Friday evening was marked by the formal opening of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, which took the form of a reception, lasting from 8 to 10 o'clock. This is the first time the clubhouse has been opened for a large affair, and the handsome new edifice called forth enthusiastic praise from the throngs of fashionable guests who came in during the receiving hours. Everybody is congratulating Morris H. Whitehouse, architect, and also chairman of the committee on interior decorations, on having planned what is probably the handsomest athletic club in the West. The decorations for this occasion were unusually handsome. The entrance hall was banked with palms and potted plants, and in the enormous lounging-room, where the hangings are of gray blue, yellow flowers were used in profusion, which were effective against the dark paneled woodwork of the room. Branches of Scotch broom framed the doorways, filled the huge fireplaces, and intertwined with evergreens along the wall formed a pleasing setting for the fashionable throng. In the reading-room, which is in tones of brown, red and white carnations—the club colors—were used. A large floral piece of white lillies and red carnations, sent by the Honeyman Hardware Company, hung in the entrance hall. A stringed orchestra screened by palms added its charm to the enjoyment of the evening.

The committee on arrangements was composed of Professor James Ewing, Allan Ellsworth, Morris H. Whitehouse, Elliott Ruggles Corbett, Walter A. Holt, Elmer Young, Edward Morris and A. H. Allen.

On Wednesday evening, in the home of her mother, Mrs. W. H. Grindstaff, the marriage of Miss Mildred Grindstaff and John Danielson Howard, of Seattle, was celebrated. Rev. William G. Eliot performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by about 40 relatives and intimate friends. The Grindstaff home was decorated in pink and white roses, Easter lilies and palms. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out with bridesmaid roses in the hall, and in the drawing-room quantities of roses were intermingled with Easter lilies and ferns. The bride wore a handsome robe of ivory satin elaborated with costly old lace. Her tulle veil, which fell from beneath a Juliet cap of pearls, was caught and held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and mauve orchids. Miss Polly Canby, of St. Paul, as bridesmaid, was gowned in pink satin, with a draped overdress of white lace. She carried an armful of pink rosebuds. F. R. Behrends acted as best man. During the ceremony Mrs. Kathleen Lawler Belcher sang "A Perfect Day," with 'cello obligato. Later in the evening a large reception was held. Receiving with the bride and bridegroom were Mrs. Grindstaff, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Howard and Miss Alice Howard, of Providence, R. I. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Grindstaff's sister and sister-in-law, Mrs. George D. Schalk and Mrs. Herman Halsey Jones. In the dining-room, which was decorated with a profusion of pink roses, Mrs. Frederick N. Pendleton, Mrs. Roger B. Sinnott, Mrs. Christopher D. Brunn and Mrs. Russell E. Sewall presided.

One of the noteworthy weddings of the week was that of Miss Frances Jeffery and Wendell S. Poulsen, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jeffery, on Saturday evening. The Rev. Luther R. Dyott performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by about 100 relatives and friends. The Jeffery home was elaborately decorated for the occasion with dogwood, ferns and pink snap dragons. The bride wore a robe of ivory satin cut en train, with an overdress of real lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley and orchids. Mrs. Millard Holbrook, the bride's sister, as matron of honor, was in pink crepe meteor elaborated with lace. Her bouquet was a shower of bridesmaid roses.

Little Misses Anna May Bronaugh and Jane Holbrook acted as flower girl and ring bearer. They wore dainty white lingerie frocks, with pink sashes and mob caps of lace and carried old-fashioned nosegays of Cecil Bruner roses.

Receiving with the bride and bridegroom were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jeffery, Mrs. Ivan Humason, Mrs. J. P. Bronaugh and Mrs. Oliver King Jeffery. Mrs. E. J. Jeffery appeared in a creation of black satin, heavily trimmed with jet. Mrs. Humason was in champagne-colored pussy willow crepe, trimmed with lace. Mrs. Bronaugh wore blue crepe meteor. Mrs. Oliver King Jeffery's gown was of pale blue satin, with an overdress of white chantilly lace, and touches of American beauty velvet at the corsage.

Miss Lola Lind and Mrs. O. K. Jeffery served punch. Presiding at the table in the dining-room, which was centered with gracefully arranged pink snap dragons, were Mrs. Gustave Hoffman, Mrs. E. A. King, Mrs. O. A. Lyman and Mrs. John Burgard.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Poulsen left for California. They will also tour the Eastern cities before returning home.

MADELINE GOODALL.

Miss Madeline Goodall, little granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Semler, entertained a number of her friends at a birthday party April 24. The afternoon was passed with games, piano solo by Elsa Leick and recitations by Janet Johnston and Madaline Goodall. Dinner was served under a canopy of Spring flowers and greens, in the center of which hung a Japanese parasol and six lighted janterns, one for each of the birthdays of the tiny hostess. The following litle folks made the afternoon a merry one; Helen Holst, Janet Johnston, Dorothy Wettersteen, Elizabeth McBride, Elsa Leick, Madeline Goodall, D'Arcy and Blagdon Morgan, Ernst Leick and Donald Wyatt.

SIX-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS HOSTESS AT PRETTY BIRTHDAY PARTY.

GOSSIP FROM THE ARMY POST.

So many of the officers of the First Infantry have packed their household goods, and the date of sailing for Honolulu is so near, there has been little time for social functions of an elaborate nature the past week. However, a brilliant event will be the farewell ball to the First Infantry, to be given by the officers and their wives, who remain in the post and at Department of the Columbia Headquarters, in the post gymnasium on the evening of Friday, May 3. This will be the last of a series of three dances given in the post this Winter season, and it is planned to make it just a little more original, just a little more brilliant and just a little ahead of anything that has ever before been attempted here.

