

BOY MAYOR MAY GOVERN FOR WEEK

Proposal Made to Have Lads Hold Sway While Rose Festival Is On.

PLANS OUTLINED EARLY

Dorr E. Keasey, Who Supervised Affair Year Ago Takes Matter in Hand, Explaining Scheme to President Hoyt.

The unique educational project inaugurated last year whereby Portland was ruled for a day by a "Boyville" Mayor and City Council will be repeated this year, with the important modification that the promoters of the plan desire to have the youth in power for a week while the Rose Festival is on, from June 10 to 15.

Dorr E. Keasey, who supervised the affair a year ago has taken the matter in hand again, and he outlined his ideas for making the scheme much more entertaining and instructive, in a letter sent to Ralph W. Hoyt, president of the Rose Festival Association. Mr. Keasey's plan is to have each of the public schools and high schools, the newboys and social and fraternal organizations, put forward candidates in the field and to have the Mayor and his Cabinet selected on a popularity vote as was done a year ago, the funds from the campaign to be used for charitable purposes. He further desires to have the juvenile city administration officials appear and take prominent part in various functions of the Rose Festival. His letter to Mr. Hoyt in part follows:

Boys' Plan Proposed.

"We would like to have another boy's week this year, and to elect a boy Mayor as before, and to have the dates correspond with those of the Rose Festival. Would like to have a float for the boy Mayor and Council. I believe that this could be made an attractive feature each year without involving a great amount of work or expense. I want to get right at it and carry out the idea that we had last year and have each school put up a candidate for Mayor each year, as well as the newboys or any lodge or organization that did not have sufficient time to get into these matters in our last campaign as we can do now.

"I will call a meeting shortly for the purpose of discussing these matters, and would like to have you meet with us.

Governor West notified the Rose Festival yesterday that he had extended official invitations on behalf of the state to all the Governors west of the Mississippi River to be the guests of Oregon and Portland for the entire week of the Festival. In addition to attending a conference of Governors to be held here on two or three days during the week following is a copy of the Governor's letter of invitation:

City's Beauties Are Told.

"The Portland Rose Festival is one of the wonder-visions of our magnificent Western land. Nowhere does Nature paint the rose and distill its perfume with such perfection as in Portland, the Rose City of the world. Nowhere do so perfect blooms shed their fragrant greetings in such profusion as in Portland. Here we have the beautiful garden of roses, touched for a week with the magic wand of fairyland.

"It gives me the greatest pleasure, as Governor of Oregon, to join with the citizens of Portland in extending to you a sincerely cordial invitation to be the guest of Portland during Rose Festival week, June 10 to 15. It will give me personally much gratification to meet with you and aid in your reception and your entertainment, should you be pleased to honor us with your presence.

"We bespeak the privileges of granting to you the hospitality and the freedom of our city and the honor seat beside our Festival King."

This invitation was the one sent out 10 days ago by the Rose Festival management, which has already been assured of the presence here of the seven Governors who made the big tour through the East last winter and who will attend the Northwest Development League Congress at Seattle just before the celebration here.

Marine Parade Planned.

For the brilliant illuminated marine regatta which will be the principal event of the Festival on the night of Thursday, June 15, the Rose Festival already has prepared a complete set of decorative and illuminative designs for floral barges, which will take part in the river parade. All owners of pleasure crafts who desire to enter their boats in this procession, which will be headed by "Hex Oregonus," the Carnival King, will be supplied with designs for decorations and will be given all possible assistance by the Festival. During the course of the parade great pyrotechnical displays and watermelon fights will be touched off at various vantage points.

All desiring to inspect the designs for decorations may do so at once at Festival headquarters.

The Festivals Association announced yesterday that it had raised sufficient funds to hold the spectacular "rose shower" through the streets of the city, and has its committees at work now arranging the preliminary details.

Committees in charge of the horse and carriage and the automobile decorated parades of the Festival are at work, and a general invitation will be extended to all owners of motor cars, of riding horses and of smart vehicles to arrange to take part in these parades. Outside towns, state societies, high schools, fraternities and all sorts of organizations are urged to begin now to plan for participation in one or the other of these events, including the marine pageant.

"We want everybody to feel that it is the part of true public spirit to assist us in all these functions and events," said President Hoyt last night. "Don't wait for invitations. Come and tell us what you are willing to do to help out. It will be greatly appreciated and help make the Festival a much greater success through such co-operation."

JURY ACTION IS DENIED

INSTRUCTOR SAYS HE WAS NOT TOLD TO INTERFERE.

Superintendent Robinson Tells Why He Stayed Out of Pleasant Valley School Trouble.

County Superintendent of Schools Robinson has issued a letter to the patrons of School District No. 15, in which he denies that the March county grand jury recommended that he take steps to prevent the renewal of the certificate of Miss Mabel Stevens, in charge of the Pleasant Valley school, as a result of a whipping she administered to Rose Tanner, a pupil, last fall.

The incident in that district ever since the girl's mother caused the arrest of the teacher. In the justice court Judge Olson dismissed the case after he had admitted both the mother and the girl, and since then the mother has placed the matter before several grand juries, without results. She also has given District Attorney Cameron several tongue lashings on its account.

The letter of Superintendent Robinson is called forth by an anonymous letter received by him, which says: "I read in the papers that the grand jury has turned the case of the Pleasant Valley school over to you, and we all hope that you take action at once. If you will not obey the law, we will get someone that will obey the law. If you refuse to take any action in this case within a week, we will put it before the public."

COLONIST TRIP PLANNED

New Immigration Company Expects to Handle Large Traffic.

The Sherwood Immigration Company, of Spokane and Omaha, has opened a branch office in Portland and announces that monthly excursions will be run from the Middle West to Oregon. F. L. Sherwood, who arrived here yesterday, said it was intended to bring settlers to irrigated lands in the Stanfield district. He has just returned from a trip through the Middle West. "Crop prospects in the Middle West were never better," said Mr. Sherwood. "If farmers there harvest good crops and get good prices, it will mean that the colonist movement to Oregon and Washington next fall will be heavy. Crops have been poor in the Middle West for the past two or three years. Thousands of farmers will come to the Pacific Coast as soon as they are able to settle up their affairs."

Suffragists Place Big Sign in View of Grandstand and Bleachers.

When Portland baseball fans flock to the new baseball grounds at Twenty-third and Vaughn streets next Tuesday to attend the opening game of the Pacific Coast League season, they will see occupying a place all by itself on the left field fence, a big sign urging them to cast their ballots for the enfranchisement of women at the November election. The sign will contain only three words, "Votes for Women." It is 15 feet long and 12 feet high, and was finished yesterday.

LINEBAUGH MADE INSPECTOR

Ceryl W. Linebaugh, of the Railway mail service between Portland and Postville, received notice yesterday that he had been appointed Postoffice Inspector, but the district to which he will be assigned was not given. This appointment is in the civil service but is not strictly a competitive one as only employes can take examinations and those first on the eligible list do not necessarily receive appointments to a vacancy. Such appointments are made after careful scrutiny of the eligibles, their special fitness for such a position being the main consideration. Mr. Linebaugh is a resident of Portland, 32 years old and has been in the service, in different capacities, 11 years.
