

CLUB'S WORK CITED

President Kellaher, of East Side Dealers, Reviews Year.

WEEKLY FEASTS PLANNED

Leader of Business Men Recounts Organization's Activity in Many Lines and Points to Successes Won in 1911.

At the annual meeting of the East Side Business Men's Club Thursday night, in the auditorium of the East Portland Branch Library, Dan Kellaher, who had been president for a portion of the former year and who was re-elected president for the ensuing year, reviewed what the club has accomplished.

The club will hold its first luncheon next Monday at noon at the Sargent Hotel at the corner of Grand and Hawthorne avenues. Allen R. Joy, city Councilman, from the Seventh Ward, will speak on "East Side Business Franchises." A general invitation has been extended to shippers and others interested to attend. The club will give a luncheon every Monday, and speakers will be invited to address the members on popular subjects. The club decided at the annual meeting to hold these luncheons to get business men together once a week. The talks will not be longer than 15 minutes.

Year's Work Reviewed. President Kellaher, in reviewing the work of the year, said: "We did some work on the Public Service Commission movement, which seems now to be the laborer's lot, but out of it good may come, since the referendum will decide."

"Out of the agitation for better mail service in the East Side business district, we are now getting four deliveries a day instead of two and three, and the Shasta Limited mail now is worked on the train and express car at East Morrison-street station and delivered to the business houses the same afternoon."

"The project for a theater on the East Side is still under consideration, but so far has failed, for the reason that the persons interested lacked funds to handle the enterprise."

"As to the East Side freight depot, a letter from Mr. O'Brien, under date of January 8, 1912, says that they are taking the subject up with the new presidents, Farrell and Sproule, and hope to give us an early, definite statement. Our docks tonnage statistics gathered for the East Side show over 2,000,000 tons of rail freight handled in the East Side districts, and new trunk lines will soon come into this district and care for our shippers' property, should we not be able to get a square deal from the Harriman lines. They may be aroused from their slumbers yet."

"Our 1911 Rose Festival military and children's parades are history, and were bigger and better than ever, and such features should be continued as important advertisers for the East Side."

"Our public docks agitation for the East Side, with the splendid showing made by the East Side shippers, with the tonnage data presented to the public dock experts here recently, has resulted in Chairman Mulvey, of the Public Docks Commission, recommending one public dock for the East Side and one for the West Side, in the central districts, as a starter."

Bridge Fight Wins. "Agitation on closing of the draw-bridges brought good results, giving the greatest good to the greatest numbers, but recent developments in the delays show a seemingly designed disregard of the rights of the people, and the best cure would undoubtedly be to require hinged stacks for the smaller tugs and steamers, which will hope to help work out in the near future."

"The Ziegler amendment, which we favored, making city really inalienable within 500 feet of the waterfront will forever protect the city waterfront and make it possible for Portland to become the great maritime port which nature destined it to be."

"We helped in the agitation for the successful voting of new public auditorium bonds and started the movement to locate it on the East Side, in the center of the dense population, and hope to win out on it, to give equal opportunity to all, with special privileges to none, in its enjoyment."

"We endorsed and helped in the agitation for the municipal garbage collection bonds, which successfully passed, but the city authorities do not seem to have 'cold feet' on the installation."

"We opposed the 'no-seat, no-fare' ordinance, which, owing to its impracticability at this time, owing to the city's rapid growth. "We have accomplished much good in the additional parks and playgrounds movement, and by keeping after it, when the new bond issues for this work are made, we will get our share of these much-needed improvements to better the quality of our citizenship."

Alaska Trade Helped. "We endorsed the movement for Government mining of Alaska coal, so ably started by Governor West, and hope for its ultimate establishment, which will mean much to all of us on the Pacific Coast, and particularly to Portland, with the new steamship line to Alaska direct now being worked out."

"In the public market movement we gathered data from Eastern cities, gave data on East Side sites, and it is now up to the Council committee. This Council committee was for a time enveloped with 'pernicious activity,' coupled with 'megalomania' on this public market question, which gave us a sort of 'veni vidi vici' feeling, but since receiving the data, and an opinion from City Attorney Grant that it has ample power to appropriate funds for public markets, it seems to have had a change of heart and is now afflicted with 'innocuous desuetude.' "Our committee on club building is working, but has nothing definite to report as yet."

