Indiana, Too, Affected by What Supporters Regard as Treachery.

REFERENDUM REAL BLOW

Disapproval of New Jersey Man's Attitude Regarded as Motive Behind Opposition Now Rapidly Developing.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—If Editor Watterson, of the Courier-Journal, should throw his influence against the candidacy of Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, in consequence of the Harvey-Wilson break, what would be the effect in Indiana and the South? is a question that has been frequently asked here in the past two days.

The anti-Wilson Democrats are convinced that Editor Watterson would wield a great influence in Indiana should he enter the fight to defeat Wilson in the Baltimore convention. It is said that the Louisville editor has effectively closed the door to any influence with the Administration if Wilson should be nominated and elected.

These Democrats are convinced that Watterson is not in sympathy now with the candidacy of Governor Wilson and they say that the Louisville editor has effectively closed the door to any influence with the Administration if Wilson should be nominated and elected.

The active anti-Wilson sentiment among Democrats here is not so much the result of a disagreement between the editor of the Harper publications and Wilson as it is the outgrowth of disapproval of the initiative and referendum, which the New Jersey Governor has brought so prominently into his canvass.

Wilson Men Fear Outcome.

The three days that have elapsed since the Watterson-Harvey statements have marked a decided change in the manner in which the Wilson men themselves view the possible result. At first they declared that it would not amount to anything and that Wilson would be stronger by reason of his breaking away from Harvey. They now say that the incident has been seized upon for making capital against their candidate, and that while there is nothing in it, the affair is being magnified until it may exercise a good deal of influence; that the men who are agitating it were never for Wilson; that they realized that he was the strongest man before the people; that he is in accord if anything with Bryan, and that it is this accord which they resent, and the Harvey-Wilson incident simply furnished a pretext for forensic opposition.

WATTERSON PROMISES PROOF

"Court of Gentlemen" Suggested to Determine Issue.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Colonel Watterson issued a statement today in the controversy with Senator Tillman, the Wilson managers and others, in which he said:

"In my letter to Senator Tillman I promised proof of any statement made by me that might be disputed. Governor Wilson denies that I had any conversation with him or had any agent of his to raise money for his campaign. I have the proof that I have not only authorized, but that I actually raised a considerable sum."

"I hold myself ready to furnish this proof to Senator Tillman at once if he will do me the honor personally to call on me, as I am confined to my hotel and cannot call on him. If Senator Tillman's denial is true, I will inspecting this proof, be either equivocal or insufficient, I propose that Governor Wilson name two confidential friends, I naming two, the four to name a fifth, and this court of gentlemen established to determine the issue between us."

"I must insist that this be done without delay, as I shall have to leave Washington next Tuesday night to fill important engagements elsewhere."

While Colonel Watterson was writing, Senator Tillman had been induced to make a statement, in which he said:

"Senator Tillman declined to be interviewed further in regard to the incident, saying there was no longer an issue between Colonel Watterson and himself. The issue is now between Governor Wilson and Colonel Watterson, and they must settle it for themselves. So far as he was concerned, he considers the matter settled and ended."

Up in New York, Colonel Harvey, editor of Harper's, said he had read the correspondence between Senator Tillman and Colonel Watterson. He would now say anything about the matter that correspondence had passed between Governor Wilson and himself since the break, which Governor Wilson was willing should be made public.

Asked if he might say anything later, either on the Tillman-Watterson correspondence, or on his break with Governor Wilson, Colonel Harvey laughed and replied:

"God bless me; I don't know. I think I'll keep out of it forever from now on."

California Committee in Clash With Hearst.

LA FOLLETTE IS FACTOR

Country Delegates Generally Favor New Jersey Man, While City Men Are for His Opponent—"No Preference" Defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Supporters of Woodrow Wilson and William Randolph Hearst as candidates for the Democratic Presidential nomination locked horns today at the meeting of the Democratic state central committee, and neither side being strong enough to carry the proposition which it thought would give its candidate the best chance at the state primaries, they were forced to compromise.

