RUBES AND COLTS TO DEDICATE PARK

Fast Semi-Professional Team Chosen by Judge McCredie for Sunday Game.

NO PARADE FOR APRIL 16

Formal Opening of New Grounds to Be Dignified—Mayor Rushlight and Sheriff Stevens to Be Battery to Start Season on Way.

Portland's magnificent new baseball park will be unofficially dedicated on Sunday afternoon, April 14, with the Northwestern Colts tangling with Red Rupert's reinforced "Rubes" as the initial diamond offering of the 1912 season. In addition to a new park and a new team for the eyes of fandom to gloat over, Fielder A. Jones has promised to parade two of his Northwestern arbiters at the Vaughn-street park, with no extra admission.

After deciding on a Portland team to tackle Nick Williams' men on their pre-season appearance here, then switching to a regular-Yaniganian affair as best calculated to give the fans a line of the Northwestern pennant chasers, Judge McCredie maneuvered another mental flop yesterday and signed with Red Rupert for the Sunday set-to.

The past performances of the Rubes indicate that McCredie has picked the best possible opponent for the Nicks. Composed of the elite of the semi-pros in this section, bolstered by the presence of Jess Garrett and other leaguers, the Rubes promise to give the Northwesters a diamond argument calculated to test their strength to the utmost. Garrett has been working out with the Portland Academy squad for the past month and is in excellent condition. In addition he is anxious to "slip one over" on his former teammates.

Rupert announces that his line-up will be as follows: Garrett and Moreland, pitchers; Bauer and Peterson, catchers; Ledell, first base; Brown, second base; Black, third base; Newell, shortstop; Hinkle, left field; Bright, center field; Naudeau, Rupert, right field. Moreland is a local right-hander signed by a Northwestern club; Ledell is an old California outlay player; Brown played with Centralia last year; Newell was Centralia captain last season; Naudeau is Portland Academy coach and prospective Three-Eye player this season.

Oregon Wolf's Last Run Today.
The last glimpse of the Oregon Wolf, the world's fastest motorboat, will be given the public this afternoon on the waterfront. Within a few days the engines of the champion will be taken out and put into the new hull, which the designer and builder of the present fast boat, Johnny Wolff, is building. The new boat, which will be of the monoplane type, is nearly ready and will be out for the Decoration day races.

Stanford Tennis Men Win.
BERKELEY, Cal., April 6.—Stanford won the intercollegiate tennis meet from the University of California here today by taking both the first and second singles. Morgan defeated Fross, 6-3, 10-8, and Murray defeated Rogers, 4-6, 10-8, 6-4.

ALBANY HOLDS SHOOT

NEW GUN CLUB HAS INITIAL CONTEST IN GROVE.

Mayor Gilbert Officially Inaugurates Events by Firing Shot. Good Scores Made.

ALBANY, Or., April 6.—(Special.)—Before a big crowd of Albany residents the recently organized Albany Gun Club held its first regular shoot yesterday afternoon at the new grounds at Hazlewood's Grove. P. D. Gilbert, Mayor of Albany, fired the first shot, and Grant Froman, president of the club, the second, and the season's events were officially inaugurated.