"The Elks' Carnival parade will pass over Grand avenue, resultant from our committee's work, and the drill contests will take place on this wide thoroughfare. President Kellaher also pointed to the club's endorsement of good roads and its participation in the dedication of the East Side Branch Library, built at a cost of $25,000 on a site contributed by W. B. Ayer."

Smallpox Cases Increase. The smallpox situation in the city, which was beginning to be somewhat improved, has taken a sudden turn and 11 new cases of the disease have been reported since Friday morning. One case was that of a family named Roberts, at 1119 Missouri avenue, where the parents and three children are quarantined. One of the children has been attending the Ockley Green

—Out of a Hill as High as the Spalding Bldg!

TALK about the great 16-inch guns of the new Dreadnaughts—what do they amount to when compared with the "Giant" we have right here in Portland?

Of course the 16-inch guns may pierce armour-plate, but the Portland "Giant"—why, it actually and literally has moved, and will continue to move mountains!

What for?

Just so that a few hundred of the more favored people can come up out of the streets of the city and live on the Heights as they would on the flat—and enjoy conveniences that new engineering methods now make possible for the first time anywhere.

Tell me, do you think this property—Westover Terraces—is worth while to Greater Portland?

Is it worth while to have the sites laid out individually with some artistic regard as to their location?

—And to have them level so that the cost of the home is the only cost?

—And to have a double system of terraces that sets every home on a plateau of its own—distinct, separate and complete?

—And to have the streets built as they never before have been built, so that walking is easy and autos can use the "high"?

—And above all, to have the Portland panorama—that seems to stretch a million miles and hourly, by day and night, presents a still more alluring spectacle?

But to see all of this at least should be worth while.

school. This school was fumigated yesterday, and doctors will be on hand tomorrow when school opens to examine all pupils. The other cases are being treated in different parts of the city, two of them from Albina. City Health Officer Wheeler says he expects many more cases from the Albina district on account of the long exposure of an infected case there. The patient had the disease ten days, and every day rode on the streetscars.

IMPROVEMENT PLAN URGED

Westmoreland Citizens Eager to Begin Building of Homes.

At a meeting of the Westmoreland Improvement Association the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: F. A. Anderson, president; George W. Stokes, vice-president; George A. Carter, secretary; Neil Sullivan, treasurer. The laying of sewers for Westmoreland having begun, a committee was appointed to confer with the City Council concerning plans for the main outlet sewer and to urge its construction, to the end that the system shall be operative as soon as possible. Almost every lot in the addition is held by individual owners, many of whom wish to build homes and are only waiting to be assured of sewers and hard-surface paving before beginning operation. On information presented to the association that the work of the last set of viewers, in the matter of opening East Seventeenth street, would be found unsatisfactory, a committee was appointed to confer with the authorities and urge the opening of this street as a public necessity. It was held that the Council should open this street at once, paying equitable damages to those holding the property needed. A special assessment upon the large district benefited, was favored to cover the actual cost. It was pointed out that the enormous traffic on Milwaukee street that will be affected when it comes to be torn up for hard-surfacing is likely to bring on a condition unfair to the business interests of the whole city operating in this district.

MOTHER UPHOLDS CONVICT

Woman Says "Chick" Houghton Didn't Steal, Merely Left State.

That "Chick" Houghton, now in the State Penitentiary after breaking his parole for the second time, committed the breach in order to go to San Francisco and be married, is the statement of his mother, who also clears him of stealing the money which he used to make the trip. Mrs. Houghton says that the money was given to him by her. Houghton's violation of his parole consisted in his leaving the state without permission. He did so, says the mother, in the belief that he would be able to get back before his absence was discovered. Finding that his escape was known, he delivered himself to the penitentiary officials and confessed his breach of parole.

SUCCESS MARKS CAREER

UNION COUNTY PAYS TRIBUTE TO JOHN McALLISTER.

Two Terms Served in Legislature of Oregon—Head of Farmers' Union at Time of Death.

