Buyers Send Up Prices in Walla Walla Country.

Extensive buying of wheat, said to be chiefly by speculators, at sharply advanced prices has excited the country markets. The keepest competition yesterday was in the Respect competition yesterday was in the Walla Walla country, but the excitement spread to other districts.

Severa, transactions were reported from Walla Walla, the largest sale being a 40,000-bushel lot of club, which changed hands at a price equal to $5% cents here. Bluestem sold in the same market on the basis of 90 cents. In Umarilla County these were sales of club at the same price as at Walla Walla. Most of the buying appeared to be by country speculators, but Coast millers were also in the market and meeting the bids of the other buyers. In the local market higher prices were quoted, but not equal to those paid in the country.

The cais market was firm, with holders asking $52.50 and sales made at that prices.

Eastern Brewers Evidently Have Enough to Carry Them. It is evident from the indifference shown serious browers that the season for 1911 hope is practically at an end. There are no doubt some wants yet to be sup-plied, but consumers show no anxiety over the situation. Dealers holding hope are on the selling side and this is gradually carry-ing prices down from the high level touched in the height of the season.

The contract market appears firm in spite of the softness of epot hops. The new crop, however, is a long way off and what conditions will be in the furnmer can only be guessed. According to advices from California received resterday, Wolf & Net-ter have paid 27 cents for Sacramentos and 27% cents for Yolos of the new crep. Twenty cents is being offered to California for

"There is nothing new to report in respect to the trade in hops in the borough. Although the demand is generally quiet, prices centime to show a hardening tendency for all descriptions, both new and eld, the supply being exceptionally short. On the continental markets the prices are a little safer, but are still in advance of all other countries of production. Pacific Coast advices state that values are again advancing.

"On the Worcester market on Saturday there was more inquiry, but trade is limited by the very small quantities on offer. Holders are very firm and express themselves quite conf-dent as to getting higher prices later on."

Lendlen hop factors trade circulars say:
"Wild, Neame & Co.—The demand during the week has been quite up to the average for this period of the year. There are very lew parcels of the last crop on offer at present prices. Values remain firm."
"Manger & Henley—The demand is of a quiet nature and for present requirements any. Prices remain firm and unchanged."
"W. H. and H. LeMay—There has been considerable trade done in aid hops during the past week, prices for which are harder, and several parcels of 1911's have also changed hands at full current rates." hanged hands at full current rates.

factor in the situation. The Boston Commercial Bulletin says:

The situation locally so far as the market for mehair is concerned is absolutely without change, stocks being extremely limited and demand being practically nil. The mills have covered their present requirements and indeed have purchased shead for some time to come.

In England modalr yarn spinners state that they can find no particular business on the consuming end of the trade and so are not anxious to buy risw material, notwithstanding the fact that they could undoubtedly get it much cheaper at the moment than they could some time back. The Cape market is reported cleaned up, and the stock in Constantinople has been diminished somewhat, about 300 bags being reported solid during the month of December besides more or less off sorts. America has taken a fair amount of the finer offerings included in the 3000 bags reported. Buying there, however, is said to be confined to ease of two firms and is by no means general.

High Dividend Payer Goes Below Reading.

St. Paul Shows Strength as Result of Favorable Earnings Report for December-Selling of Steel Continues.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Trading in the stock market today was altogether of a superficial and unimportant character. The volume of business was light and more than ordinarily restricted to the operations of the professional element. Net changes, except in the case of coalers, which were subjected to some pressure, were slight.

For the first time since the introduction of Lehigh Valley shares in this market that stock, a 19 per cent dividend payer, sold under Reading, which prices only 6 per cent. There was no known development to account for this condition, but board room gossip had it that Lehigh Valley is selling "ex-mystory," while Reading has yet to make its much discussed dividend distribution.

Union Pacific and United States Steel were moderately active, but frequently reflected selling of a character that has marked these particular issues for the past fortnight.

The Financier will say: For the first time in a number of weeks, the New York clearing-house banks reported a decrease in surplus reserve, the statement of actual conditions for the week having shown a contraction of $1,807,200 in that item. The statement of averages, however, indicated an expansion of $131,000 was on report of actual conditions at $40,775,850.

The loan item continued to show rapid expansion, the increase for the week ending saturday having been $24,145,000, bringing the total to very near the record mark.

The bank statement for some weeks has been affected by very heavy financial operations, dealing particularly with international loans and trust companies in reorganization, etc., and fins accounts for the rise of nearly $135,000,000 in loans since the opening of the new year.

There has been no demand for finds for commercial and speculative lines amounting to more than a fraction of the total increase. *Increase.

MARKET EASY BECAUSE OF LARGE RECEIPTS, LIGHT CALL.

Hogs Firm at the End of the Week. Inquiry for Mutton Continues Good.

There was no trading at the stockyards yesterday, business for the week having closed on the preceding day. Receipts yesterday were 65 feeder cattle, shipped by W. L. Dishman, from Roseville, Cal., and 101 hogs, shipped by C. E. Lucke, of Canby. Receipts for the past week have been: Cattle 1750, calves 118, hogs 1093, sheep 2839, horses and mules 20.

The cattle market continues weak with more offering than the buyers care to handie. This depression is no doubt due to the fant that trade in dressed beef is very light as compared to former seasons, as well as the heavy runs for the last month. Although the quality of cattle was exceptionally good the market was badly demoralized during the week and prices fell off at least 15c from last week's quotations. Best steers are selling around $4.90 to $4.25 for the best. A very draggy market in the cattle division has characterized the past week's trade.

The hog market has stiffened up somewhat. The run for the week was comparatively light and buyers showed a disposition to take hold of what was offered. Market closed strong for the week a disposition to take hold of what was offered. Market closed strong for the week at $4.70 to an advance over last week's quotations.

The demand for mutton continues good and all sheep arriving on the market in the week found ready sale at prices proviously quoted. The week closed steady to strong with immbs selling around 5c, wethers $4.75 to $4.85, best ewes, $4.09 to $4.25.
