Address is Quoted.

It was in 1878 that Miss Frances E. Willard delivered her first "Home Protection" speech at Old Orchard Beach, in Maine. Her closing sentences are now carved into the marble statue in the Statuary Hall of Congress. The passage reads:

where helpless children lay, by the inconse of ten thousand players wafted from their gentie lips to heaven, I charge you give them power to protect, along life's treacherous highway, those whom they have so loved. Let it no longer be that they must sit back among the shadows, hopelessly mourning over their strong staff broken, and their beautiful rod, but when the sons they love shall go forth to life's battle, still let their mothers walk beside them, sweet and serious, and clad in the garments of power."

Sulphurro is proving the great medicine of the age.

The new Stewart Liquid Compound of Sulphur is proceeding entirely on its own record of cures, and those who write letters of praise for Sulphurro to the C. M. C. Stewart Sulphur Company, Seattle, will be glad, indeed, to talk with others who are afflicted and relate by mouth the story of their cures. It is safe to say that no remedy was ever deluged with such a flood of ap-preciative letters as has been received at the Sulphurro offices. Only a small fraction of these has been given to the public-newspaper space being inadequate.

Rheumatism, blood disorders, stom ach troubles, skin diseases, diabetes, gotter and all such afflictions have yielded by the hundreds—even thousands—before Sulphurro. No case of rheumatism has been known to last after Sulphurro has had a chance to permeate the system. To obtain the de-sired results you must study the booklet accompanying each bottle of Sul-phurro and follow the directions to the letter.

Man Near Death From Rheumatism Cured Quickly by Sulphurro

A prominent Seattle business man, hearing from his friend, William H. Foster, president of the General Fireproofing Company, in Youngstown, Ohio. that the foreman of the fireproofing plant was near death from rheumatism, obtained a bottle of Sulphurro from Mr. C. M. C. Stewart, of the C. M. C. Stewart Sulphur Co., and sent it to the Ohio city, accompanied with directions for its use. The Seattle man believed Sulphurro would effect a cure. Here is an extract from a letter received a few days ago by Mr. Stewart from Mr. Foster, telling the history of the case: "The facts are that we sent this man (the foreman) to Mt. Clemens, Mich. and to sanitariums in the vicinity, but notwithstanding this he continued to grow more feeble, and the rheumatism gathered around his heart until he was confined to his bed, and we feared he was going to die.

We gave him Sulphurro, and within four weeks thereafter he was attending to his duties in the shop, and he has been at work steadily ever since. This was about six or eight months ago."

loes not complain of being so tired all the time. The children are happier as a result of it. Sulphurro is a sure cure for bronchitis. Hoping Sulphurro may do for others what is has done for

An aged woman writes to Mr. Stewart: "Sulphurro is a wonderful medicine. I am 71 years old and could hardly walk (from rheumatism) when I started taking your medicine. My case was a very bad one. You may use this letter from me, and I will testify myself for Sulphurro!" for Sulphurro." Olympia Man Grateful.

"Please allow me to express my appreciation of your wonderful remedy, Sulphurro," writes a prominent man in Olympia, Wash. "My wife had been gorely afflicted with rheumatism in the left shoulder for two or three winters past. She suffered greatly with it, but through the kindness of Mr. Stewart in sending a bettle of Sulphurro, she is now well and feeling freer from all pain than for years. We are enthusiant over it, and are recommending it for other troubles, especially eczema."

Another Tacoma woman, writing from the Hotel Bonneville, is so enthusiastic over Sulphurro that she expresses herself in these words:

"I wish to assure you that I have received great benefit from Sulphurro and consider it not only a very remarkable cure for rheumalism, but also a wonderful discovery in chemistry.

"I take great pleasure in recommending it to friends suffering from similar trouble. Let me congratulate you upon your success."

Extracts from eight other letters written from various parts of the country, follow in as many paragraphs: "I was in very much pain when I first began to take Sulphurro (for rheuma-tism), but it acted very quickly, and in

"I am perfectly satisfied that Sul-phurro comes up to all its friends claim for it, and I am recommending it to all who come to my knowledge and who are afflicted with complaints which are afflicted with complaints which come within the spliere of Sulphurro." "I used Sulphurro but a few weeks, when my rhoumatism entirely disappeared, and I have felt nothing of it since. I thank you heartly for the great relief you gave."

"I am very much improved in health. Sulphurro has helped me wonderfully. I have gained eleven pounds in four weeks.

"I am convinced of Sulphurro's great worth in the treatment of rheumatism. I fully indorse your remedy as a great discovery, and feel sure that time will confirm my opinion."

"We find Sulphurro a splendid system regulator."

"I think the fact that Sulphurro will cure eczema and the itching piles—and it will—makes it a very valuable remedy."

Mr. C. M. C. Stewart, 1820 13th Avenue, Seattle, Wash. — Dear Sir: Some time ago I suffered greatly from rheumatism in both hands, they being so badly swollen I could hardly move my fingers. I received a bottle of your Sulphurro from my son-in-law, Mr. L. B. Faulkner, and took it for quite awhile, and it has entirely cured me of rheumatism. Sulphurro has benefited me a great deal and I have no objection to your using this letter in order that other sufferers may learn of Sulphurro's wonderful powers. Very truly yours, (Signed) SOPHIA STERNBERG.

ELSO MEN DISCUSS LOGGE OFF LAND PROBLEM.

Hearing Held With Commercial Club Committee Relative to Having Congress in City.

A. W. Clark, of Portland, and James Young, of Kelso, both owners of large holdings in timber and cut-over lands, had a hearing with the logged-off land committee of the Portland Commercial Club yesterday, giving their views of the problem of settlement upon lands of this kind. Before determining upon the problem of settiement upon lands of this kind. Before determining upon the advisability of holding a logged-off land congress in Portland, it is the purpose of the committee to hold several meetings of this nature at which men of prominence and experience will be invited to give their opinions and advice upon the subject.

Both Mr. Clark and Mr. Young emphatically were opposed to state reclamation of logged-off lands and state aid to settlers upon such lands, holding that a plan of this kind attracted a type of settlers who would be inclined rather to depend upon continued state aid than upon their own interest and industry for success. They said that the class of settlers who should be catered to in a project of this kind should be mainly the type of colonist that comes from Northern Europe; people in whom the home instinct and the practice of industry is very strong. Many people of this kind are already in the state, they asserted, but the logged-off lands of Oregon are not now in a condition to be placed on the market.

They recommended surveys and construction of roads to connect the cutover lands with the main county roads, so that the settler might be assured of access to the market centers. After this has been done they advised the subdivision of the land into such tracts that each should have a frontage upon the roads and should have its fair share of available water supply.

Owners of cut-over lands would be have its fair share of available water supply.

Owners of cut-over lands would be glad, they said, to help carry forward development of this type. They would willingly assure employment in their mills and camps to men of family who desired to build homes upon the logged-off lands, furnishing them lumber at wholesale prices and on easy terms of payment so that they might be able to take up residence and establish themselves with little ready capital. The employment in the mills
