

Leroy Williams, Frederick Martin, Harry Stephens and Miss E. Young are members of the committee.

The Camaraderie Club, which is composed of members of the Multnomah Club and their friends, expects to give a subscription dance every month until Spring.

Mrs. L. Dellar and her daughter, Miss Rose Dellar, of Spokane, are the holiday guests of Mrs. A. Fleischman, of Northrup street. Many social functions have been arranged for Miss Dellar during the holidays.

Mrs. Frank Swanton asked a number of girls to a swimming luncheon at the Young Women's Christian Association Monday to meet Miss Dellar. The guests were Mrs. Walter Honeyman, Mrs. A. E. Neate, Miss Wilson, of New York, Mrs. L. Dellar, Miss Rose Dellar, Miss Phyllis Neate, of London, England, Miss Clara Fleischman, Miss Hazel Westermire and Miss Winifred Abbott. Mrs. Swanton entertained at dinner for Miss Dellar Wednesday evening.

Mrs. R. A. Marshall and Miss Vivian Marshall returned Sunday from an extended European trip. While away Miss Marshall studied music in Paris, London and Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Smith entertained with a card party last Saturday evening to celebrate their 20th wedding anniversary. Prizes were won by Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Golligher, Mr. Ash and Mr. Camp. Miss Mary Stuart Smith received with her parents, Assisting Mrs. Smith were Mrs. A. D. Charlton, Mrs. W. D. Jefferson, Mrs. T. T. Strain and Mrs. Adolph Dekun.

Harry Lytle, who is a student in an Eastern school, arrived home Thursday. He will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lytle, during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Fleischer will open their beach home at Seaside and entertain a house party over New Year's day. Among their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischer and Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Metzger.

Mrs. Jesse R. Sharp and daughters, Dorothy and Constance, of Prospect Drive, accompanied by Mrs. Eliza W. Ostrander, of Spokane, Wash., sailed from New York for London, England, on the Victoria on December 12. They will remain in Paris for some time, where the Misses Sharp will attend school, and will visit points of interest on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thompson and their young son, Edward, will leave Portland January 12 for New York, where they will remain for a few days before sailing for Europe. They are the Thompsons expect to visit Berlin and Naples, and to tour Ireland, Scotland and England. They are planning to sail from Liverpool March 27 on the Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy W. Blanchard, who have returned from their winter trip, will be the guests of Mrs. Blanchard's mother, Mrs. Thomas Connell, until the first of the year.

Miss Hilda Jacobs is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Phillip Goshinsky, in San Francisco.

Miss Emma Klosternowall complimented Miss Dorothy Newhall, a bride-elect, with a matinee party on Monday afternoon at the Orpheum, and tea at the Portland Hotel on Tuesday afternoon. The guests were Miss Dorothy Newhall, Mrs. A. Rogers, Miss Kate Brazel, Miss Ruth Small, Miss Lillian Bushner, Miss Gretchen Klossman, Miss Louise Smith, Miss Verna Guthrie and Miss Marjorie Forbis.

Miss Mildred Morgan, a popular bride-elect, has the motif for much of the entertaining of the week. On Monday Mrs. Robert Noonan (Miss Mary Cronan) entertained with an Orpheum matinee party in honor of Miss Morgan. Later on Tuesday she was entertained at tea at the Portland Hotel. Mrs. Noonan's guests were Miss Mildred Morgan, Miss Dorothy Bour, of Chicago, Miss Louise Poulson and Edna Minsinger.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Morgan entertained the bridal party at their home. The guests were Miss Dorothy Bour, Miss Josephine Cronan, Miss Edna Minsinger, Owen Summers, Jr., Harry Humphrey, Henry Buchner and Mrs. E. H. Morgan. Mrs. E. H. Morgan was hostess at an elaborate luncheon for her niece, Miss Mildred Morgan, on Thursday. Covers were laid for Miss Dorothy Bour, Miss Edna Minsinger, Miss Josephine Cronan, Miss Lillian Morgan, Miss Louise Poulson, Mrs. W. L. Morgan and Mrs. C. H. Edwards. The elaborate afternoon frolic was worn by the guests at the affair were all in tones of red and green to harmonize with the color scheme of the luncheon, which was carried out in the Christmas coloring. The table was decorated with a centerpiece of poinsettias, surrounded with a wreath of holly, and the place cards were decorated with red carnations and malabar fern.

