OREGONIANS ENJOY TRIP AROUND BAY

Visitors at San Francisco Take Rest.

OFFICIAL RECEPTION AT END

Exposition Site Viewed From Waters by Excursionists Who Marvel at Beauty of Spot-Signs of Early Work Noted.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16 .- (Spe cial.)-San Francisco put a fitting climax to its hospitality today when it arranged for the Oregon visitors to leave the tumult and the shouting in the city and enjoy a breathing spell on the waters of the buy. The trip was peculiarly pleasant, inasmuch as it enabled the guests to relax after the receptions and ceremonies which marked the first two days. The weather was entirely in accord with the plans. Although it rained creat guns Friday afternoon, the sun was shining brightly this morning when the Oregonians embarked on the good ship San Jose, which carried the flags of California and Oregon at prow A slight breeze was blowing in through the Golden Gate, no enough to make the whitecaps percep tible, but sufficient to prove reviving

Whistles Sound Bon Voyage. The heat pulled out of the slip a the ferry depot promptly at 9 o'clock. while the whistles on all the other ferryboats and water craft in the bay sounded a shrill bon voyage. Although there were any number of alluring seats for the weary inside, the Oregonlans preferred to stand in the sunshine on the decks and view the beautiful panerama unfolded before them the beat sped up the bay toward Hunter's Point.

Off to the left lay Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Point Richmond, while on the right were numerous towns and villages linked together like those on the laft with electric lines ar ing with industry an the belching chimneys of numerous factories indicated.

Shipyards Are Inspected. When the boat pushed its nose up to the Hunter's Point dock the guests disembarked for an inspection of the great shipyard and the drydocks, where big steel leviathans of the deep were receiving repairs. After all had re-embarked, the vessel coasted the shore to permit a closer view of the trans-bay cities, and held down to Angel Island, where the United States mmigration station is located.

No stop was made, but the spectators were able to see the buildings which house those whom Uncle Sam henitates to take under his wings. On the way to Angel Island, the Oregonians had a fine view of the United States Naval training station on Goat island, where more than 1000 boys are being fitted for the Navy.

Then they glided by the Alcatraz Island, that rocky pile which is surmounted by the great walls of the United States military prison, in turn topped by a lighthouse tower which nightly holds out beacon to vessels entering the Golden Gate.

Home of Commuters Seen.

The visitors saw Sausalito, that pic-turesque home of San Francisco commuters, built on embowered cliffs, with the yacht club squadron resting on the hay below.

Then the course was laid for the San (Constuded on Page 9.)

Immediately after the Senator gave out his offensive statement. Dr. Mott. who comes from a family of fighting Southerners, announced he would send his photograph to Senator Bourne and challenge him to settle their differences in "the good old-fashloned way." It happened that Dr. Mott did not have a photograph in Washington and sent to North Carolina to get one. was two weeks' delay in getting the phoograph, and by the time it arrived Dr. Mott had cooled down. In the interim, however, something happened that may have brought about a change of heart on Dr. Mott's part. One Senator Bourne's friends was asked if the Senator would accept the challenge if it came from the doctor.

"He most certainly will," was the answer, "but, as the challenged party. the Senator will have the right to name the weapons and he will prescribe that the duel be fought with a medicine

The medicine ball, known to all athletes, is one weapon with which Senator Bourne is familiar. For two years he has been exercising with one in the Senate office building and has become proficient in tessing the "big pill" around. Of course Dr. Mott, who is familiar only with pistols, would be at a distinct disadvantage in any duel with medicine balls, and rather than engage in a farcical fight of this sort se decided to drop the whole matter. It is declared by his friends that if Hourne had been willing to fight in the "good vid-fashioned way" he probably would have had the opportunity.

FLOTSAM CAUSES WONDER

Strong Northwest Current Carries Wreckage to Far North.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 16,-The great quantity of lumber and other flotam, supposed to be from a wrecked vessel, found on Graham Island, of the Queen Charlotte group, just south of Alaska, is probably the sweepings from the Oregon, Washington and British Columbia coasts, carried northwesterly by the strong surface current and finally tossed ashore to cause wonder among shipping men.