A resolution providing that candidates for delegates to the National convention be placed in the non-preference column of the primary ballot was reported favorably out of the resolutions committee, but a minority resolution, leaving the question undecided, was adopted, 82 to 87.

The committeemen advocating the "no preference" plan declared that it would result in a better popular expression of preference and would give a fuller representation to the voters of the state than the other method.

The committeemen divided into Hearst and Wilson camps early in the day. Edward Taylor and James D. Phelan, both ex-Mayors of San Francisco, were active in behalf of Wilson. Hearst forces were led by M. F. Tarpey, of Fresno. The general lines of division showed a majority of the country delegates supporting Wilson and those from the city supporting Hearst.

A resolution welcoming the women voters of the state to the privilege of the ballot was adopted by a viva voce vote.

The session was marked by several torrid speeches by supporters of Wilson, Hearst and La Follette.

SHERIFF'S WIDOW SERVES

Woman to Fill Husband's Place as Missouri Peace Officer.

LEBANON, Mo., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Nancy Hay Williams, of this city, was appointed today Sheriff of Laclede County by the County Court to serve until a special election on February 17, when a successor to her husband, Sheriff J. W. Williams, who died last week, will be elected.

Mrs. Williams is the only woman Sheriff in Missouri. She entered upon her duties at once.

Scrofula

The wonderful medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are clearly shown by this testimonial: "We had our daughter vaccinated. Before her arm healed she began to have sore eyes. Soon she was blind in one eye and could see very little with the other. Five doctors said she would be totally blind. She could not stand the light. We then gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla. When she had taken eight bottles she could stand the light, and now she can do the finest needle work." Mrs. Jennie Beardeley, Elmira, N. Y.

Remember there is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. If urged to buy and preparation said to be "just as good," insist on having Hood's.

Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

Speaker, in Formal Declaration Asks Support.

FLING IS TAKEN AT FOLK

Ex-Governor Declared to Have Right to Make Combinations, but Not to Accuse Others Wrongfully of Like Practices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Speaker Clark, in a public statement today, declared he was a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, standing on his own feet, "without leaning on any other candidate."

Only Needy Relatives Benefited.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—The will of William Morgan, a capitalist of Chicago and Pasadena, Cal., has been filed for probate here. A feature of the instrument which disposed of an estate said to be worth $1,000,000, was that only those of his relatives and friends who actually needed assistance were provided for.

Direct Advertising

DIFFERENT ADVERTISING MEN have different ideas about the kind of advertising which brings results. I believe in getting right down to brass tacks. I endeavor to make my copy as near like a personal selling talk as possible. It must always be direct and to the point. It must be alive and convincing—if possible, compelling. This rule applies to newspaper, booklet or form-letter advertising. Let me know your requirements.

An Opportunity for a Salesman

This Is the Kind of a Man I Am Looking For

First of all, he must be a man who thoroughly believes in himself. Second, he must be a worker—a fellow who believes in "keeping everlastingly at it." Third, he must be the kind of a man who falls in love with his work—who makes his business his one most important consideration. Fourth, he must be a man who lives within his income—a man who saves a portion of his earnings. Fifth, the man I engage will be one who looks to his physical welfare—a man who makes it a point to be in working trim every morning.

Now, then, the man I am looking for may be a salesman already—working in a field that is limited. Or, he may never have been a salesman but is capable of being developed into one. We have a school where we teach a man the science of selling. This school develops a man's latent powers. I have men working for me who never sold a thing in their lives until they came here. These men are making good—they are closing business and making money.

If you believe you can measure up to the requirements outlined you are the man I am looking for. If you are the right man there is no limit to the amount of money you can command for your efforts. If you think you are the man I am looking for, call for an interview at the offices of Columbia Life & Trust Company, 916 Spalding Building, between the hours of 9 and 12 A. M.
