President Makes Addresses in Seven Oregon Cities Not on Schedule.

CROWDS ARE INSISTENT

H. E. Williams, Republican National Committeeman, Who Accompanied Executive South, Tells of Series of Overtures.

En route from Portland to the California line, the reception accorded President Taft amounted to an ovation. Although the official itinerary contemplated brief stops at only three points in Oregon—Salem, Albany and Eugene—there were throngs of people assembled at every station along the railroad between this city and Ashland.

CHARITY AID IS ASKED

NEEDLEWORK GUILD PREPARES FOR WINTER ACTIVITY.

Garments or Money That Will Be Used in Helping Needy May Be Sent to Women Members.

The Portland branch of the Needlework Guild of America makes an earnest appeal to all its members, and to the general public, for early contributions in garments or in money. In the past year the guild has collected and distributed 217 garments to needy persons, or to charitable institutions, and also has spent $95 for emergency cases.

The need, however, has been considerably greater than the supply, and it is hoped that more may be collected this year. The Guild is non-sectarian and there are no formalities of membership. Men, women or children are eligible, the only condition is the sending of two new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or a contribution in money, to any of the officers or directors of the Guild whose names appear below.

The garments will be on display before distribution, at a tea, to be held November 3 at the Unitarian chapel, Seventh and Yamhill streets, to which all interested are invited. It is particularly urged that contributions be sent in, not later than November 1, to any of the following:

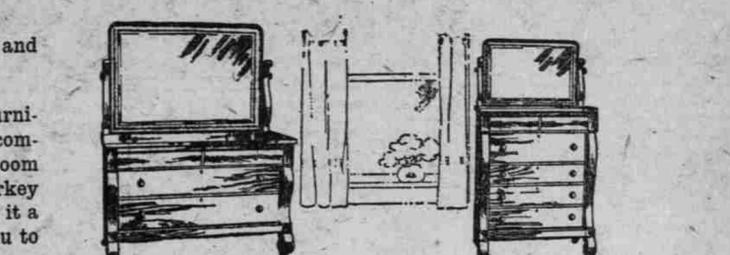

Mrs. E. Hamilton, president, 63 North Twenty-second street; Mrs. Alex Bernstein, treasurer, 776 Oregon street; Miss A. M. Cremon, 408 Twelfth street; vice-presidents—Mrs. James McMillan, 423 Holladay avenue; Mrs. William Woodward, 668 Hancock street; Mrs. J. P. Alex Mayer, 628 Everett street; section presidents—Miss Failing, Fifth and Taylor streets; Mrs. H. B. Robertson, Fifth and Taylor streets; Mrs. W. Jones, finish a piece. The result is faithful workmanship and dependable designs. We always carry a large stock of Berkey & Gay furniture. Just now the stock is particularly large and complete, including everything for the Bedroom, Dining-Room and Library. We want you to get acquainted with Berkey & Gay furniture. Come and see it now—you will find it a profitable way to spend an hour. We will not ask you to buy it—we know that sometime you will.

Women know how true this is. The furniture and decorations of a home are a fair criterion of the tastes of its inhabitants. High prices do not make good furniture. High-grade woods and high-grade work do. The Berkey & Gay Furniture Company, whose product we sell exclusively here, is at once the envy and despair of other makers. This Company employs workmen who have been with it for nearly half a century—master woodworkers who spend all the time they think necessary to form and

POSTMAN DIVES TO DIE

HIRAM C. HUTCHINSON JUMPS OFF MORRISON BRIDGE.

Letter-Carriers' President and Prominent Lodgeman Ends Life Due to Pains in Head.

