APPLE PLANS GREAT

Big Aid Seen in Merger of Four in Selling Agency.

COMMITTEE ENDS WORK

Report Expected in Forthright—State Horticultural Society Head Lands Hood River-Rogue River-Wenatchee-Yakima Tie.

Apple-growers who are keeping in touch with the movement to form a great selling agency for the fruit of the Northwest believe the plan is feasible and that it will be of incalculable benefit to the industry. The committee sent here by the Hood River Apple-Growers' Union to investigate the workings of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange has completed its labors, so far as a scrutiny of the books and an inquiry into the working plans of the exchange are concerned, and will make its report to the officials and stockholders of the Hood River Union within the next two weeks. Until the subject is acted upon formally at Hood River, no steps will be taken by the other unions concerned.

Four in Merger Plans. The programme, as it stands now, is to merge the selling departments of the Hood River, Rogue River, Yakima and Wenatchee unions into one central agency, which will direct the marketing of the fruit of the four big unions in this and coming years. It is proposed to take over the business of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, which has its headquarters here. The exchange, in the past two years, has perfected its selling system until it now has an outlet in all the markets, large and small, in the United States and also good prospects for doing business in foreign countries. Such a system would be invaluable to the four large unions, as it would not only give them an additional outlet, but by the purchase of the business of the exchange they would thus remove a strong competitor from the field.

The transfer of the exchange to the combined unions, if it goes through, will be by the purchase of a controlling interest in the stock of the exchange.

Purchase Money Ready. The money is available for the purchase, and if the project is approved by the union stockholders, the deal will be closed in ample time to have everything ready for moving the coming crop.

A. P. Bateman, of Mosier, president of the State Horticultural Society, is an enthusiastic champion of the project. He said yesterday: "I feel certain the merger will be consummated. I think as soon as it is explained to the stockholders of the four big unions they will approve of it. It is the best thing that could happen for the fruit industry of the Northwest, and particularly for the apple growers of Hood River, Rogue River, Wenatchee and Yakima. The Northwestern Fruit Exchange has a magnificent system of selling, and it is in the hands of men of exceptional ability. I sincerely hope bringing the 'Big Four' together and obtaining control of the exchange may be a success."

SPORTSMEN WILL MEET

Banquet to Be Given by State Fish and Game Commission.

What promises to be an occasion of moment to sportsmen and all others who are interested in the preservation of wild game will be the dinner to-morrow night in the Imperial Hotel under the auspices of the Oregon Fish and Game Association. Questions relative to the preservation of game and the disbursing of the anglers' license fund will be dwelt upon in a series of addresses by well-known hunters and fishermen. Governor West will speak on "The State and Its Relation to Game Protection."

It is probable that the question of prohibiting the shooting of ducks with automatic guns will be discussed, as there is a strong sentiment in favor of the proposition. Game Warden Finley, who is chairman of the committee on arrangements, announced that a large number of acceptances have already been received to the invitations that were issued a few days ago. The list of speakers follows: John Gill, of Portland, president Oregon Fish and Game Association; "Oregon as a Game State," Dr. William Campbell, of Portland, president Fly Casters' Club; "From the Angler's Standpoint," Henry O'Malley, of Astoria, president Oregon Fish and Game Association; "What is the Game Warden's Job?" C. E. K. Stone, of Bend, president State Board of Fish and Game Commission; "Sports in Eastern Oregon," C. G. Sutherland, of Astoria, president Oregon Fish and Game Association; "What is the Commission Doing?" L. E. Bean, of Eugene, president Oregon Fish and Game Association; "Klamath County—The Mecca of the Sportsman," Governor West. The State and Its Relation to Game Protection," Gen. Simpson, of Corvallis, president Oregon Fish and Game Association; "Game Bird Propagation," A. L. Mills, president Oregon National Bank, Portland. "Duck shooting."

CO-EDS SIGN FOR 2 YEARS

University of Oregon Girl Debaters to Meet Washington in May.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—A two-year contract for "co-ed" debating between the women of the University of Washington and the University of Oregon has just been signed. When the challenge came from Seattle several days ago the Oregon management referred the matter to the Euxasian Debating Society, which has been training Anna Shaves and Ella Young at the University for many years. The Oregon girls were quick to accept the offer. The competition this year will be held in Seattle some time in May, the expense contract calling for two women debaters and one chaperone. This is the third consecutive year that the Washington and Oregon women have met on the forensic platform. Two years ago the northern representatives triumphed, but last year the Oregon women won a unanimous decision.