After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to a card party. The room was profusely decorated with holly, Oregon grape and mistletoe.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert have returned from their Eastern and Southern trip in time to pass Christmas at home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tichner were dinner hosts on Wednesday evening, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Ira Powers, who will leave soon for Grand Rapids, New York. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tichner are planning to join Mr. and Mrs. Powers in the East about February 1. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Powers, Mrs. G. A. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lyons, Mrs. George Sterling, of Pacific Creek and Mrs. J. Sterling. After dinner the evening was devoted to bridge. Mrs. Powers and Mr. Lyon were the fortunate contestants.

Mr. and Mrs. Tichner also were hosts at dinner last week in honor of Mrs. S. J. Cutting and Miss Kathleen Cutting, who are visiting S. J. Cutting, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hawkins and their small daughter, Margaret, left Portland last Sunday for the East, where they will pass the holidays with relatives.

Mrs. F. J. Mann is at Hotel Del Monte, where she expects to pass the Winter.

Mrs. George D. Stackpole and Miss Florence Stackpole left Portland last week for New York City, where they will pass the Winter with Mr. and Mrs. John Proctor.

Gerald W. Reed has returned from Stanford University, and will pass the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Rose Reed Hanscome.

Miss Marie Haller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Haller, who is attending Mount Vernon Seminary, in Washington, has been visiting in Philadelphia, and will spend Christmas with her aunt in New York City. Miss Haller will return to Washington the latter part of the week.

The alumni of the Hill Military Academy have sent out cards for a hop to be given at the academy army, Wednesday evening, December 27, at 8 o'clock. The patroness for this affair are: Mrs. J. Ernest Laidlaw, Mrs. Joseph W. Hill, Mrs. Herbert Holman, Mrs. G. W. McDonough,

Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman and Mrs. Andrew C. Fenton.

GOSSIP OF THE ARMY POST.

General and Mrs. Marlon P. Maus will hold a formal reception in their quarters for the officers and women of the post, from 4 until 7 o'clock, New Year's day. It is probable that Colonel George K. McDunnough, commander of the post, also will hold open house during the day.

Lieutenant J. C. Beatty went to Seattle Friday to spend the Christmas holidays with friends.

Miss Helen Guerin, a popular young woman, much entertained in the post last Summer and who has been visiting in Sandusky, O., and other Eastern cities for the past three months, has returned and will pass Christmas with relatives here.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Condon C. McCornack left Saturday for Seattle, to pass the Christmas holidays. They will later visit relatives in Eugene, Or., and on February 5, will sail for the Philippine Islands. Lieutenant McCornack is a University of Oregon graduate. This is his first trip to the islands.

All of the 11 organization in the post will be excused from duty on Christmas day, except patrol and police, and each one will enter in the competition for the best decorated quarters and dining-room. The Christmas decorations of the enlisted men's quarters are being decorated with real live plants. A series of three military hop will be given before March 5, when the First Infantry is to sail for the Philippine Islands. It is probable that the third hop will be in the way of a farewell reception to the departing regiment of First Infantry.

Major and Mrs. Charles E. Taysman will entertain Lieutenants F. C. Burnett, S. W. Scoufield, Walter E. Prigden, and James A. Uilo Christmas day.

The first formal military hop of the season will be held in the post gymnasium Friday evening, December 23. Either the Second Field Artillery or the First Infantry Band will furnish music. It is planned to make this an unusually brilliant event, and many society folk from Portland and beyond will be invited to attend. The hop will be given before March 5, when the First Infantry is to sail for the Philippine Islands. It is probable that the third hop will be in the way of a farewell reception to the departing regiment of First Infantry.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Foster entertained a number of young people in honor of Miss May Foster, Saturday evening, December 16.

Mrs. Roy F. Waring, who was Miss Margaret Dubois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Dubois, of Vancouver, and who is with her husband in the Philippine Islands with the Second Field Artillery, is expected home soon for a visit with her parents. Lieutenant Waring has been ordered to the island of Jolo.

First Lieutenant Wiley F. Dawson, of the Twenty-first Infantry, has been ordered to Vancouver Barracks for station.

Lieutenant Thomas C. Spencer, of the First Infantry, is expected to arrive this week from Philadelphia with his bride whom he married December 11. The officers of the First Infantry will give a handsome present to Lieutenant and Mrs. Spencer. Mrs. Spencer was formerly Miss Jeanette Klander and is well known in Portland society, where she was entertained at the home of Miss Genevieve Thompson the past two Summers.

