Never has an industrial offering met with such instantaneous success. But this is not to be marveled at, as anyone, who has investigated the machines-and seen what they actually do and accomplish-will tell you.

THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN, PORTLAND, OCTOBER 29, 1911.

These machines will revolutionize the present systems of handling money. The demand is unlimited. Our big new factory at Kenton is ready and everything is in shape to begin turning out these machines in commercial quantities.

Investigate today, ere it's too late. Ask us to show you the list of prominent Stockholders and Officers and Directors-many of whom you know personally or by reputation. Read the indorsements given our machines by the largest banks, prominent merchants, etc., throughout the West-not one or a dozen, but hundreds of them.

Here's fair warning. This is absolutely your last opportunity to buy U. S. Cashier Co.'s stock at $15 per share.

It positively advances to $20 per share Nov. 1st (Wednesday - only two days more).

In all respects the record of the United States Cashier Co. stands unparalleled. The United States Cashier Co. has been financed in less time than any other of the presentday great successes. Since the company was first launched, a little over a year ago, the leading banks, business men and capitalists of this city and the Pacific Coast have subscribed for a sufficient amount of stock to assure its success. Today the assets of the United States Cashier Co. (not including patents, which are conservatively valued at not less than $500,000) are over $400,000. including real estate, factory equipment, machinery, machines, material, cash and bills receivable.

Only a small block of stock still remains unsold now. From present indications the stock allotted to be sold at $15 will be over-subscribed. After Oct. 31 not a single share will be offered or sold for a dollar-yes, even a penny-less than $20.

The company is bound to be a suecess. The machines are bound to return big dividends to the stockholders.

North East Side Improvement Associa-tion has been an important factor in the civic improvement of Portland since it was started four years ago. Its chief and great purpose has been the con-struction of the Broadway bridge, and that great enterprise is now on safe ground. The money has been obtained and the final contract for the super-structure will be let soon. It has gone forward with the support of 90 per cent of the people, but in face of determined opposition. In the courts every ob-stacle was swept aside. It is true that the case is yet to be heard in the Suthe case is yet to be heard in the Su-preme Court of the United States, but I am not at all concerned about the outcome there, as we have sold the bonds and the bridge will be completed probably before any decision can be had from that iribunal. That decision, in any event, can only affect the initi-

But But perhaps our next greatest achievement a erection of the Jefferson High School, one of the finest public school buildings in the West. It was due to the efforts of the North East Side Improvement Association that the site was bought and the building erected. The Wil-liams-avenue schoolhouse, untenable for pupils, was replaced with a modern building called the First School. The building called the Ellot School. Plans for the club's annual frolic are in full swing and indications are that the en-tertainment will surpass that given last year by all odds. As last year, the club will issue a souvenir programme and annual in connection with the frolic, and it will contain the clever-est work of local writers and artists. To stimulate interest the club has offered cash prizes for the best jokes, essays and stories and the best draw-ings submitted by members for the An-nual. The stest bridges across Sullivan's Guich on Union and Grand avenues, and the reinforced concrete bridge at East Twenty-eighth street, are largely due to the work of the association. This is specially true of the East Twenty-eighth-street bridge, of which, how-ever, we are not particularly proud of the way it was scetted.