Sale to Southern Pacific Denied. EUGENE, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—H. A. Sumner, chief engineer of the Pacific Coast Line Railway, is here today for consultation with Ralph Hunt, chief engineer of the Pacific Great Western. Further than to deny the reported sale of these properties, or either, to the Southern Pacific Company, Mr. Sumner refused to make a statement.

ROAD REPORT FILED

County Expend $225,357 for Improvements in Year.

MUCH NEW WORK IS DONE

Protection Against Undue Wear of Macadam Highways Suggested by Superintendent Chapman. Travel Studies Made.

Multnomah County expended in the several road districts the sum of $225,357.78 in 1911, says the annual report of H. B. Chapman, road superintendent, which was filed yesterday with the County Court. "We have expended as little money as possible on unimproved roads, but have concentrated our efforts upon macadam work on the main arteries of travel," continued the report. "The county has between 500 and 600 miles of roads, 90 per cent of which have been graded, but much is yet to be done in the way of widening and reducing grades."

Mr. Chapman declares that the St. Helens road, when completed, will be the finest drive in the state. Much improvement work was done in 1911. More than 24 miles of new macadam was constructed during the year, he says, and ten miles resurfaced; 800 feet of old bridges have been replaced with solid fills, thereby doing away with further expense, and the Cornell road has been widened to 15 feet and macadamized. "The rapid growth of the City of Portland has thrown upon the great thoroughfares leading to the city a very heavy traffic. The Powell Valley road carries over 1000 vehicles a day on the average. The travel on the Base Line road was counted on a Saturday and Sunday last Fall and there were 700 autos alone which passed over the road in the space of ten hours each day. No count was kept of the wagon travel."

Superintendent Chapman recommends the replacing of the 300-foot span bridge across the Sandy River at Troutdale with a steel span, resting on concrete piers, the present bridge having reached the age limit. The county road now owns six rock quarries and ten gravel pits, and he asks for three more quarries. To reduce the damaging effects of automobile travel on macadam, he recommends heavy blanket treatment with asphaltic oil, declaring that that method has produced good results in many Eastern states. "The county now has 156 miles of macadam roads, approximately 50 miles of which are within the limits of the City of Portland. There are 75 miles of gravel roads."

JUSTICE WARNS MOTHER

Woman Is Angry When Son Is Rebuked for Escapades.

Fixed opinion of a mother that her boy could be guilty of no wrong caused a lively scene between the woman and Justice Olson in court yesterday, when S. J. Hubbard, a contractor, living at 1281 East Salmon street, was on his defense on a charge of chaining a boy in his collar.

When Justice Olson turned the tables and administered a stern lecture to Walter Hutchinson, 10 years old, and the complainant in the case, his mother became indignant and announced that she would carry the case to Judge Gates. "Do so, madame, as quickly as you can," replied Olson; "but I must tell you that, unwittingly perhaps, you are doing your boy a mischief and that some day he will be beyond your control in consequence." The Hutchinson boy was one of a gang against whom Hubbard had made frequent complaints of vandalism. The police told him to give them a scare, and on that advice he caught Walter Hutchinson and locked him in his basement. He was reclaimed by his mother and told a tale of tortures inflicted on him while a prisoner. His tale was shattered on closer questioning and the District Attorney moved for a dismissal.

PARK SITE IS SUGGESTED

L. Gerlinger Gives Views on Location of Auditorium.

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 12.—(To the Editor.)—It was about a year or so ago that the people of Portland were led to believe that they should have a public auditorium and the issuance of bonds to the amount of $600,000 placed on the ballot and voted for and carried by a large majority. The people were also led to believe that $600,000 for building alone would be ample, as the city of Portland owned a suitable site for said auditorium without having to purchase one. Shortly thereafter the committee in charge approved the site, and were proceeding with the plans, but decided that the site was not large enough and that there was no way of vacating a street on account of the Ziegler amendment. But the committee thought that might be overcome for a time, but all at once it was decided that the market block would not do, for the reason that it is not large enough, etc.

In my estimation the people residing here are the city of Portland. And if the people or the city want the auditorium on the market block they can get it there, notwithstanding the Ziegler amendment. The bonds were voted for with the understanding that the city would not have to purchase a site. Now the talk is of having to vote for another $200,000 in order to buy a site. In my opinion it is about time to stop the bonding of the city for every old thing that someone takes a fancy to. Interest works day and night, and has to be paid by the people directly and indirectly by all citizens. I would therefore suggest that if we cannot build an auditorium with what the people voted for, namely $600,000, that the matter be dropped and no more bonds be issued for that purpose.

