to D. E. Woods, who walked into the Courthouse Thursday night and surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Jones saying that he was wanted in Oklahoma to answer to a charge of securing money from banks on worthless paper.

Woods told the Deputy Sheriff that he was manager of a big pipeline company in his home state and is well connected. A desire to live beyond his means and "cut a wide swath" so-claily led to his mis-step, he declared. He has a wife and child in Oklahoma and after thinking the subject over he concluded it would be better to go back. "face the music," and be in a position later to claim his family. He had grown lonesome without them, he averred, and also is tired of the haunted feeling, which resulted from the constant remembrance that he was a fuglifive from Justice.

the Baby Home in Portland, he has inaugurated an investigation of the expenditure of funds of that home, inasmuch as it a stats-aided institution.
His reason for doing this, he says, is because the home is a private corporation and because, according to its statement to the Secretary of State, it has expended practically as much money for investments and improvements as it has for the care of the bables in the home. Governor West believes there are a number of things which could have been purchased with the investment money which would have been beneficial to the bables. In a statement given out today he says: $42,500 SUIT DROPPED New Owner of Collins Hot Springs and Belcher Settle Case.

The suit of F. A. Young against C. T. Beicher, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $42,500, out of which he alleged he was defrauded in the purchase of Collins Hot Springs, was withdrawn yesterday by stipulation of Gus C. Moser and Edward Mendenhall, representing the plaintiff and defendant, respectively.

A private settlement of the trouble has been arranged. In his complaint Mr. Young alleged that the defendant had represented to him that the natural heat of the water from the springs was 118 degrees, but that he subsequently learned that it was only 50 degrees and that the other 28 degrees was maintained through the medium of a cunningly-contrived steam-heating plant. the fraud had destroyed the faith of patients in the medicinal powers of the water and had reduced the value of the property to $12,500. The other $2500 he sought to recover was the value of articles which he alleged Beicher had taken from the hotel after the execution of the agreement in November, 1910.

In the stipulation Mr. Young acknowledges that those who gave him the information upon which the complaint was based were mistaken and that what they said cannot be proved. The agreement provides that no other suits are to be instituted by either litigant.

The attorneys do not announce what was the actual basis of settlement.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The Alaska disturbance has now begun to move very slowly southeastward, but it is not yet near enough to cause high winds ar any of the reporting stations in this district. Light rain has failen in extreme Northwestern Washington. An immense high-pressure area central over lowa controls the weather over the greater portion of the United States, and it has checked the progress of the low-pressure area in Alaska and prevented the enunges in this district from taking place as soon as expected. This high-pressure area is attended by fair weather with temperatures as a rule below normal, and it will probably cause the Alaska disturbance to lose a great deal of its force and character before it passes eastward. The conditions are favorable for rain Sunday in Western Oregon, Western and Northern Idaho.
