DR. LYMAN'S WIFE SEEKING DIVORCE

Escapades With Glovemaker's Daughter Made Basis of Suit in New York.

SPOUSE SLOW TO DECIDE

Cohn's Confession That He Received $2000 From Miss Lehman to Aid Promoter Results in Filing of Action.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14 .- (Special )-Another chapter was added to the sensational story of Dr. John Grant Lyman's life today upon receipt of a dispatch from White Plains, N. Y., by United States Marshal Elliott to the effect that Mrs. Alice Lyman, wife of the fraudulent promoter, has begun a divorce action, the grounds of which are based on Lyman's escapades with Miss Maud Lehman, daughter of a mil-lionaire glove manufacturer in New

The recent notoriety attained by Dr. Lyman, which followed his escape from Federal custody at the Providence Hospital in Oakland, revealed the get-rich-quick schemer's attention to Miss Lebman, who was his companion here at the Union-Square Hotel just previous to Lyman's original arrest on Septem-ber 5.

Mrs. Lyman was spending a vacation with her relatives at White Fiains when the press dispatch informed her of Lyman's arrest and his devotion to Miss Lehman. Helieving at first that there was some mistake, Mrs. Lyman later was informed officially by the Government authorities in this city of the proof that Miss Lehman was supplying the wily promoter with the ready funds with which he bribed his failers to escape his Federal guards. Still skeptical as to her husband's indicality, Mrs. Lyman refrained from any court action until she received word of the arrest of J. M. Cohn in this city Monday. Knowing that Cohn was an old associate of Lyman and learning that Cohn confessed to having received $2000 from Miss Lehman to aid Lyman during his incarceration, Mrs. Lyman immediately consulted a lawyer and brought suit for divorce.

Mrs. Lyman's Family Wealthy.

Mrs. Lyman, before her marriage to the promoter, 15 years ago, was Alice Brown, member of the wealthy Brown family of Pasadena. At the time of the wedding Dr. Lyman was a social favorite in the South, being possessed of an unusually pleasing personality and a large income, which it is now believed he muicied from thousands of vistims of wildcan promotion schemes. According to the information received by Marshal Elliott today from the East, Mrs. Lyman is determined to have nothing further to do with her husband. Miss Lehman, however, it is understood, is so enamored of the bland promoter that she will do everything in her power to assist him while his difficulty with the local Federal officials is pending. The Spokane County prosecutor has informed the Bureau, however, that the alleged offense was committed in 1964, and as Tyrell cannot be found now he says there is no use in trying to find him, as letters addressed to him in Minnesota have been returned unclaimed. The report says that Tyrell failed to account for a balance of $133 he had when he quit and that several claims for which he collected the money were later paid by warrants. The Bureau places the blame for the trouble on the system of making out warrants for the clerk to pay small bills, instead of auditing all claims and having warrants drawn for them. rants drawn for them.

FOXY SQUIRREL GETS PLUM

Oregon City Woman Astonished When Prowler "Plays Catch."

OREGON CITY, Oct. 14.—(Special.)— There is a squirrel in the forests near Hubbard that evidently thinks just as much of its ability to obtain plums as much of its ability to obtain plums as did Little Jack Horner.

Miss Nell Yoder, of Hubbard, was busy in the kitchen at her home yesterday morning when she heard a noise at one of the upstairs windows. Upon entering the room she observed a pine-equirrel pulling at one of the curtains. She threw a plum at the little animal to frighten it, but instead of it running away as she had expected, the squirrel raised itself upon its hind legs and caught the missile. Then it jumped to a neary-by tree, where it enjoyed its meal.

Some time ago Mr. Helleman hoped to have the Department of Agriculture to have the Department of Agriculture establish a culture station here which would give quicker results to the farmers, but the department could not spare the money to establish it at present. He will probably later, take
