WEDDINGS.

Von Hussen-Freerksen.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Freerksen, in Albany, last Sunday, their daughter, Margaret, was united in marriage to Harry J. Von Hussen, of San Francisco, by the Rev. Dr. E. H. Gieseler, of the First Presbyterian Church. The wedding was attended by some 40 guests, including friends and relatives. The bride was attended by Miss Freerksen, of Portland, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and the bridegroom by Fred P. Lottner, of Portland, as best man. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Clara Seelye, of Portland, a niece of the bride. The ceremony was performed under a green and white canopy in the bay window of the parlor. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, and carried white roses. Miss Jennie Freerksen wore apricot messaline, veiled with pale blue chiffon cloth, and carried orchids. Following the ceremony dainty refreshments were served by the bride's girlhood companions, after which Mr. and Mrs. Von Hussen departed on the evening train for Portland, to spend a few days, after which they will go to San Francisco to make their future home.

Stout-Deming.
One of the prettiest weddings of the week was that of Miss Mary L. Deming and Ernest D. Stout, which took place at the home of the bride on Wednesday evening, Rev. J. Goode, of the Evangelical church, officiating. The bride was charming in a gown of white messaline, cut on severe lines. She carried an armful of bride's roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Cecile Robinson, wore a chic costume of white serge and carried a bouquet of shell pink carnations. The bridegroom's brother, Waldo Stout, acted as groomsmen. The house was artistically decorated with ivy and white streamers.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the new home of the bride and bridegroom, their home was decorated with holly, myrtle and red ribbon, and red shaded candles used on the table threw a glow over the ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Stout will be at home to their friends at 251 East Forty-ninth street.

Melton-Hond.
A pretty wedding of the week was that of Miss Virginia Bond and W. Carlton Melton, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McElhenny, of Yamhill, Or., Wednesday at high noon. Professor O. V. White, of Albany College, uncle of the bride, entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Blanche Bernard, of Portland. The bridesmaid was Miss Mabel McInturf and the bridegroom was attended by W. H. Maben. The ring service was read under an arch of white flowers and foliage. The bride was crowned in gray chiffon over gray satin. Her veil fell from beneath a Juliet cap and her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Melton expect to make Portland their home, as Mr. McInturf has business interests here.

BOWLEY-COLLIER.

Lawrence H. Bowley, of Somerville, Mass., and Miss Grace Collier were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hannah L. Collier, Tuesday at 4 P. M. The bride is a member of the younger set and is the daughter of Mrs. Hannah L. Collier and the late Robert Collier, of this city.
