

PLANS ARE MADE FOR COMING TRIAL

Louis J. Wilde Arrives to Prepare His Defense in Oregon Trust Case.

MORRIS IS NOT FEARED

Banker's Attorney Says Ex-Cashier Is Only Serving Out His Prison Sentence at Hotel, and Will Do So Until Protest.

To pass the remainder of the time between now and January 2, the date on which his trial begins, in preparing with his attorney, most of the evidence which may be presented by the state, Louis J. Wilde arrived yesterday in Portland. He is staying with relatives, and is accompanied by his wife and family, and announces, through his attorneys, that he is prepared to "camp" in Portland and fight it out.

"We will be prepared when January 2 arrives to present our defense in first-class shape," said Jay Bowerman, counsel for Wilde. "We are not at all afraid of anything that W. Cooper Morris may or may not divulge. This stuff about his going over the books is all bunkum. He is a reliable informant. He is simply serving his sentence at the Carlton Hotel. He has been there three weeks now, smoking good cigars and living high, and is likely to remain until the newspapers or the public enter a vigorous protest."

A. E. Clark, special prosecutor in the Wilde case, has repeatedly denied that there is a scheme on foot to trade Morris for Wilde. Mr. Clark said: "I was careful to tell Mr. Morris that anything he might testify to on the witness stand must be said without hope of reward. We could not arrange such a deal as has been intimated, and in any event I am quite sure that Governor West would not sanction it, and he is the pardoning power of this state."

The indictment against Wilde charges that he contributed to the criminality of W. Cooper Morris and the failure of the Oregon Savings and Trust Bank by inducing the cashier to accept half of a commission of $30,000 accruing from the sale of a large block of telephone bonds to the bank.

HOUSEWIVES POOR BUYERS

Investigator Says Los Angeles Women Pay High Prices Needlessly.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Housewives in Los Angeles are not acquainted with the most economical ways of buying foodstuffs, says Miss Edith M. Miller, a Vassar girl and clerk of the Lodge committee of the Senate, which is investigating the high cost of living in the United States. Miss Miller has gone from here to San Francisco, where her investigations will be resumed.

"Many Los Angeles housewives are poor buyers," said Miss Miller yesterday. "They don't know the most economical ways of making purchases. In the so-called exclusive neighborhood prices of groceries are anywhere from 5 to 15 cents higher than in the poor, or in the middle class districts, for the same cuts. This could be remedied easily by the housewives making purchases outside their district."

Miss Miller will be followed here by other agents of the committee, who will inquire into the wage question and determine the relation between wages and the cost of food.

TURKEY GROWS FOR TAFT

Chestnut Diet Expected to Produce White House Gobbling de Luxe.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 4.—Horace Vose, the Western Turkey farmer, is preparing his annual Thanksgiving gift for President Taft's table. The Taft turkey this year is a fine bronze gobbler, which is gaining weight every minute on a diet of chestnuts, which produces a fine quality of white meat. "I shall send President Taft the finest turkey I ever gave to any President since the one I sent to President Grant," said Vose.

BURGLARS MURDER GUARD

Night Watchman for Isaac Guggenheim Shot at His Post.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Burglars, frustrated in an attempt to rob the country home of Isaac Guggenheim, the millionaire copper mine and smelter operator, at Port Washington, shot and killed the night watchman and escaped in a boat. Members of the Guggenheim family and their servants found the watchman dead on the lawn.

COUNT CZAKY IN COURT

Husband of Former Mrs. Inman Sued on Note in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Count Kalman I. Czaky, who recently married Mrs. Maud Howard Bryant Inman, of Portland, encountered trouble today, when he was sued in the Municipal Court for $250 by A. S. Koran, of New York City. The suit is based on a note for $2313.

ENGLISH UNIONS TO VOTE

Question of Accepting Strike Award Put Up to Members.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The joint executive committee of the regular trades unions today determined that the unions shall ballot on whether to accept the royal commission's report or strike for complete recognition of their union. The ballot papers are returnable December 5.

SALEM ELECTION CLOSE

Councilmen Nominated at Primaries Warm to Campaign.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Sharp conflicts in some of the wards and peculiar complications ensuing marked the primary nominating election here today for Councilmen. One Councilman was to be nominated in all the wards but the Second, in which two were nominated, owing to the recent resignation of Councilman Durbin.

In the Fifth Ward, August Hucklestein tied with John D. Turner for the Republican nomination and Hucklestein also tied with J. H. Lauterman for the Democratic nomination. The nominations in other wards were as follows: First, G. G. Brown, Republican; A. T. Moffat, Democrat; Second, W. T. Rigdon and C. O. Constable, Republican; H. G. Meyer and S. Manning, Democrat; Third, John Stegmann, Republican; Fourth, J. E. Jones, Sixth, J. N. Skalte, Republican; Max Gehler, Democrat; Seventh, O. L. Townsend.

G. G. Brown, given the Republican nomination in the First Ward, is clerk of the State Land Board. He said tonight he was nominated without his knowledge and did not know of it until over an hour after the polls closed. He will consult with the State Land Board, which appoints him as clerk, before he decides whether he will reject or accept the offer. The office of Councilman here carries no salary or emoluments.

NOTE IDENTIFIES HERO

MAN DROPS PAPER IN SAVING TOT FROM RUNAWAY.

Mother and Child Rescued Kiss Elmer Reucel as He Lies Unconscious After Bravery.

Saying, "I have just tried to do the square thing," Elmer Reucel, who refused to give his name or address, walked away from the place where he saved the life of a little girl from a runaway team last night with a laugh, and disappeared in the crowd that gathered upon his sensational feat. Reucel dropped a note from his pocket in the struggle to control the horse, however, and an admiring bystander conveyed it to the police.

A girl of five years, with her mother, was crossing Burnside street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, late last night, with the child a little in advance of the mother, when a runaway horse, drawing a laundry wagon, dashed down upon her. The baby was right in the path of the horse. Reucel dashed from the sidewalk and picked up the little girl in one hand, while he clutched the rein of the horse with the other. He carried the child to safety, but was thrown by the horse and lay on his head.

Unconscious and calling on a girl's name which appears in the note he dropped, Reucel was carried to the curb and the child and mother bent over him and kissed him as he lay, soothing him until he regained his senses and was able to stand. Then they disappeared, and Reucel, with a laugh, straightened his torn and dusty clothes, broke through the crowd, and disappeared.

MAMMOTH'S BONE DUG UP

Hillsboro Workmen Unearth Well-Preserved Part of Femur.

HILLSBORO, Or., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Part of the femur of a mammoth was found here yesterday, while workmen were digging a well for the Hillsboro water system. The bone was found 11 feet in the earth, on a beaver-dam deposit, and must have been buried for thousands of years. It is well preserved and measures six inches in diameter. Search was made for other portions of the skeleton, but nothing was found, and it is evident that the femur had been washed some distance.

This is the first discovery of the bone of a mammoth in this vicinity which could be well defined as such.

"77" HUMPHREY'S SEVENTY-SEVEN Breaks up Grip and COLDS

Duration of a Cold

The length of time it takes to break up a cold with "Seventy-seven" depends upon how soon the treatment begins—

Taken early cuts the cold short promptly—

Taken during the prevalence of colds, it preoccupies the system and prevents its invasion—

Taken after the cold has gotten seated, is quite effective but takes longer—

It pays to keep "Seventy-seven" handy. All dealers sell. 25c or mailed.