It is pointed out that the life belt marked "Patsy," found on Graham Island, must be from the gasoline schooner Patsy, which plies between the Columbia River and Tillamook, Or., that the lumber may be pieces from the deckload of many boats, and that the dory may have come from a swarm of fishing boats. A strong northwest current has been observed for many

WRECK AVERTED BY DREAM

Section Foreman Has Vision of Washout; Finds It True.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 16 .- Awakening from a sleep in which he had dreamed that the nearby trestle on the Southern Railroad had been washed away, although suffering from Illness, arose from his bed and went to South River, six miles from here, before dawn today, to discover that his dream was a reality.

The foreman found that the stream. swollen by heavy rains, had carried away a trestle spanning a 65-foot chasm. He knew that a passenger train from Atlanta to Columbus, Ga., soon spanning a 65-foot was due to arrive at the opposite side of the river, but he had no means of reaching that point to warn the engineer of the danger, as the river is three-quarters of a mile wide. Standing on the bank, the man re-peatedly "hallored" for half an hour.

Finally he heard an answering shout, and called out a warning to J. E. Dan-iel, the man who had heard him. Daniel flagged the train just as it neared the brink of the stream.

JUDGE IN BRANDT CASE GETS BOMB

Slight Defect Prevents Serious Results.

Destructive Nature Is Shown When Explosion Follows.

POLICE INSPECTOR HURT

Nitro-Ge inc Believed to Be Ex-Sentence to 12 Years May I sh Clew.

NEW YORK, March ... An attempt to kill Judge Otto A. Rosalsky of the Court of General Sessions with a bomb proved unsuccessful tonight. It was only a defect-sald to be a small accumulation of dirt-in the mechanism of the infernal machine, which the justice unsuspectingly had opened, that saved him from probable death or certain injury. The bomb later exploded while being examined by Inspector Egan, of the bureau of combustibles, seriously wounding him about the face

The intended victim of the explosion has received a great deal of publicity lately in connection with the Folks E Brandt case. It was Justice Rosalsky who sentenced Brandt to a 30-year term for the burglary of Mortimer L. Schiff's home in 1907, and who recently reversed his action.

Bomb Is Delivered by Mail.

At a late hour tonight there had been no clew developed as to the identity of the sender of the explosive.

The bomb came by mall and was delivered by a postman to Judge Rosalsky's apartment on Riverside Drive this afternoon. It was accepted by a maid and placed on the table in Judge Rosalsky's library to await his coming. There was nothing of suspicious char acter to the package.

Judge Rosalsky reached his home and unsuspectingly began to open the package while talking to his wife. He took off the wrapper and found a plain white pasteboard box. He took off the cover and the infernal machine off the cover and the infernal machine At the expiration of the order now was revealed. He telephoned police in effect, closing the Clackamas River

Egan was examining it. Nitroglycerine Probably Used.

Judge Rosalsky's apartments bear evidence of the force of the bomb. A thick plate glass which covered the mahogany library table was ground as fine as snow, a great dent was made in the desk itself, and the celling directly above was punctured with many holes larger than a man's fist. It is believed the explosive used was Judge Rosalsky said he had no suspicions to express as to who had sent the bomb. Asked if he believed that the Brandt case had anything to do with it, he declined to answer. When asked about other cases he had judged lately, he mentioned a sentence of 12 years recently imposed on Charles Carlessi, a forger. A few days before Carlessi was sentenced the Judge received a letter in which the writer threatened to blow up the court building if sentence were pronounced.

Society Hostesses at Rome Tell on Invitation Which Prelates Will Be in Attendance.

ROME, March 16 .- (Special.)-There is an unusual flutter of excitement among the women of the "black aristocracy," as the party owning strict allegiance to the Vatican is styled, on account of the Pope's action in forbidding church dignitaries to attend so cial functions at which the women wear low-cut dresses of a too-pro-

BERLIN WOMEN GIVE BALL

Men Are Excluded From Affair by Those in Charge.

