Large Modern Sanitary Market to Be Erected in Portland

H. S. Warren & Co. and associates of Detroit, Michigan, are having plans prepared by Bennes & Hendricks, local architects, for a seven story building to cover Block 68 as indicated by the black space in map herewith shown. Building to be Class A, reinforced concrete; basement to be occupied by refrigerated store rooms for market merchants; first floor to be occupied entirely by stall spaces, which will give about 32,000 square feet for market purposes. Approximate cost of building and equipment is $300,000

BLACK BLOCK--MARKET LOCATION

H. S. Warren & Co. are now completing the construction of a large Public Market in Detroit, Michigan, known as the Broadway Market, and with their extensive experience in market requirements the market merchants of Portland are assured every modern facility known in market construction, and this market will compare favorably with any of the markets found in the large Eastern cities

IMPORTANT FEATURES

Centrally located—all outside space—well lighted and ventilated—refrigeration furnished to stalls—sanitary features up to date—tile finish—570 feet street frontage—well located to present and proposed car service—situated between two Burnside street transfer points and can reach any part of the city on one transfer.

Applications will be received for space immediately and bona fide leases made for long terms as soon as architects complete plans for basement and first floor
