Attack on Tripoli Is Declared to Be but Feint to Hide Real Destination.

MOSLEMS IN INDIA TO BOYCOTT ITALIAN PRODUCTS. LUCKNOW, British India, Oct. 7.—The council of the Indian National Congress has approved for the intervention of the British government in behalf of Turkey.

ROME, Oct. 7.—The Italian forces have occupied Derna and the coast of Barbary and this action reveals the plan of the campaign in Northern Africa. The object was to insure above all else the occupation of Cyrenaica, which is the richest part of the invaded country.

Turkish Governor in Naples. The Hungarian steamship Tisza came into Naples today, having on board Admiral Amedeo, commander-in-chief of the Italian fleet, his wife and son and several officers who had been sent by Turkey to organize the defense of Tripoli.

A wireless message from Tripoli today says that Vice-Admiral Faravelli has issued orders that all the ships of the fleet, beyond the range of the guns of the fleet, the town has become animated, public services are being restored, and the natives who fled from the city are returning.

Official circles, while realizing the anxiety of foreign countries to see the Turkish-Italian occupation, the possibility of complications avoided, wish to warn public opinion abroad that while the Italian fleet has taken possession of Tripoli, the occupation cannot be considered an accomplished fact in the sense that it renders possible that intervention by the powers which Italy in due time will welcome, but which at the present minute would be inopportune.

Before anything of the kind takes place, the Italian troops must land and in reality occupy the coast, but also the interior of the Province, in order to make sure that any remaining resistance of Turkey shall be overcome.

Monarchs Are Cheered. The feeling of the Italian public generally was illustrated in the triumphant progress of the King and Queen and their children, who were escorted to the hunting lodge at San Rossore, near Pisa. In the cities and villages through which the royal party passed crowds gathered at the railway stations. There were cheers for the royal family, but the women exhibited special devotion to her majesty, some of them crying out:

"The mother to our soldier sons and protect them!" It is charged that Turkey is not obeying the international rules of warfare, Italy has refused to allow the Turkish steamships which were seized in Italian harbors when war was declared or arriving soon afterward, their commanders not having learned of the beginning of hostilities.

Turkey, on the contrary, has hoisted the Ottoman flag over the Italian steamers Earnesto, Harid and Meloria, which were seized by the coast guard and remained there with Turkish sailors, using them for their own purposes.

Attorney Fredericks has stated that he will try John J. McNamara first, yet it is generally believed at the headquarters of the defense that James R. McNamara will face the jury first, as the case against him, the defense admits, is much stronger than against his brother.

McManigal, Artist, Amuses Self. While awaiting the time when he will be the star witness in the case in the McNamara trial, Orville E. McManigal, the informer, occupies a cell at the County Jail and amuses himself by drawing pictures of the nitro-glycerine cans, with which he said he is familiar, and the contents of which, he says, were used to destroy human life and much property.

He makes rude sketches of the mechanism of the clockwork internal machines he said he assisted in using. He says he is merely amusing himself with the gruesome occupation. The defense insists that he is merely committing his testimony to memory, that he is making himself "letter perfect" in his story and is using the crude drawings executed by himself to bolster up his memory. McManigal is a laughable, good-natured little man, having the appearance of one without a care in the world.

He says he does not dread the ordeal to which he will be put, but is awaiting the time when he will tell his whole terrible story to a jury.

McNamara Busy Writing. John J. McNamara, suave and genial, occupies his time writing. He never forgets to write to his mother, who is now in Kansas. She is there with a married sister, awaiting the time when she will start for Los Angeles to be present at the trial of her two boys. John J. McNamara says he will not reveal until she arrives the name of his mar-

Special Policeman Who Flourishes Revolver Arrested—Oakland Shops Refuse Aid From Sacramento in Making Repairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—One special policeman is missing and another is in a hospital with a lacerated scalp and minor bruises as a result of rioting here today between strikers and guards at the Mission Bay shops. A third special policeman was arrested for flourishing a revolver this morning.

The policeman, whose arrest was the first made since the trouble began here, was Edward A. Maloney. He was charged with threatening R. L. Solser, a brakeman. No union men were involved. Solser, who was going to work for the company when he was stopped by the guard, he protested, that he was a brakeman and not involved in the strike, but Maloney refused to listen to him and drew a revolver. Solser reported the case to a nearby police station.

Several fights between strikers and strikebreakers occurred at Oakland, but the situation there was declared by representatives of the company not to be at all serious. They declared that they were able to handle all repair work and that they refused last night an offer from Sacramento shops to take care of some of the engines and cars for them, declaring this was not necessary.

Several applications have been made by men for reinstatement in the shops, according to reports from the master mechanic's department in Oakland. Between 1900 and 1909 men reported for work in the Southern Pacific shops at Sacramento this morning and since yesterday between 20 and 30 additional men have been placed on the working list. The departments going without interruption. Picket lines were drawn tight, men being stationed at all entrances to the yards.

MARKHAM REPLIES TO NOEL. Railway President Has No Objection to Strike Conference.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—President Markham, of the Illinois Central Railroad, ended speculation as to the nature of his reply to an appeal for arbitration from Governor Noel, of Mississippi, today by saying that the Mississippi executive had not asked for arbitration. A message from the Governor was a request that either Vice-President Park or myself come to Mississippi to attend a general conference of the railroad men and the public the demands of the strikers and the position of the railroad," said Mr. Markham. "It was inspired by the desire of ending the violence there that marked the beginning of the strike. Any arbitration conference, of course, could have no bearing on the strike as a whole."

