

SOCIETY

MISS JACK WHITE BROWNIE OF TACOMA, WHO IS VISITING IN PORTLAND DURING THE HOLIDAYS

"T WAS the night before Christmas, and all through the house, not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. Yes, and it has been quiet in the 'social whirl' for the last week too. Society women have been so engrossed with Christmas shopping that they have even neglected the usual all-absorbing game of bridge. Still I do not despair. For I have at hand an account of a recent 'Men's Clothing and Outfitting' exhibition, which, if adopted, certainly will bring about many sewing clubs for the devotees of style among the bachelors and benedicts of the gay world. Vests and ties of brilliant hues veiled with lace are the last word of fashion, worn, of course, with hosiery to match.

It is possible that at smart functions of the future I shall describe the attire of prominent men, something as follows: "Mr. Blank was particularly attractive in his evening suit of rich, black broadcloth, with a hairline stripe of mauve, cut on swallowtail and worn with a waistcoat of scarlet satin veiled with chintilly lace. This costume was completed by a tone, and hose of scarlet silk with insets of real lace." The account at hand declares that the new fashions are not out of keeping with the strict conventionalities of men's attire, and that cut on the usual severe lines, these seemingly frivolous accessories are quite appropriate for evening functions. A vest of ivory satin elaborated with brocade, lace ruffles, powder and snuff boxes were quite as interesting and not one bit more ridiculous than the money have given women full sway in the matter of dress and have never laughed at them—no never. It is also possible that the couriers of the days of Louis Quinze with their coats of brocade, lace ruffles, powder and snuff boxes were quite as interesting and not one bit more ridiculous than the money have given women full sway in the matter of dress and have never laughed at them—no never. It is also possible that the couriers of the days of Louis Quinze with their coats of brocade, lace ruffles, powder and snuff boxes were quite as interesting and not one bit more ridiculous than the money have given women full sway in the matter of dress and have never laughed at them—no never.

The Hotel Sain Regis, New York, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Helen Goode, daughter of Mrs. H. W. Goode, and Pompeo Marquetta Marcell, of Brooklyn, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock on Monday evening. The bride, who is a handsome girl, wore a robe of soft ivory satin elaborated with real lace. Her veil fell from beneath a Juliet cap of pearls and she carried a shower bouquet of white orchids. Miss Clara Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilson; Miss Evelyn Carey, daughter of Judge and Mrs. C. H. Carey; Miss Dorothy Huber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osk Huber, and Miss O'Ryan, of New York, as bridesmaids wore chic gowns of pale blue satin draped with same-toned chiffon.

Mrs. Marcel as Miss Goode was extremely popular in Portland society. Mr. Marcel belongs to one of the best-known Brooklyn families. The late Henry W. Goode, was one of the most prominent business men in Portland and acted as president of the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Mrs. Joseph Nathan Teal, who is in New York passing the holidays with her daughter, Miss Ruth, is at the Hotel Wolcott.

Mrs. Henry T. Fairbanks (Frances Lewis), who was the motif for a round of gaieties during the past two weeks, has returned to her home in New York.

Mrs. Kenneth Beebe (Caroline Wilson) was hostess at an informal tea on Monday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Barbara Mackenzie, who has recently returned from abroad, and Miss Katherine MacMaster, a debutante. Mrs. Walter Browne, Jr. and Miss MacMaster presided at the tea table.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlon Dolph are being congratulated on the birth of a son, who has been named Marlon Francis Dolph.

Miss Lisa Wood asked a few girls to tea on Thursday afternoon to bid bon voyage to Miss Winifred Jewett, who will return to California next Tuesday. Mrs. Antoine G. Labbe presided at the tea table.

Miss Sara McCully entertained about 16 of the sub-debutante set at an informal dance on Thursday evening, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McCully. Late in the evening supper was served. The table was centered with a small Christmas tree lighted with many candles and bedecked with tinsel.

Miss McCully and Miss Helen Ladd will leave Portland next week for Salem, where they will visit Mrs. C. Knighton, a former matron, and attend a large party given by a girl friend.