John McAllister, president of the State Co-operative and Educational Farmers' Union, who died at La Grande Saturday morning, January 12, was a man of great force of character and held a firm place in the affections of the people of Union County. He was born in Putnam County, Missouri, June 13, 1856, and in 1882 came with his parents to Union County, Oregon. His career has been successful from every standpoint. His death is felt as a personal loss by his many acquaintances, and especially by the organization of which he was the efficient head. In 1890 he was nominated by the Democrats for the State Legislature and was elected by a small majority. In 1894 he was elected to the same position by the Populists, receiving 180 majority. In 1895 he was again nominated by the Populists, but was defeated by a small majority.

Fraternally he was affiliated with the Masons, Red Men and Artisans.

Road Campaign Pushed. Since the project was started last year to improve the eight-mile stretch of road between Rex and Tigardville, in Washington County, a large amount of work has been done and the road is in much better condition than it has ever been. It is estimated that it will take about $7000 to complete the improvements. J. C. Almsworth, president of the United States National Bank, is now treasurer of the association directing the road work and will receive all contributions from Portland residents. A campaign for more funds is again to be undertaken under the direction of George E. Waggoner. Efforts will be made to raise enough money to complete the road early this Spring.

EUGENE PLANS BIG FAIR

Extra Large Premiums to Be Given for Exhibits This Year.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 20.—(Special).—In the expectation of securing the district fair for Eugene this year, the Lane County Fair Board is planning for an extra large fair this Fall, and E. M. Warren was appointed last night to attend the meeting of the second Southern Oregon Fair Board at Roseburg. Two years ago, failing to get the district fair, Eugene organized a county board, provided grounds and held a very creditable exposition. A larger fair was held last year, likewise without state aid. ROSEBURG IS ROYAL HOST

La Grande Business Men Enjoy Short Stay and Leave for Portland.

ROSEBURG, Or., Jan. 20.—(Special).—Automobile touring through the business and residence districts, a banquet at the McClellan Hotel and a reception at the Roseburg Commercial Club rooms, comprised the entertainment feature attendant to the visit of the La Grande business men in Roseburg Friday. Greeted at the depot by a large number of Roseburg business men and formally welcomed to the city by Mayor McCall, the visitors were escorted to the McClellan Hotel, where they enjoyed luncheon. Later the guests entered automobiles and were driven about the city and given an opportunity to view the wonderful improvements of the past few years. Returning, the party passed an hour visiting the mercantile establishments in meeting the various business men of the city. Early tonight a banquet was served at the McClellan Hotel in honor of the guests. Among those who spoke were: A. C. Marsters, J. W. Hamilton, Ringer Hermann, Dexter Rice, R. E. Smith, W.

SAVED FROM DANGEROUS OPERATION—NEIGHBOR ADVISED WHAT TO DO FOR BLADDER TROUBLE.

I, too, wish to add my testimonial to the thousands you no doubt have, and will tell you what your great medicine did for me. Several months ago I was taken very sick with bladder trouble, had intense pains and suffered greatly, at times I could not stand on my feet or sit in a chair, and often was forced to cry out with pain. I consulted two doctors, who gave me different kinds of medicine, which did me no good. It seemed as though the more of their medicine I took, the worse I became. The doctors seemed to be greatly puzzled over my case and after holding a consultation I was told that I had a severe case of inflammation of the bladder and an operation was very necessary. I was being prepared to be taken to the hospital, when a neighbor came to my house and said, "Why don't you try a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root." I was willing to try anything to get relief from my suffering. My wife bought a bottle of your medicine which I began taking and soon noticed a change for the better. I continued taking it and got better right along, my appetite returned and I was able to resume work. I have used about fourteen bottles of Swamp-Root and know that had I not taken it, I would have been operated on, and perhaps never recovered. I never fail to tell my friends about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as I know it will save many people from suffering and perhaps as in my case, a dangerous operation. Yours gratefully,

SAMUEL WILSON, 651 Pierce St. N. E., Minneapolis, Minn. State of Minnesota. County of Hennepin. Personally appeared before me this 24th day of Sept., 1909, Samuel Wilson, of the city of Minneapolis, of the State of Minnesota, who subscribed the above and on oath says that same is true in substance and in fact. M. M. KERRIDGE, Notary Public. Commission expires March 26, 1914.

H. Fisher and Carl D. Shoemaker, about 100 men of the Oregon Retail Merchants' Association, en route home from Medford, alighted from the train and took luncheon at a Roseburg grill. Singing many witty songs, the merchants attracted considerable attention during their 20-minute stay in the city.