It is probable that Miss Eleanor Sears, sister of Lieutenant Robert Sears, will remain in New York for the Winter.

Major F. G. Mauldin, Inspector-General of the Western Division, ordered his troops to assemble at the field Monday morning for a three days' march, equipped as though in actual warfare. The soldiers, always prepared to march on Fishers Landing, where each officer and each man was required to cook his own dinner with only through additional problems and returned to their quarters at night after a 16-mile march. The wagons were packed with shelter tents and food and forage for three days' stay in the field, but Major Mauldin did not require it. Every day during the week the different organizations were inspected by Major Mauldin.

The post Christmas tree, for the officers and enlisted men's children, to have been held Christmas night in the post gymnasium, has been postponed on account of the prevalence of scarlet fever in the City of Vancouver. The celebration will be held at a later date.

One of the noteworthy events of the season was the performance of "King Lear" given by the dramatic department of the Portland Shakespeare Study Club, on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. T. S. Townsend, in Laurelhurst. The students acted the difficult scenes in a masterly way, which only proves that they have made a profound study of the play but that they have great dramatic ability. Mrs. Allen Todd's interpretation of Lear was particularly noteworthy and would have been creditable.

PORTLAND GIRL BECOMES THE BRIDE OF ILWACO MAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Niblin celebrated their silver wedding anniversary, December 16, at their home on the Section Line road in the presence of relatives and friends. Among those present were Mrs. E. A. Kelly, mother of Mrs. Niblin; Mrs. and Mrs. James G. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peterson, Mrs. D. A. Groat and Charles Niblin. Many beautiful presents were received from friends. Mr. and Mrs. Niblin were married on the Kelly home-stead farm 25 years ago and they have lived in that neighborhood ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldstaub entertained the M. B. A. Booster Club at their residence on Wednesday evening. Music and cards formed the entertainment of the evening and later a Dutch supper was served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Powell, Mrs. H. Price, Mrs. V. Fallow, Mrs. A. McSherry, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. B. Wheeler, F. D. Laube, W. J. Applegate, Harry Hanson, James McSherry, Lee Applegate, John Price, M. McSherry.

Mrs. W. C. Hare gave a luncheon Thursday at her home on the Section Line road in the presence of relatives and friends. Among those present were Mrs. E. A. Kelly, mother of Mrs. Niblin; Mrs. and Mrs. James G. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peterson, Mrs. D. A. Groat and Charles Niblin. Many beautiful presents were received from friends. Mr. and Mrs. Niblin were married on the Kelly home-stead farm 25 years ago and they have lived in that neighborhood ever since.

Miss Elizabeth Henry, Charles W. Ford, of Irwaco, and Miss Elizabeth Henry, of Portland, were married Saturday, December 23, at the parsonage of the First Congregational Church, Rev. Luther Dyott officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Ford left Portland on the steamer Beaver for San Francisco Saturday evening, on their wedding trip.

Miss Elizabeth Henry, Charles W. Ford, of Irwaco, and Miss Elizabeth Henry, of Portland, were married Saturday, December 23, at the parsonage of the First Congregational Church, Rev. Luther Dyott officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Ford left Portland on the steamer Beaver for San Francisco Saturday evening, on their wedding trip.

Mrs. William K. Russell, of Boasire, was surprised at her home on Wednesday afternoon, and received many handsome gifts. At luncheon covers were laid for 12. Five-Hundred was the game of the afternoon. The prize for professional. The roles of Genesis and Regan, the ungrateful daughters, were successfully portrayed by Mrs. Anton Gleibisch and Mrs. W. L. Tomlinson. Miss Mabelle Heffertin, as Cordelia, the martyr daughter, was charmingly natural. Kent, France, Burgundy, Albany, Cornwall, Gloucester and Edgar were all cleverly portrayed. Mrs. U. S. Dodge in "Edgar's Soliloquy," and Mrs. P. L. Thompson as Kent in the banishment scene both displayed decided talent. Mrs. Albert Brown and Mrs. Dodge in the scene between Edgar and Gloucester, after the latter has lost his eyes, were especially good. Mrs. Roy Peterson, as France, and Mrs. S. Rasmussen, as Lear, both gave intelligent conceptions of the parts. The character of the Duke of Cornwall, though not given much opportunity for a display of dramatic ability, was well handled by Mrs. W. W. Downard. The difficult part of the fool fell to Mrs. R. E. Jones, and her conception of the part and clever delivery of the lines delighted the audience. Between acts Mrs. Herbert G. Reed gave a resume of the scenes that were not given. The performance was a splendid success and was creditable both to the performers and their dramatic teacher, Miss Marion Lowell. The club will resume the study of Shakespeare in January, taking "Macbeth" for the next play. The club has already accomplished much in its chosen line, and the members expect to do better work in the future. Heartly praise was given its leader, Mrs. J. C. La Barre.

