admits that not all the Oregon electors are party to this agreement.

This scheme of inducing Roosevelt electors in the four states named to vote for Roosevelt, regardless of the action of the Chicago convention, was first proposed by Bruce Dennis, but is most actively championed by Dr. Coo.

As yet there has been no attempt to hold a meeting of the Oregon delegation, as only five delegates are now in Chicago. As soon as the others arrive a meeting will be called to make up the Oregon slate for committee assignments.