BERLIN. March 16 .- (Special.) -A fancy dress ball from which men were excluded took place last Saturday night under the auspices of the Society of Women Artists. It was a great success. A helmeted member of the fire brigade and a male orchestra, hidden behind palms and shrubbery, were the only men in the hall.

Many of the leading society women of Berlin attended, including Princess

Henry zu Schonaich-Carolath, the chief patroness of the ball, the Princesses zu Wied, Solms and Hohenlohe, Countesses von Oppersdorff, Sierstorpff, von Heuc-kel-Donnersmarck, Redern, Westphale, Dohna and Frankenberg. It was called a "porcelain ball," because those who danced had to wear costumes repre-tenting well-known brands of chinasenting well-known brands of china-

Master Fish Warden Clanton was directed to have notices prepared to that effect. This action is taken for the reason that the fishermen affected number not more than half a dozen and the policy of the commission is to reserve as much spawning ground as possible. The Clackamas is considered one of the best spawning streams in the state. Because the Federal Government maintains a hatchery there was another factor in making the Commissioners decide to close the stream to net fishermen. The Commissioners at the meeting were, George H. Cabinet Is Drafting Bill.

The Cabinet discussed today the draft of the bill which it was hoped would end the struggle. To frame a measure which Parliament will pass and both parties to the dispute accept is regarded as the most difficult problem the government has undertaken since it assumed office.

The chief difficulty lies in embody ing in the legislation Premier Asquith's pledge that the minimum wage bill "should provide an adequate safeguard for the protection of the employers." It involves the application of compulsion in some form. It is doubtful if Parliament ever will pass a bill which does not also apply coercive measure. to the men, such as shall make the trades unions liable to damages for ly to legislation of this kind, and the that they would direct the men not to return to work until a bill is passed which is satisfactory to them.

Trouble Brews in Scotland.

While the strike thus far has been remarkable for absence of violence there are indications that another week of enforced idleness is likely to lead to serious outbreaks in the Lanarkshire district. After news of the breaking off of negotiatons was published, many nonunion miners returned to the pits. They were attacked today by a crowd of strikers. The police made

SHEEP CAUSE PANIC IN MILLINER SHOP

SALEM DOGS CHASE FLOCK INTO MODISTES' MIDST.

Pretty Maids Finally Gather Their Courage and Carry Animals Out of Store.

SALEM, Or., March 16 .- (Special.)-The flash of silken hose and dainty shricks from a group of milliner maids amused a crowd of Salem residents to day, when part of a band of sheep in vaded Mrs. P. E. Fullerton's store on Commercial street and caused a small panic among the clerks.

The sheep were being driven through the city by a farmer and, near Commercial and State streets, one started onto the walk. A shepherd dog ac companying the band barked and half the mongrel dogs in town were at tracted. A general dog mob followed which resulted in the sheep breaking away in a game of "follow the leader." Two of the sheep, showing nearly hu man intelligence, started for the offices of William Brown & Sons, where the principal business is the sale of These two looked into the windows of the offices for a moment and followed the rest of the herd.

Several of the sheep started to break into the Capital National Bank build

The real trouble started at the Fullerton store, when a number of the sheep rushed pell-mell into the store, among hatracks and carefully displayed women's suits. The feminine contingent in the store shricked and outside a motley crowd of dogs was barking. Assisted by a mere man the women clerks mustered courage and picking up the sheep podfly, carried them out to the street, while the crowd outside "sicked" on the dogs. No damage was done.

CASH BOX ON CARS TO GO

Experiment Proves Time Is Saved by Eliminating Device.

Experiments in collecting fares from patrons of the "pay-as-you-enter" cars without the aid of the cash box have proven so successful that the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company has decided to remove the boxes from all the cars that have been so equipped.

Hereafter passengers on the prepayment cars will give their fares to the conductors direct. When it is necessary correct change will be given back and the passenger will pass into the car without stopping to drop a nickle into the box.

This system of taking fares first was tried on the Rose City Park and Twenty-third-street lines and demonstrated that time actually is saved by the absence of the cash box.