Eighty-five residents of the Patton home were guests Friday night at a Christmas party held in the parlors of the institution. A large Christmas tree bore in its branches gifts for every person in the home. The distribution of the gifts was supervised by a programme of musical selections. Rev. W. L. Malloy offered prayer and Dr. W. B. Buchanan delivered a brief address. The gifts were distributed by Dorothy Nell, Catherine Twomey, Helen Wilcox, Harry Richards, Mrs. B. F. Weaver, representing the guests of the evening, thanked the officers of the home for their generous courtesy. The officers of Patton Home, who were all present, are: President, Mrs. G. H. Rand; vice-president, Mrs. O. B. Burgard; treasurer, Mrs. O. B. Ballou; secretary, Mrs. A. Lang; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. D. Gile.

The Piedmont Presbyterian Sunday School held its Christmas entertainment Friday evening. Despite the heavy rain, the building was full to standing room. The program was themselves most creditably, reflecting the painstaking efforts which had been made by the women who had charge of the program. The O. K. (Knights of the King) boys (an organization fostered by Rev. J. Snyder, minister of the church), presented the pastor with a handsome Morris chair, upholstered in brown leather. Mr. Snyder was also remembered. The time-honored Christmas tree bore rich and diversified fruit which was distributed and received with equal gladness. The decorations were made of ferns and Oregon grape, with an immense arch in one corner, under which the bride stood. The bride was beautifully gowned in cream mesaline, trimmed with heavy and marabou. Her veil was caught up with asparagus, fern and carnations. Miss Edna Mae Lindburg, of Portland, an intimate friend of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a pale blue mesaline, with gold and lace trimmings, and carried pink carnations. The bridegroom was attended by Arthur Smith, brother of the bride, and only relatives and intimate friends were present, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Smith, Mrs. W. Smith and son, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Smith, Frank M. Smith, uncle of the bride, Rev. W. T. Scott, of Salem; E. H. Thompson, Miss Lucy Belle Eastman, of Portland, and Miss Edna Lindburg, of Portland.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served. The table was tastefully decorated.

Mrs. Cook is the daughter of a wealthy farmer who has resided

George M. Hunt, of Berkeley, Cal., and Miss Alma E. Hales, of this city, were married Wednesday morning, December 19, at the Taylor-Street Methodist Episcopal Church at 9 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. Benjamin Young, performing the ceremony. Mr. Hunt is a chemist in the employ of the Government Forestry Service. Miss Hales is membership secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of this city, and is very popular with all her associates. The young couple will make their home in Berkeley, Cal.

Norman A. Ely and Miss Eva Lawrence were married Wednesday afternoon at the White Temple, Rev. W. R. Hinson officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair, owing to the recent death of the bride's sister. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Lawrence, of Lents, formerly of Woodburn.

A pretty wedding took place last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Simons, at 194 East Seventy-sixth street, in Montavilla, when their daughter, Miss Irena E. Tyner, became the bride of Harold E. Mangold, of Tacoma. A large assemblage of relatives and friends attended the ceremony. Miss Ella Johnson was bridesmaid and Charles E. Stevens acted as groomsmen. Rev. Harold Oberg was the officiating clergyman.

The house was artistically decorated with Oregon grape and ferns. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Mangold went immediately to Tacoma, where they will make their future home.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J. Hookinson and Miss Edith Cochran were married in the chapel of the First Divine Truth Church, Tuesday evening, December 19, at 125 North Twenty-second street, at the corner of Hoyt street. The programme was an interesting one. A large assembly of relatives and friends witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white serge, cut on severe lines, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hookinson will make their home in Sellwood.

Miss Edith Cochran, A. J