I replied to Governor Noel that there was no objection to the proposal, although no time or detail of any such meeting was considered. "The actual situation on the road is getting better all the time. More men are returning to work and the railroad is handling all the necessary work in good order."

Fifty boiler-makers and their helpers who went on a strike a week ago, returned to work at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central today. The railroad officials declare that more than 100 of the striking shopmen have returned to their places since the walk-out began.

TACOMA ANARCHIST ACCUSED

Caplan, for Whom Reward Is Offered, Recently in North.

TACOMA, Oct. 7.—Following on the heels of an announcement by detectives last night that members of the Home Colony, an anarchistic settlement on Lake Bay, had been implicated in the explosion of the Los Angeles building October 1 of last year, came an announcement by Deputy Prosecutor Nolte, of Tacoma, today that he has direct evidence to connect Jay Fox, of the settlement with the crime. Fox is editor of a four-page paper printed at the Home Colony called "The Agrator." He is now under $2000 bond on a charge of sedition.

All of the evidence has been sent to District Attorney Fredericks, of Los Angeles County, and detectives have worked on the Tacoma end of the crime for weeks. Deputy Prosecutor Nolte, who began to suspect the Home Colonists after he had made a thorough investigation of their ways of living during the recent sensational "bathing cases," said that David Caplan, one of the three men for whom a reward of $10,000 was offered, had visited the Home Colony in the past few days and was in Tacoma recently. Caplan is one of the men indicted in the Los Angeles explosion and has been the one who was directly instrumental in setting off the dynamite charge.

Evidence secured by the Pierce County official indicates that the dynamite which blew up the Los Angeles Times building was bought in Tacoma. It was taken to San Francisco, it is alleged by Nolte, directly from Tacoma by Jay Fox and J. B. Bryce, under which name James McNamara, indicted on charges of conspiracy in the dynamite cases, was alleged to have been known. Fox is at his home in Home Colony.

"My evidence," says the prosecutor, "shows that Bryce, who is alleged to be James B. McNamara, now in custody at Los Angeles, came to the Home Colony several times. On the last visit, which was only a few weeks before the dynamite explosion at Los Angeles, he gave a large amount of money to Fox. This is shown by the fact that Fox was without funds until the arrival of Bryce, but that immediately afterward he had plenty of money and said his bills and gave each of his children a $20 goldpiece."

Fox and his fellows had been studying dynamite explosions up to this time. Immediately after the arrival of Bryce, Fox tried to get a certain member of the colony to purchase for him a large amount of the explosive. He came to Tacoma himself, with Bryce, and I have evidence showing exactly where they bought the dynamite and how much they secured. Fox and Bryce said they were going to blast the Home Colony, but later they were seen in a suit case here and packed the dynamite in them."

BALLOON MISSING Fears Expressed That Berlin May Be in Lake. BUCKEYE SAILS 365 MILES American Gas Bag May Be Winner of Contest—Frenchmen Alight in Cornfield After Flying Over Lake Michigan. KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7.—An appeal was made by the Kansas City Aero Club tonight to the Government to notify life-saving stations in the Great Lakes region to make a search for the German balloon, Berlin II, a contestant in the James Gordon Bennett cup race, which started from here Thursday. It is feared the bag has been caught in the violent storm which has swept the Lake region for the last three days and carried down into one of the great bodies of water. All the balloons encountered storms and some had narrow escapes. Provisions enough to last three days were carried by the Berlin II. Canada May Aid Searchers. If the balloonists are not in a lake they have flown across the Canadian boundary and the Canadian government may be asked to assist in the search. One reason for the belief that the Berlin II is in the Lake region is that the Candor, the French balloon, which plumed last night near Mingo, Iowa, reported today that it had been carried out over Lake Michigan, and then driven back to land. Neither of the balloonists can speak more than a few words of English.

TORY TOCSIN RUNG Imperial Preferences Favored by Balfour. COLONIAL TRADE IN DANGER Ex-Premier Charges Liberals With "Second Act of Attempted Revolution"—Attitude on Tariff Made Clear. HARRINGTON, Scotland, Oct. 7.—A. J. Balfour fired the first gun in Conservative opposition to what may be termed the second act of the "revolution," before an immense meeting of the Unionists this afternoon. Strong factional opposition to his leadership, which was kindled by his address to the Lords to accept the veto bill, has accused him, particularly of weakness on the tariff reform issue and his announcement on this point was important. He came out strongly for imperial preference. "I hope," said Mr. Balfour, "that our people will find the spirit in which we must approach this question in the broad decision reached by the Canadian people. Our colonies are not believers in the system spoken of as free trade. Unless this committee meets the situation, we will have Canada, Australia, New Zealand and other great communities making their separate commercial tariffs with other countries. This country will awake some fine morning to find that these great communities, loyal as they are, have instituted a system of tariffs in which we will find ourselves at a disadvantage. Such a state of affairs must have a fatal effect on the unity of the British Empire."