Mrs. William D. Honeyman, Mrs. David C. Lewis and Walter Honeyman, all journeyed to Dayton, Monday, to be present at the wedding of Mrs. Hamilton Brooks and Thomas D. Honeyman, which was solemnized at Mrs. Brooks' former home in Dayton at high noon. The wedding was a very quiet affair, owing to the recent death of Mrs. Brooks' father, Mr. Hutchison, and only immediate relatives were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Honeyman left Dayton immediately after the ceremony for "Spring" by Regis. "The Beaming Eyes" by MacDowell. "Hilary" by De-Quasi. "At Midnight" by Bossi. "Echo" by Bossi. "Mrs. Roger Simons" by Shoultz. "Tschalkowski" by Gorden. "My Garden" by Von Sittman. "Vanika's Son" by Sittman.

Mrs. D. A. Shindler, Mrs. J. D. Hart, Mrs. W. W. Cotton and Mrs. A. J. Giesy presided at the table in the dining-room, which was decorated with shaggy pink chrysanthemums. In the library was another table where Mrs. J. C. Robinson, Mrs. Walter M. Cook, Mrs. F. B. Chamberlain and Miss Frances Warren dispensed ices and tea. Assisting in the dining-room were Mrs. Gerald Beebe, Miss Maida Hart, Miss Isabella Gaud, Miss Meta Buchner and Miss Jessie "Clare" Lane. Mrs. Roger Simons wore old blue satin draped with embroidered marquisette.

Mrs. George Willett's gown was of plum-colored tulle, elaborated with gold passementerie and touches of cerise.

Mrs. Fred Alva Jacobs was in old rose satin trimmed with green, and Mrs. J. D. Honeyman wore a becoming creation of orange satin draped with black Chantilly lace.

Mrs. E. C. Mears was in black chiffon, embroidered in Persian design. Miss Tika Von Bolton wore Dresden silk.

Mrs. William MacLae was attired in a Persian creation of green satin, veiled with black chiffon.

Miss Carrie Lee Chamberlain made her formal bow in Washington society Thursday afternoon, at a large reception given by her parents, Senator and Mrs. George W. Chamberlain, at their home in Q street. The house was decorated with a profusion of pink roses, ferns, smilax and palms. Mrs. Emil Theiss, wife of Commander Theiss, United States Navy; Mrs. C. W. Reamer, a sister and guest of Mrs. Chamberlain; Mrs. Henry, wife of Representative Henry, of Texas, and Mrs. C. H. Shotton presided at the table in the dining-room. Assisting about the rooms were: Miss Anna Barton, of Portland; Miss Letta May Henry, Miss Edith Grace, Miss Dorothy Taylor, Miss Emily Beatty, Miss Dorothy Gray Brooks, Miss Amparo Rivero, Miss Elizabeth Cronshaw, Miss Ellen Fillebrown and Miss Cecilia Elmer.

Miss Chamberlain received in a charming creation of pale blue crepe meteor, outlined with white swansdown, and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. Mrs. Chamberlain was distinguished in black satin, cut on severe lines and elaborated with cut steel beads trimming. Miss Chamberlain is popular in the capital and has been extensively entertained during her residence in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dougherty left Portland Wednesday for Salt Lake, where they will visit Mrs. Dougherty's sister, Mrs. Charles A. Kinney, who has been in New York for several weeks, also will pass the Christmas season with Mrs. Whitley.

Miss Winifred Jewett is planning to return to her home in Marysville, Cal., during the holidays. Miss Jewett has been entertained during her visit in Portland as the guest of Miss Leslie Wedler.

Percy Blyth, E. L. Ireland Blyth and J. P. Robertson, who will leave Portland Saturday for New York, were hosts at a farewell dinner at the Brookline Club on Tuesday evening. Seated about the table, which was decorated with pink roses and violets, were E. W. Honan, Walter F. Burwell, Roderick MacLae, F. W. Leadbetter, Andrew Kerr, J. N. Coghlan, Warren E. Thomas, William MacMaster, C. F. Adams, Percy Blyth, J. S. Josselyn, W. A. MacLae, Thomas Kerr, Frank Wilder, Del. Walter Gifford, R. S. Howard, J. D. Wilcox, Dr. K. A. J. Macken, Dr. Hunt Lewis, Peter Kerr and E. L. Blyth.

Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, Roderick MacLae and J. D. Wilcox were the speakers at a banquet given at the Hotel Wolcott for England on the Olympic day.

The many friends of Miss Harriet Pomeroy in Portland will be interested in the following clipping from a San Francisco paper:

Miss Harriet Pomeroy is at the Children's Club Tuesday evening at the effects of an attack of appendicitis. Mrs. Carter P. Pomeroy, who has taken the leading rôle in the "Columbia" school, were going to produce. It has been possible to see Miss Pomeroy's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux have sent out cards for an at home Christmas afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Bernice S. Josselyn, Jr., who is a student in an Eastern college, is passing the holidays with his family at the handsome Josselyn home at Mount Tabor.

The first concert of the season given by the Apollo Club Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple was a musical and social success. The large and fashionable audience received both the chorus and soloists with enthusiasm.

Mrs. Solomon Hirsch and her daughters, the Misses Mae and Clementine Hirsch, have returned from an Eastern trip.

Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph and Miss Hazel Dolph returned last week from a visit of several weeks in California. They were entertained extensively in San Francisco.

Mrs. Robert Treat Pratt is en route to Switzerland, where she will pass several months. Mrs. Pratt sailed from New York December 14.

Registered at the Hotel Wolcott in New York last week were Henry Goode, Mrs. A. Chamberlain, of Portland, Henry Goode will be a guest at the J. Wesley Ladd home during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nixon, who have spent the past two and one-half years in Europe, returned home last week and are at Hotel Portland.

Bache, Mrs. Denman, Miss Elizabeth Bacon, Mrs. W. S. Fiddis, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Corbett and party.

Mrs. Eleanor Martin, of San Francisco, complimented Mrs. J. M. Elliott, wife of Captain Elliott, United States Navy, of the Maryland, and Miss Patricia Elliott with a dinner last week.

A wedding of the week which was celebrated without ostentation, but which was interesting from a social point of view, was the marriage of Mrs. Rhoads Moller, of Hood River, with Bishop Charles Scadding, of the Episcopal Church, officiating, at the home of the bride's father, W. G. Oberbauer, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Later about 40 guests called on the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Moller have gone East, where they expect to remain for several months. They will visit Mr. Moller's family in Philadelphia before returning to the Moller ranch at Hood River, where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Honeyman will leave Portland for San Francisco next Tuesday.

Mrs. Ralph Wilbur and Mrs. John C. Lewis left Portland Monday for the East. They expect to return to Europe shortly after the first of the year.

C. H. Davis, Jr., is passing the holidays at his home in Pasadena.

Last summer this club, which has won many laurels, made a tour of England, Germany and France, giving concerts in conjunction with the foreign universities. For the last three summers the University of California Glee Club has made annual trips to New York City.

Walter, Eugene Oppenheimer, C. H. Norrin, J. P. Cronin, Walter Gradder, W. D. Prudhomme, E. Bancroft and E. Hubbard. The Elding Academy was elaborately decorated with festoons of cedar and large Christmas bells. The tandems were particularly attractive in their drill, and high jumps of over five feet were taken by William Walters, Harry Kerron, Roy Bennett and Eugene Oppenheimer.

The first of a series of subscription dances was given Friday evening at the Masonic Temple by the Camaraderie Club. The dancing rooms were decorated with evergreens and red Christmas balls.

The patronesses are Mrs. Millard C. Holbrook, Mrs. Frank Watkins, Mrs. Oliver King Jeffery, Mrs. Frederick L. Rotsford, Mrs. William J. Lyons and Mrs. William Detwiler (June Sterling), Oliver King Jeffery, C. Ralph Knight, scene. Particularly attractive were the chariot-race figure with eight boys harnessed abreast with ribbons, driven by the same number of girls. The boat-castle, a new dance, was introduced at this party. The paroloid figure, danced with Japanese parasols of rainbow hues, was also a pretty sight. Miss Antoinette Mears, Miss Elizabeth Jacobs, and Miss Mary Warrack assisted with the favors.