About placing the auditorium on the East Side. That is a mistake. Notwithstanding that I am a resident of the East Side, and have large interests there, I am opposed to it for the reason that it would prove a failure. An auditorium, to be successful, must be located as near the center of transportation of passengers as possible. It must be in a location where it can be reached from all directions of the city by streetcars without having to transfer from one to another. When cars are jammed full it is hard to transfer. The West Side people would all have to transfer from one car to another, and so would one-half of the East Side population. No matter where the auditorium would be placed on the East Side, that would be the case.

In order to overcome all these difficulties and not to have another bond issue, I would suggest that the auditorium be built on the park blocks fronting the Courthouse, which we all know is easily reached by all the people without transfer, and use the Market block for a park in lieu thereof. We all know that there are not many children residing in the vicinity of the park blocks fronting the Courthouse, but there are lots of them around the Market block. It seems to me that by doing this it would solve the problem and ought to please the majority of the people.

City Will Appeal Street Dispute.

City Attorney Grant yesterday filed in Circuit Court notice of appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of Judge McGinn in the case of City of Portland against the Inman-Poulsen Lumber Company. The case involved the right of the city to dispossess the company of several street ends, which are included within the area on which the mills are located. Judge McGinn decided that title to the streets rests in the city, but declared the city estopped from taking possession as long as the company continues to use the thoroughfares for the purposes for which they are at present in use.

New Woodland Council Meets.

WOODLAND, Wash., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—The new Town Council held its first meeting Tuesday night and appointed Leo Buskirk to fill the vacancy on the Council occasioned by a tie vote between Dr. Hoffmann and L. M. Love at the annual election, in December. Each of the candidates received 80 votes and as there was no method of settling the tie, the Council named an outsider.

I Am Willing To Prove I Can Cure You

To That End I Am Giving Away $10,000 Worth of Medicine

In order to show beyond all doubt that I am in possession of a medicine that will cure kidney trouble, bladder trouble or rheumatism, I will this year give away ten thousand dollars' worth of this medicine, and anyone suffering from these diseases can get a box of it absolutely free. All that is necessary is to send me your address.

I don't mean that you are to use a part of it or all of it and pay me if cured. I mean that I will send you a box of this medicine absolutely free of charge, a gift from me to the Uric Acid sufferers of the world, so I can show them where and how they may be cured. I will not expect payment for this free medicine, nor would I accept it now or later if you sent it. It is free in the real meaning of the word.

For twenty-five years—a quarter of a century—I have been trying to convince the public that I have something genuine, something better than others have for the cure of stubborn, chronic rheumatism, for torturing kidney backache, for annoying calls to urinate. But it is hard to convince people—they try a few things unsuccessfully and give up all hope and refuse to listen to anyone thereafter. Happily, I am in a position now to demonstrate to sufferers at my own expense that I have a medicine that cures these diseases. I don't ask them to spend any money to find out; I don't ask them to believe me, nor even to take the word of reliable people, but all I ask is that they allow me to send them the medicine at my own cost. That is surely fair.

DR. LYNOTT who is giving away $10,000 worth of medicine

To this end I have set aside ten thousand dollars, which will be used to compound my medicine. Much of it is ready now to be sent out, all of it fresh and standard. There will be thousands of them. And anyone who needs it can get some of it free. But in order that I shall know that you have a disease for which this medicine is intended, I ask you to send me some of your leading symptoms. If you have any of the symptoms in the list printed here you need my medicine. Here are the symptoms: 1—Pain in the back. 2—Too frequent desire to urinate. 3—Burning or obstruction of urine. 4—Pain or soreness in the bladder. 5—Prostatic trouble. 6—Gas or pain in the stomach. 7—General debility, weakness, dizziness. 8—Pain or soreness under right rib. 9—Swelling in any part of the body. 10—Constipation or liver trouble. 11—Painful or pain under the heart. 12—Pain in the hip joint. 13—Pain in the neck or head. 14—Pain or soreness in the kidneys. 15—Pain or swelling of the joints. 16—Pain or soreness in the muscles. 17—Pain and soreness in nerves. 18—Acute or chronic rheumatism.