Standing within three feet of another man, Hiram C. Hutchinson, a United States mail-carrier, leaped from the east end of the Morrison-street bridge draw span at 7:10 yesterday morning, crushed his head against the base of the pier as he fell and was swept away by the river. Severe pains in the head, from which he had suffered for years, and other worries are ascribed as the cause of the act. W. E. Whiteside, an employe of the Powers Furniture Company, living at 88 East Ninth street, was on his way to work and stood within a few feet of Hutchinson as he dived himself of his uniform coat and hat. He could easily have prevented the act, but seeing the man's head strike the pier, he called out a warning and Joe Rucolich, a city officer about to commence work on the bridge. "He was perfectly cool," says Whiteside, "and did not act in a way to arouse my suspicion. When he laid down his coat and hat he leaped like a deer. In falling he struck his head against the sloping concrete of the pier and hit the water on his stomach. Blood foamed on the surface. A strange thing was that he floated for fully three minutes, while I rushed over to East Alder street, the bridge to look for a boat and returned. Then he sank. There were no boats in sight, so I notified the police and came away. I saw the man's head and saw the bridge tender, saw the death plunge from a distance. A note in the pocket of the dead man's coat gives the reason for the act. It is addressed to 'May or Joe,' referring to his wife and his brother, Joseph W. Hutchinson, Deputy City Auditor, and says: 'Dearest—You know that I have said my head hurt me ever since I became overheated in moving out here, no one knows how and. It is getting so bad, I am getting afraid of myself. For a long time I have not been myself.—H.'"

BREAKS A COLD IN A DAY

And Cures any Cough that is Curable. Noted Physician's Formula.

Get from any druggist "Two ounces of Glycyrrine and half an ounce of Concentrated Pine Compound. Mix these with half a pint of good whiskey. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." Any one can prepare this at home. This is the best formula known to science. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it doesn't pay to experiment with a bad cold. Be sure to get only the genuine (Globe) Concentrated Pine. Each half ounce bottle comes in a sealed tin screw-top case. If the druggist does not have it in stock he will get it quickly from his wholesale house. Pine has been known for hundreds of years for its curative effects on the mucous membrane, but many extracts contain resins that cause nausea and rash. For safety get only that mentioned above.—Adv.

HYGIENE WOMEN'S TOPIC

Four to Speak on Vice Danger at Unitarian Chapel.

At a meeting of women tomorrow night in the Unitarian Chapel, under the auspices of the Portland Commons, steps will be taken toward the formation of a permanent organization to work in conjunction with the Social Hygiene Society in the movement which has been started for wider knowledge of the dangers of vice.

Preceding the business session a series of addresses will be given. Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull will speak on "The Girls Who Earn Their Own Living," Miss Minnie Michener, of the Portland Commons, will speak on "The Temptations of Girls." Dr. Florence Marston will give a talk on "The Inheritance of Venereal Diseases." A general discussion will follow, to be led by Mrs. Edward S. Elliot, of Boston, who has given much study to the subject of social hygiene. Mrs. A. W. Unruh will preside.

MR. AND MRS. H. E. DEPUTY

A cunningly-laid plan to surprise their friends and avoid the customary showers of rice and old shoes, was executed by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Deputy, of Long Beach, Wash., who were quietly married in Vancouver, Thursday afternoon, and who are now on a two months' honeymoon through the Eastern and Southern States. Mrs. Deputy was Miss Della Tinker, daughter of H. H. Tinker, proprietor of the Long Beach Hotel. The bridegroom, one of the active promoters of the newly launched cranberry industry of Pacific County, Washington. Early in the week the bride-to-be slipped away to Portland, accompanied by Miss Vivien McKinnel, for a visit to friends, while her fiancé, taking the next train, announced that he was leaving for an extended business trip through the East and South. Not even their immediate relatives were let into the secret, and Thursday afternoon they went to Vancouver, where the ceremony was performed by Dr. Bond, of the First Congregational Church. Unsuspecting Portland friends and Friday evening the newly-married pair enjoyed a joke on Professor Karl Reidelberger, at whose home they spent the evening, the bride being presented to several other guests under her maiden name. Not until the following morning, when the hotel bus was just ready to leave for the North Bank train, did the musician discover he had been entertaining newly-weds unwares. Mr. and Mrs. Deputy will go direct to New York, thence to Boston and Washington, D. C., leaving there for Atlanta, Jacksonville, Memphis, Fla., and New Orleans, several days being spent in each city. Return will be made by way of Los Angeles, where they may spend the Winter.
