Pleasant Journey to Old World and Foreign Capitals Described. Good Roads Lauded-Bull Run Water Missed.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Lipman returned last night from a trip to Europe and are again at their home at 714 Wayne street, where they were greeted by members of their families and friends with a home-coming party. Their trip occupied a year lacking two weeks. "Sailing from New York on the Carmania, our first stop was made at Gibraltar," said Mr. Lipman, "and then Gibraitar," said Mr. Lipman, and then in succession we visited Algiers, Vielle, France, Naples and from Cairo took a trip up the Nile. I had no definite plans of travel and stopped at every point as long as we found it pleasurable. Athens appealed to me as the plant of the said of the said control of the original center of art and culture and we have yet to learn from that city as the best we have today originated

Several months were devoted to the Mediterranean and Adriatic cities. Then we went to Paris and London and back again to the Continent. Later we visited the principal cities of Germany, Austria-Hungary, Holland and Belgium, ving, of course, to return to Paris

Fine Roads Noted.

"Dverywhere I was particularly im-pressed with the good roads and never before did I appreciate what an asset they are for a country. In every European country a farmer can readily drive miles to the cities to sell his products direct and return with his products direct and return with his purchases, being independent of all transportation companies.

"American workmen may be better paid in this country than any other, but there the comfort of workmen and that there the comfort of workmen and that of their families is considered of paramount importance. In every city and town there are playgrounds for the children and their parents have beautiful parks in which excellent music is played in the evenings and holidays for their enjoyment. This attention to their amusement and entertainment largely compensates for the lower wages, as it keeps them entertained and happy with their surroundings.

"I found that Hood River apples are known the world over, but where Hood River is could be described by few except as a place in America and similar hazy ideas are held of the general location of places in this country. All American manufactured articles are taken kindly too, especially our shoes, and the sale of our products abroad is increasing very rapidly.

"There was one thing that I could not forget, as it was brought to my not forget, as it was brought to my attention daily. It was Bull Run water. I really believe that if one of the European cities had such a supply of it as we have it would become from this country to drink it.

President Hoyt Unable to Give Definite Answer Owing to Uncertainty Regarding Celebration Due to Lack of Funds.

Gratifying recognition of the fact that the Rose Festival-Portland's distinctive annual fete of flowers-has become an event of great National importance was received by the management yesterday. It came in the form of a letter of inquiry from Pathe Freres, one of the world's leading moving-picture concerns, addressed to Melvin G. Winstock, general manager of the People's Amusement Company, and is signed by K. W. Linn, American manager for the house. The letter, after acknowledging the The letter, after acknowledging the high position the Festival has taken among the carnivals and celebrations of the country, requests that afrangements be made for the taking of views of the leading events of the week for use in connection with the "Fathe Weekly," a film production which shows the "high-lights" of world events in all the prominent cities of the civilized world.

Importance Is Noted.

The letter is:

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Mr. Melvin G. Winstock, General Manager of the People's Amusement Company, Portland, Or.

My Dear Mr. Winstock—I beg to acknowledge raceipt of your favor of the 17th instant, in which you draw my attention to the Rose Festival," which takes place the second week in June. During my travels in the Far West I have convinced myself that this is an event of sufficient importance, from a National point of view, to warrant our taking a few glimpase for our weekly. I have booked this event with the department handling all matters in connection with our weekly, and I assure you that it will be our desire to do justice to the event Kindly write me again on the subject, at your convenience, and believe me, with best regards, sincerely your, K. W. LINN. The letter is:

The communication was turned over to Halph W. Hoyt, president of the Festival, and he was at once im-pressed with the enormous amount of publicity such an arrangement would mean for Fortland. The "Pathe Weekly" deals only with the most important current events. To have place on this film the subject treated must be recog-nized as being of "universal interest."

EXHIBIT OF FIELD, GARDEN AND ORCHARD PRODUCTS MADE BY GOLDENDALE AND KLICKI TAT VALLEY ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION.

DISPLAY OF FRUIT, VEGETABLES AND GRAIN IN NORTH BANK TICKET OFFICE.

In the Fifth-street window of the North Bank ticket office is a display of garden, field and orchard products made by the Goldendale Fruit and Produce Association, of Goldendale, Wash.

The eghibit is a splendid testimony of the fertility and productivity of the soil around Goldendale and in the Klickitat Valley, all parts of which have contributed specimens of their crops to make the display attractive.

Although the exhibit has been shown for more than a week it continues to attract much attention every day. Attaches of the North Bank office receive numerous inquiries regarding the Klickitat country. Strangers in the city seek information with the view of making investments there. They declare that any land that can produce crops such as shown in this display is worth investigating. Some inquiries have gone direct to the association at Goldendale, officials of which declare that the exhibition of these sample products is one of the best mediums of advertising ever attempted.

With the completion of the North Bank road and the branch line between Lyle and Goldendale, the Klickitat Valley has become directly tributary to Portland. Goldendale and other points in the valley are growing rapidly. They do all their business in Portland.