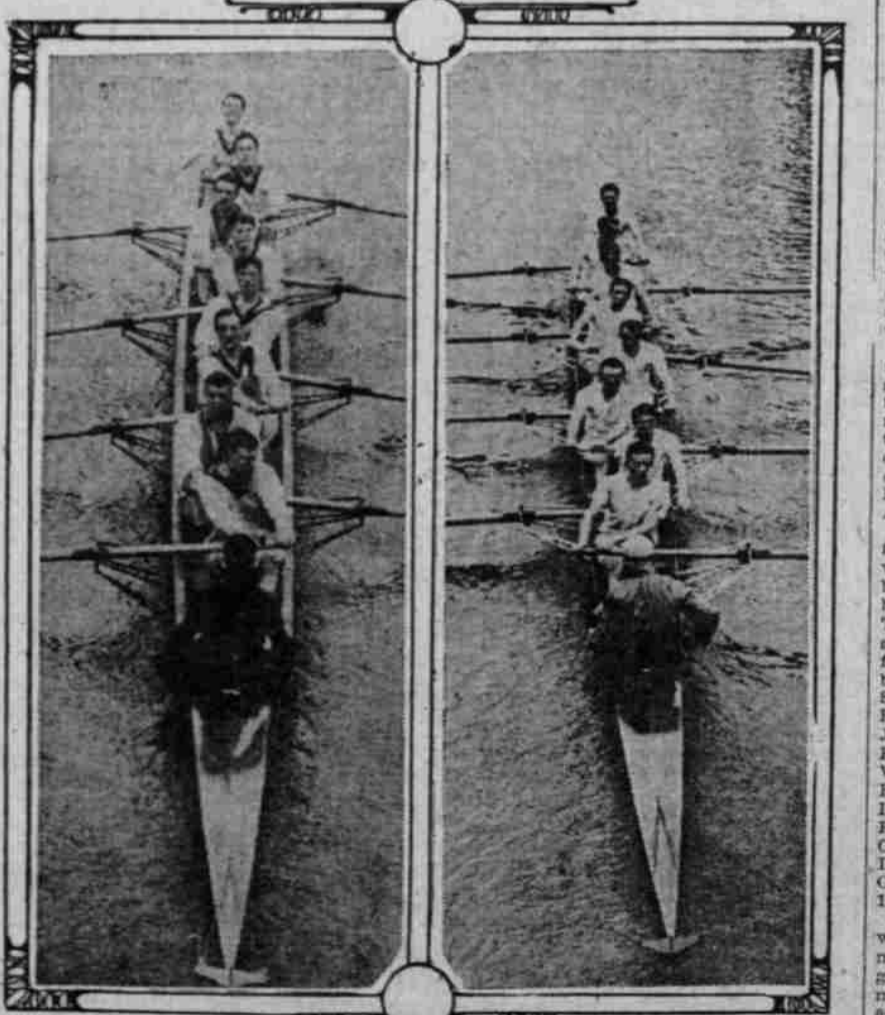

The interest and enthusiasm which attended the first shoot augur a most successful season for the new club. It is planned to have regular shoots twice a month, and tournaments which probably will be arranged soon in which sportsmen from various parts of the valley will be invited to participate.

Five Portland men who attended the opening of the Albany club's series of shoots as representatives of the manufacturers of arms and ammunition were accorded the honor of participating in the first match. A Blair carried off the honors, breaking 73 out of 75 birds. Out of a possible 75 Ed Morris broke 45; J. E. Ried, 52; R. A. Tyler, 53, and F. O. Joy, 48.

The Oxford Crew The Cambridge Crew
OXFORD AN EASY WINNER.
The Oxford eight had no trouble disposing of its old rival, Cambridge, in the 68th annual boat race last Monday. The dark blues finished six lengths ahead of their competitors and were towing easy at the finish. The affair was a procession rather than a race, Oxford taking the lead at the start and easily holding it to the end.

ACCORDING to Dr. Henry Jarrett, judge of the Portland Kennel Club's 13th annual show which closed in the basement of the Yeon building last night, some of the best dogs in the United States were represented.

The greatest dog shown was Sound End Sombroero, a bulldog, which Dr. Jarrett declared to be almost perfect. Sound End Sombroero is the property of Mrs. George C. Israel, of Olympia, Wash. He won the Dr. Alan W. Smith trophy. The judge also found some of the other dogs as good as many shown at the New York and other large Eastern cities, where he has been judge.

The second best dog in the Portland show was the Champion Arbutus Swallow, owned by J. S. Hochford and Mr. Wither, of Vancouver, B. C. This is another dog which was lauded by the judge. Much of the credit for his success belongs to Miss Gladys Creighton, the 12-year-old "handler," who showed a number of Vancouver dogs in the show. Miss Creighton began displaying dogs when 4 years old.

The 14 Airedale puppies shown Friday afternoon are as good an aggregation as can be found anywhere," said Judge Jarrett last night. "The St. Bernard, Don, owned by Mrs. L. M. Graham, is one of the finest specimens of that variety I have ever seen. The Gordon setter, Houser's Frieda, T., owned by C. M. Dickinson, is as fine a dog as you can get," were other remarks Dr. Jarrett had to make in connection with the animals he has viewed.

"The Gordon setter is dying out, few being seen at any of the shows, and the one shown here is a credit to Portland," said Jarrett. "Even at the largest shows of the East the breed is scarce."

"Portland is weak on Boston terriers and Toy dogs, the only one of any note being Koko, a little Japanese Spaniel, owned by Mrs. G. S. Taylor," continued the judge. There were a great many Boston terriers shown, but they do not begin to compare with those shown in the East. The Irish terrier, Tom Fiddler, owned by Mrs. D. T. Murphy, is another good specimen of a variety that is getting scarce."

J. J. McCarthy declared that the show, which closed last night, was 20 per cent better than any which the