A picnic luncheon was the attractive manner in which Mrs. Kinnison entertained eight of her friends one day this week. A miniature forest was represented on the large dining table, was the fabled island with its vines, with a lake in the center. Then there flowers and shrubbery. Little ducks were swimming in the lake and rabbits could be seen hiding in their lairs in the island home. Paper plates and dishes were used and the sandwiches were neatly wrapped in oiled paper, as sandwiches are in real picnics. The luncheon was in honor of Miss Dantforth, Mrs. Kinnison's sister, who is visiting here from Charleston, Mo. The guests were Mrs. Marion P. Maus, Mrs. John R. Thomas, Jr.; Mrs. Jere B. Clayton, Mrs. Henry M. Fales, Mrs. Charles E. Tayman, Mrs. McCleave, Mrs. Frazier and Miss Ellen Combs.

Good news was received Friday telling of the large quantity of tentage, ranges, cots, refrigerators and other equipment to make camp life comfortable for the First Infantry in Scofield Barracks. An allowance of $10,000 has also been made for lumber to put floors in the tents.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Among pleasant events in fraternal circles during the past week was the sixteenth anniversary celebration of Portland Hive No. 7, Ladies of the Maccabees, held Thursday evening in Selling-Hirsch Hall, which was artistically draped with the American flag and banners emblematic of the order. At 8:30 o'clock Lady Commander Smith, attired in white, marched up the carpeted aisle carrying a banner bearing the inscription, "L. O. T. M. No. 7, 1896—Welcome—1912." She was attended by her color bearers, also dressed in white, Lady Ida Clark carrying the American flag and Lady Lou Ellen Cornell, the Maccabee flag, which they waved in rhythm to the music of "The Star Spangled Banner," played by Walter McCoy. At the altar they halted, faced the audience and formed a pretty tableau. The following programme was then rendered: Opening address, "Women's Organizations and the Good They Do," by Rev. H. D. Chambers; piano solo, "The Mocking Bird," by Walter McCoy; vocal duet, by Mrs. Fishburn and Pearl Fishburn; address, "Good of the Order," by Attorney John Ditchburn; piano and violin selection, by the Misses Plume; remarks of congratulation, by Miss Alice Porges, past state commander; recitation, by Master Wilson, aged 3 years; vocal solo, "Violets," by Pearl Fushburn. Mrs. Lou Ellen Cornell gave a brief outline of the history, teachings and fraternity of the order. By request she also gave a group of appropriate readings: a, "The Legend of the Twilight Bells"; b, "The Angel and the Pansy," a legend; c, "My Wild White Rose."

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The floor was cleared and dancing indulged in till a late hour. About 150 members and invited guests were present. The committee having the affair in charge consisted of Mesdames S. B. Selp, A. Schultz and L. E Cornell, to whom much credit is due.

April 20 several of the friends and relatives of Mrs. Rachel McKay, an old Oregon pioneer, gathered at her country home, Whitford, Or., to celebrate her 80th birthday. Mrs. McKay crossed the plains with her parents in 1852, and settled on the donation land claim where she now resides. She has lived there continuously, except a few Winters which she has spent with her daughter, Mrs. John McKernan, in this city. Mrs. McKay delights to tell of the early hardships endured by the pioneer. The quaint old house, with its old-fashioned cupboards and fireplaces, rambling porches, halls and spacious rooms were objects of great interest to guests of the day. Mrs. McKay was the recipient of many congratulations and a number of gifts. Those present were: Mrs. Alta Remer, Mrs. Hannah Mildren, Mrs. Ellander, Mrs. A. Downing, Mrs. Maurice Turner, Mrs. John F. German, Mrs. W. R. Ferris, Mrs. Neils Jensen, Mrs. J. R. Foster, Mrs. Gustav Herz, Mrs. Cyrus McKay, Mrs. A. A. Kellogg, Mrs. J. B. At the Armory Hall last Tuesday evening, 300 persons enjoyed a dance given by Company "B" Third Infantry, Oregon National Guard. The hall was very attractively decorated. In the center appeared a large pergola, the beams of which were interwoven with purple and red clematis and underneath was a table draped with the American flag, and upon which were spread the 12 trophies presented to Company "B" during the last few years in acknowledgment of different merits. The effects of glimmering stars and beautiful flowers suspended from the ceiling, won the admiration of those present. A small tent pitched near the patronesses with the good old "Star and Stripes" waving over it, lent a military air to the general appearance. Among those who figured prominently in the arrangement of the affair were Corporals Clarence D. Porter and H. E. Hill, together with Sergeants White, Johnson and Carlson, and their artistic taste and entertaining powers were highly complimented.

Mason & Hamlin
BABY GRAND PIANOS

The ambition of thousands who fully realize true piano perfection. Their excellence is recorded by the masters of the age. Their beauty of tone the envy of the piano world. They occupy but little more floor space than an upright piano. We will be pleased to forward a paper pattern showing exact size to those who may be interested.

If you now possess an upright and wish to own a Mason & Hamlin "Baby Grand" we will purchase your upright at full value to apply on the purchase.

Terms of payment will be arranged to suit your best convenience.

Correspondence will be promptly answered.

THOMSON'S

The Test of Time
More than a half century of corset making, following "glove-fitting" ideas exclusively our own, has given to THOMSON'S "GLOVE-FITTING" CORSETS
the acme of durability combined with restful ease to the wearer. No other corsets have survived the test of three generations of American women—no other corsets have reached every corner of the world with their popularity. There must be a reason--we call it the
